The fan drills and fancy marching, which were so much admired at the Methodist church anniversary recently, are to be given at the Y.M.C.A. concert on Friday night. A first class program will be given.

A couple of men were put at work last Saturday removing the snow from the roof of the building. It was about two feet deep and was expressed that if rain came on the roof might collapse under the great weight.

Mr. L. S. Landy, of Landy's Lane, is dead at the age of 72 years. He was a justice of the peace and was the last survivor of the family of the late Thomas Landy, after whom the famous battle ground was named.

Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. gave a very successful presentation of that popular drama last evening at the Assembly. A large audience was present and the brilliant scenic and calcium light effects came in for special praise.

On Wednesday and Thursday, February 10th and 11th, the horse races at the track were held. The purses offered amount to $180, and are thus divided: $50 for open track, $50 each for two named races, and $35 for one named race.

Best of satisfaction given. All work guaranteed. Call on her when you want any dressmaking done.—52-1d. 101-1w.

Peterboro Examiner: Thos. York was charged Monday by James E. Smith, general prosecutor, with taking from several parties. It was also proved that he was an old offender and had been convicted of various offences at Lindsay, Peterboro and other places. The magistrate fined him $10 or thirty days. He took the days, not having the necessary cash.

Here are a couple of recipes from the Scientific American that will be of interest to bicycle owners: Cements for cuts in bicycle tires, etc.—In 10 cc. carbon bisulphide, dissolve 1 cc. of glycerine, 1 cc. of gutta serena, and 5 cc. fish glue. Bind the tire with a cord until set. Bicycle tire cement—2 parts of pitch and 1 part of gutta serena are melted together. Use each hot.

On Wednesday evening last about thirty of the many friends of Miss Myra Middleton gave a pleasant surprise at the residence of her parents, 28 Sussex-st. These youthful visitors came laden with an abundance of good things, which served as a sumptuous repast about midnight, after which amusements were resumed for a while longer, when all returned home after having heartily enjoyed a merry evening.

While Wm. May was driving on Lindsay-st. last Saturday, delivering meat from O'Halloran's butcher shop, he had the misfortune to collide with another rig driven by L. Primate. The result was that May's rig was upset and the horse broke away and ran for some distance. When caught it was found that the horse was slightly injured, and the harness pulled to pieces. More care should be exercised by those driving heavy rigs, especially when the drivers appear to court a reputation for recklessness.

Mr. LaTouche Tupper, formerly of Peterboro, has now returned to his home in the Salkirk hatchery a consignee of eyed-out or half-hatched whitefish eggs to be shipped to the west coast of the Pacific province, the first shipment of two million being made two years ago, and successfully hatched.

Business was not very brisk on Kent-st. this morning, owing to the blizzard. A gentleman from Toronto, who essayed to enter the doorway of one of the stores, found it very difficult to get in, and after some difficulty. He then inquired of the proprietor, "Why don't you keep the door open?" "I don't," replied the proprietor, "because I don't want to let in the cold." "That's just it," remarked the merchant, "I sweep that entry seventeen times this morning, but haven't the time to get it open." "I'm dashed if I'll swing the broom again—if we're snowed in somebody will dig us out."

The Templar says: Orillia can boast of a clerical dignitary who is not only superior in ability and zeal for righteousness of any town in the province, an exceptionally clean and vigorous person, successful in all his business enterprises, and well-mannered public schools; yet no town has been more scandalized by the evidence of the low, bestial crimes which have been committed in its midst and, in some instances, in quarters where we would not have looked for it. We write this with a heavy heart, and it is the matter? Who, if any, is to blame? The crimes are so heinous and startling as to alarm the community and invite the study of patriots.

At an "at home" given in town recently, the decorations were novel and effective. As the guests entered they passed beneath a light arch spanning the entrance, along which sprays of similar had been trained. The vine was also used with charming effect on the refreshment table, where four ropes of light-colored material draped from the lamp overhead were anchored to the corners of the table by four large bows of ribbon, the sash being worn only by the girls. The effect was greatly appreciated by the guests, and was an excellent idea for a large dinner or party. The decorations were an artistic touch in the transforming of the house for the occasion.

The Orillia town councilors are men of resource and action. They have appointed a new fire brigade chief, who is also to be overseer of streets, and the retiring chief was presented a cheque for $100 in recognition of his faithful service for the past 21 years. At the next meeting of council the fire brigade resigned in a body as a protest against the change of officers, but the aldermen were equal to the emergency, and after accepting the resignations at once formed themselves into a fire company, with Mayor Jupp for captain, and will look after the town's welfare until other arrangements can be made. A strong petition was presented in favor of retaining the old fire chief, and Mayor Jupp's remarks thereon may be considered from a point of view of confidence in petitions. Some men will sign almost anything as a matter of policy. Several petitions were on the petition from the taxpayers had expressed themselves very strongly in favor of the proposed change. This question had been considered from all points of view, and the whole council, and at the first session all were in favor of the change, but when they got outside some became weak-kneed, and changed their minds. It is to be noted that a man has the courage of his convictions.

On the West End.

A large crowd gathered at the skating rink last Friday evening to witness the exhibition of fancy skating given by Mr. Egerton Hartley, of Peterboro. "Edge," as he is familiarly dubbed by those who know him well, is very clever on the steel blades, and what he is not able to do in the way of the sport, he changes to edges, rocking turns, cross-outs, single and flat foot spins, lock-outs, vines, etc., is not worth mentioning. The ice was not in the best condition for some of the more intricate balance movements, but Mr. Hartley made very few errors. Mr. Hartley is wonderfully good at cutting initials and names, which is no doubt due to the fact that he is an expert penman. He has many handsome medals won in competitions and races, two of which were won in a competition with a skater named Leavins in contests open to all Canada. One very handsome trophy was given by Lord Dufferin, governor-general, and another was won from Luke Tempest, champion of the North-west.

Posters have been sent out announcing the Lindsay curlers' excursion to the West End on Saturday.

Steps have been taken to unseat Mayor Mackay of Port Arthur because he failed to levy for the skating fund and used a part of the existing sinking fund to meet current expenses.

Mr. Tom Callaghan, of Cambellford, "wing beat" for the Lindsay Curling Club in town last Friday and drove out to the camp in Dorgan's bus to pay the men off. The camp broke up on Monday.

On Saturday evening Mr. P. B. McMillan shipped two carloads of second, blocky horses to the Bristol, E.g., market via Portland, and one carload of export and better horses to Montreal.

The rise in the price of wheat is pleasant news for farmers who have a few hundred bushels stowed away, but poor people in town view the increase in the price of flour with a different feeling.

The members of Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. to the number of about thirty, registered at the Benson house last Monday evening for a party on Wednesday.

The body of Father Bloem, who died at North Bay on Tuesday, as reported in Wednesday's Evening Post, was taken to Peterboro for interment at the cemetery. The funeral took place in St. Peter's cathedral on Saturday morning at 6 o'clock.

Last falls somewhat early the present year, as Ash-Wednesday is on Feb. 19th. This brings Easter Sunday on April 15th. The queen's birthday falls on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, labor day on Monday, September the 8th, and Christmas day on Friday.

Jim Hepburn—known among the boys as "Wing beat"—in the Toronto and general hospital last Saturday, and was buried in Toronto. He was long a ward of the public, and was recently removed from Lindsay to the city.

The members of Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. must think well of Lindsay, as they saw the "ghost" walk here after Sunday evening. It was a company of men, and express office money orders for a large amount were cashed by Mr. R. Matchett.

An exchange says that a man named Moon was presented with a daughter by his wife, who was a very young woman, and was so overcome that he got drunk. That was a full moon. After the jag he had only 25 cents. That was his last quarter.

A gentleman who recently arrived from the old country reports that the official record for December in London only one and a half hours of sunshine for the 31 days. How different in Lindsay! Very few days have our citizens been without sunshine.

Since Hartley came to town No one here can skate. None will do the Dutch roll. Or try the figure eight. The last iron on the saw. The scissors or the "grape". We only feel like gazing. At him with moon in his saggs.

So far we have heard of one leap year party in town this winter, at which the ladies took the gentlemen's places, first providing a slight reprieve. The fair ones managed their new duties very well, but by a common impulse the intention of seeing the gentlemen home was reversed by those driving the rig, and the gentlemen were left to find their way home.

Mr. R. B. Rogers, of Peterboro, Trent Valley canal superintendent, left for a trip to England and the continent on Friday. He will inspect the system of pneumatic tubes in Belgium, and will report on their adoption or otherwise on the Kirkfield and Lakefield sections of the Trent Valley canal.

The handsome cup won by Lindsay in the double rink competition at the Peterboro bonspiel last week has been on exhibition in the window of the store of Mr. Geo. A. Little's bookstore, and has been given a special admiration. He said that the silver cup was a beautiful one, and was presented to him by Mr. E. B. Edwards, of Peterboro, brother of Mr. J. G. Edwards.

A very successful tea was given to the junior members of the Y.M.C.A. on Friday evening. The arrangements were supervised by Mrs. Armour and Mrs. Harstone, who were given a hearty vote of thanks by the boys for the excellent tea provided. After the tea and speeches were given by the boys, and some hearty singing brought the evening to a close.

Bob, Independent: Toronto is blowing about having fresh green onions and California strawberries, and is cracking them up as harbingers of spring. If those are the signs of spring, we are in for a very early spring. It is entirely welcome to us onions. Our junior reporter states he saw cow-slips on Monday, and tulips budding with the fragrance of summer. No fresh onions in ours, thank you.

Here is a useful hint for our muskrat hunters, if it does not conflict with the law. It is to use a trap that is very effective in catching muskrats. He fastened two links of stovepipe at either end of a wire trap, and placed the trap inwards. Placing one end of this at the entrance of the rat house the animals enter the trap, whether trying to go out or in, and are thus caught. This method is until the hunter arrives and bags them.

Peterborough Times: Messrs. Patterson & Son's popular ravelier arrived in Peterboro from a recent trip on Saturday afternoon. He reports the roads heavy. He had a narrow escape from a serious accident. His heavy sleigh upset on what he says was only the depth of an inch. He took three men, a boy, and a dog twenty minutes to dig him out. He was very much exhausted, but after resting on his famous hard hat biscuits went on his way greatly refreshed and thankful.

A member of the curling club, wondering what his enjoyment of the past season, finds that, playing steadily during a season, he will have the following data to calculate from: 30 games, 14 wins, 16 losses, 100 lbs. weight, 100 lbs. length of rink, 40 yards. Based upon these figures he will have during the course of the season 100 lbs. of granite, and if he dutifully follows every stone, will travel 305 miles, probably sweeping a pair of trousers and a hat, and a large deal of dirt. Furthermore, there would be enough lung exercise to keep a pipe organ going for an indefinite number of years.

Friday morning a gannet, lanky deerhound, the property of an east ward hunter, trotted past Vetch's hotel and headed down Kent-st. He trotted and barked, and attracted the attention of more than one passer-by, but he took no notice of the favors extended, whether in the form of a well-aimed kick or a cheerful snap of the fingers. On past the post office the animal trotted until he came abreast of Soames' market, and there he stopped as suddenly as a pointer flushing a partridge or snipe. In a box outside were displayed four or five kinds of cigars, which were usually a large deal of business on Fridays, and the rich red fish of a British Columbia salmon proved too tempting for the hungry gannet. He stepped on the fish just as it was being opened, and the dog raised his head and barked, and the gannet, with the result that he was captured in front of the fire hall before he had time to take a bite out of the salmon.
