Scott's Emulsion.

If you want to preserve apples, don't cause a break in the skin. The germs of decay thrive rapidly there. So the germs of consumption find good soil for work when the lining of the throat and lungs is bruised, made raw, or injured by colds and coughs. Scott's Emulsion, hypophosphites, will heal inflamed mucus membranes. The time to take it is before serious damage has been done. A 50-cent bottle is enough for an or-

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES SHOWN

By the Treasurer's Report-The Opposition Leadership-Is Mr. Marter to Retire? Budget Sperch on Wednesday or Thursday Next-General Petitions Presenter.

Toronto, Feb. 18. The sersion of the Legislature yes. terday afternoon was brief and formal The usual batch of petitions was presented, a couple of bills were introduced, a few returns laid on the table, and Mr. Flatt presented a petition from the County of Wentworth, asking that cities be compelled to provide sheltered market accommodation. The Attorney-General presented a petition from the Township of East Zerra, asking that township councils be given power to change the hour for nominations from 10 o'clock noon to 1

Mr. Harty presented a number of petitions from the city of Kingston, the corporations. Another asks that all the public accounts for 1895. He also brought down a return showing the correspondence with reference to Police Magistrate Quibell of Sudbury; with reference to the recommendations of candidates for appointment to the staff of University College and the School of Science, and with reference establishment of a Normal School in the city of London, and with reference also to the establishment of a Normal School in the town of Woodstock. The correspondence with reference to the Sudbury magistrate showed that the Covernment had been petideprive him of jurisdiction in Sudbury, the chief grievance against ng that he returned the bulk municipality. The correspondence with reference to appointments to the staff of University College was quite extensive and in some places interesting, as showing what some people think of some other people. the Western Normal School began with a memorial from the Woodstock Foard of Trade in January, 1891, and finished with the last efforts of the city of London in March, 1892. The correspondence shows that London made some very strenucus efforts to secure the school.

Sir Oliver Mowat announced that the estimates would be brought down today and that Mr. Harcourt would be ready with the budget by Wednesday. Mr. Marter asked that the budget be deferred till Thursday, so as to give time for the consideration of the public accounts.

Sir Oliver and Mr. Hardy thought that Wednesday would give all the time necessary, and the Premier finally remarked that it would be brought down at discretion. The following figures are taken from the public accounts for the year end-ing December 31, 1895: The expenditures under the head of civil government amounted to $244,726.47, as compared with $240,474.10 in 1894. Under the head of legislation, the expenditures were $150,058.67, as compared with $142,-362.22 the previous year. Of this amount, $15,488 was paid in salaries, $12,-967.25 for sessional writers, clerks of committees, etc., and $58,189 for indemnity to members. The administration of justice cost $453,564.99, as compared with $418,746.63 the previous year. Of this amount, $4987.59 was spent for the inspection of Division Courts, $5380.17 under the drainage act, and $9770.34 on Provincial police. The sher-fffs' fees amounted to $6778.91, as compered with $5198.80 in the previous year. The cost of education amounted to $893,042.95, as compared with $884,-559.80 in 1894. The mainten-ance of public institutions cost in 1895, $799,222.15, an increase of $42,238.23 over the previous year. The Government spent in 1895, $7814.86 on immigration, a slight decrease from last year. Of this amount, $4614.85 was spent on agencies in Europe. The following is a comparative statement of the expenditures under some other leading heads : Agriculture, 1894, $181,064.71; 1895, $181,233.11. Hospitals and charities, 1594, $182,692.51; 1895, $190,221.08. Repairs and maintenance, 1894, $71,548; 1895, $76,518.14. Public buildings, 1894, $205,-194.21; 1895. $265,600.90. Public works, 1894, $28,582.36; 1895, $28,739.70. Colonization roads, 1894, $116,879.78; 1895, $116,-706.59. Charges on Crown lands, 1894. $111,158.35; 1895, $112,423.33. The total expenditure amounted to $3,758,595.44, as compared with $3,842,505.23 in 1894. The total receipts for 1895 are set down at $3,585,300.10, made up as follows: Balance from public accounts of 1894, $268,578.29; from Dominion of Canada, $1,196,872.80; interest, $303,-459.56; Crown lands, $927,744; licenses, $272,809.12; Iaw stamps, $74,701; Algoma taxes, $2183.34; Education Department, $52,271.63; succession duties, $298,824.99; casual revenue, $84,799; pub-lic institutions, $104,034.44.

Mr. Matthewson asked for a return showing the expenditure in the Central Prison and the cost per individual. Mr. McPherson gave notice of an enquiry as to whether or not it was the intention of the Government to introduce a bill amending the succession duties act so that hereafter the percentage of duty shall be calculated on the amount of the estate, less the amount of the duties,

THE IRISH LEADERSHIP.

Mr. Sexton Declined to Accept Mr. Healy's Offer-Hon. Edward Blake Would Not Oppose Mr. Dillon.

New York, Feb. 16.-Mr. Ballard Smith cables from London to The World: "Timothy Healy's letter to Sexton, offering him an apparently loyal and unqualified support should he accept the chairmanship of the Irish party, has created a situation of considerable perplexity among its members. Several leading members of the majority have again pressed Mr. Sexton to reconsider his refusal, but I believe with little prospect of success. The letter of refusal which Mr. Sexton handed to the chief whip of the party, on Monday has not yet been published. It is said that its terms are such that even Mr. Healy's assurances of support would not enable Mr. Sexton to withdraw his refusal.

"The members of the Irish party also feel that Mr. Healy has made a very adroit move, one which will materially strengthen his position in opposing Mr. Dillon's election, which is inevitable unless Mr. Sexton consents at the eleventh hour. Even in the event of Mr. Dillon's election there is no expectation that Mr. Healy will openly revolt. He has not yet decided whether he will resist Mr. Dillon's nomination by simply registering a negative vote, or by proposing the name of another candidate as an amendment. Sir Thomas Esmonde has been approached by the Healyites to permit his nomination in opposition to Mr. Dillon, but, it is said, has declined.

"It is reported that Healy may pro-I-cse Edward Blake, who is now on his way from New Zealand, and who, if here, would not accept the nomination-at any rate, not against Mr. Dil-

NOW IT IS BULGARIA!

The Russian Bear Has Begun to Growl Over the Independence Talk.

New York, Feb. 16.-A special cablegram from St.Petersburg to The Herald says: "There is a growing conviction here that Bulgaria must recognize Russia's supreme sway. The Novosti says: "M. Nachevits, the Bulgarian Foreign Minister, talked of the independence of Bulgaria, but Bulgaria is a vassal, in two degrees-first, toward Turkey; and, second, toward the powers of Europe, who guaranteed her existence. Under these conditions all talk about independence is only empty words. Bulgaria should understand that none of the Balkan States at once received its independence. Bulgaria, according to M. Zankoff, now leaves the sphere of external politics." The Novoe Kremya says: "We have now to see that Bulgaria does not become a menace to the peace of Europe with her desire for a Macedonian

The Viedomosti solemnly warns Russia that Bulgaria must not be trusted, for she will be discontented that Russia does not assist her in the Macedonian agitation. "Russia," it adds, will not allow Bulgaria to interfere with the rights of Turkey or Greece and create an agitation somewhat like the Armenian one, just to suit England. Russia has much graver political duties in full sight."

A Herald special from Philippopolis says: "The Sultan of Turkey is disposed to recognize the independence of Bulgaria in return for a lump sum of money paid down. The recognition of Prince Perdinand is now certain."

HR. GREENWAY'S MOVE.

H Will Diseard All Formal Religion From Manifeba schools:

Winnipes, Feb. 11:-It is learned from a trustworthy source that Premier Greenway will in a few days make another clever maye, calculated to strengthen himself and his superters throughout the Dominion on the school question. One of the strongest objections to the present school law is the provision for formal religious exercises, which are held by opponents of the law to be Protestant. If this were removed, schools would be thoroughly secular and much of the Roman Catholic grievance would be removed. So much, at any rate, that there need scarcely be any excuse for remedial legislation by the Federal Parliament. It is hinted, too, that an understanding has been arrived at between Mr. Greenway and his political friends in the east to make such amendment and thus ensure the defeat of the remedial bill now before the House this direction was made on Saturday, when the Advisory Board of the Department of Education took the matter up at a special meeting and almost unanimously recommended the change. The only opponent of the proposal was the Archbishop of Rupert's Land, the head of the Episcopal Church. Although the Archbishop's opposition is a serious matter, it is not thought the Advisory Board will be deterred from making an official report to the Government in favor of doing away with all religious exercises in schools. On this recommendation Mr. Greenway will take action at the present session of the Manitoba Legislature. The Advisory Board is composed of representatives of nearly all the Protestant churches. With this amendment it is claimed there can be no opponents of the Manitoba school law except the Roman Catholic clergy.

My route was from Utica to Cape Vincent, thence by steamer to their homes in the morning full of life and Kingston, and from there along the north shore of the lake to Toronto and around to Niagara Falls. I arrived at Cape Vincent at 5 o'clock, having ridden

"After a delightful sail through Thousand Islands, I stepped on shore in that quaint old city of Kingston. shower had fallen and the streets were damp, so that wisdom would have dictated that I, leg-weary as I was, should have kept in doors, but so anxious was to see the old city that I spent the whole evening in the streets.

"Five o'clock the next morning brought a vory unwelcome discovery. I was lame in both ankles and knees. The head wind and the damp streets had proved an unfortunate combination. I gave, however, little thought to it, supposing it would wear off in a few hours, and the first flush of sunlight saw me speeding out the splendid road that leads toward Napanee.

"Night overtook me at a little village near Port Hope, but found me still lame. I rested the next day, and the next, but it was too late; the mischief was done. I rode a good many miles during the rest of the season, but never a day and seldom a mile without pair.

"The winter came and I put away my wheel, saying 'now I shall get well,' but to my disappointment I graw worse. Some days my knees almost forbade walking and my ankles would not permit me to wear shoes. At times I suffered severe pain, so severe as to make study a practical impossiblity, yet it must be understood that I concealed the condition of affairs as far as possible.

"From being local the trouble began to spread slightly and my anxiety increased. I consulted two physicians and followed their excellent advice, but without result. So the winter passed. Fire and Death in a Troy Collar Factory.

TWENTY CIRLS LOSE THEIR LIVES

A Small Boy's Carelessness Starts a Hot Blaze in a Building Whe Operatives Were Closing Their Day's Work-Girls Jump to Death, Others Burned. Troy, Feb. 17 .- There is mourning in the homes of Troy collar girls to-night. An untimely and fearful death overtook many of them late this afternoon. Working In an interview a few days ago he girls, whose day's labor was almost over, were cut down almost without warning by fire. Three girls jumped to their death "In the early summer of '94 I went from a burning building. Distracted moters at night, and they waited in vain. Bright, pretty collar girls, who had left health and spirit, never lived to tell the tale of agony, torture and death. Their charred bodies are now resting under tons and tons of red hot embers, stone and and tons of red hot embers, stone and brick. Identity even when found will probably be impossible. The scene was one that Trojans will never forget. It is a black page in the city's history, unparalleled in its century of existence.

The fire started in J. Stathelmer & Co.'s shirt waist factory and Van Sant & Jacob's collar factory at 5.30 o'clock this afternoon. There were 300 girls at work in the shop and in Van Sant & Jacobs' collar factory, which is situated in the same building.

The flames spread so rapidly that the narrow stairway, which was the only exit outside of the fire escapes in the rear, was almost immediately cut off, and during the panic that followed five girls jumped from the windows, three of them to their death, and many others were injured. and many others were injured.

The dead: Mrs. Horbort of Water-street,
Mrs. Kane of 195 Fourth-street and Mrs.

Missing: Miss Mamle Danks, Miss Kittle O'Connor, Miss Kane and Miss Foley. The injured: Miss Mamle Day, burned and bruised; Miss Lillio Kreiger, badly bruised; Alfred Casey, fireman, Osgood Co., driven insane by shock; Miss Mamie Downs of Sixth-avenue, almost suffocated; Miss Annette Harrington, face and hands burn-ed; Miss Lillie Outhout, West Troy, badly burned; Miss Clementine Lloyd, Miss Ger-trude Lloyd, Miss Johnston, all three of Lansingburgh, badly and perhaps fatally burned; James Ross, crushed by falling walls, leg broken and seriously injured; Officer Burke, crushed by falling walls, condition serious; Officer Guy, badly bruised; Officer Watson, scalp wound and briused; Alfred Casey, fireman, Osgood Co., spine injured; John Ormsby, fireman, Osgood Co., knee hurt; John Boland, fireman, Eddy Co., scalp wound and leg broken. It is believed by everybody, even the proprietors and employes in the shops, that about 20 girls were overcome before they reached the street and were burned up in the building. People who are familiar with the interior of the building, and who know how limited are the means of escape, place the total loss at least 30. The scene of the catastrophe was at the corner of Broadway and River-street, a portion of the city characterized for its immense business buildings. The structure is known as the Burdett building. The building is six stories in height. It was occupied by Stethelmer & Co., manufacturers of ladies' shirt waists, whose factory was situated on the fifth floor; Van Sant & Jacobs, manufacturers of collars and cuffs, who occupled the three floors below, and a restaurant and saloon on the ground floor. There were also several other minor enerprises carried on in the building. The fire, which ended so disastrously, started in the fifth storey in the part occupled by Stethelmer & Co. About 5.25 o'clock this afternoon a little boy attempted to light the gas in what is known as the cutting department. This is where the goods of which the shirt waists are made are cut. He climbed up on the cutting table and lighted the gas. Then he threw the match, which was still burning, to the floor and it ignited a pile of scrap cambric. In an instant there was a crackling of fierce and uncontrollable flames, and the room was filled with smoke. Miss Lillie Kreiger, a girl, realized the imminence of peril, and at the risk of her own life rushed through the different departments of the building and warned the employes of the danger. Nothing but the bravery of a volunteer fireman saved her from death. When the employes in the fifth storey realized that the fire was beyoud control and was likely to prove disastrous a scene of great panic immediately ensued. The girls rushed about the room. Some of them found their way down the stairway, others succumbed to the dense smoke and sank to the floor, and some lumped from the dizzy height of the Riverstreet windows to the pavement below. About half of the girls who were employed on the top floor did think of the fire escape and found their way to the ground in

For 20 minutes after the fire started the scene was the most exciting ever witnessed In Troy. During this time there was a continuous panic, and in the rush for a place of safety many were injured. The crush on the stairway was something frightful. About 200 men and girls attempted to make their escape by this exit at the same time. Many were trampled majority of the employes finally reached the eltement that it was impossible to learn from them how many of them had been

While They Were at Breakfast. Chesley. Feb. 17 .- At 7.30 o'clock this morning the boiler in Messrs. Moore & Wallace's sash and door factory here exploded. Fortunately no one was in the building at the time, all the hands having left a few minutes before for breakfast. The force of the explesion was so great that the whole building was torn into atoms, and parts of the boiler were found over 100 yards distant from the ruins. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by the feed pipe to the boiler having hecome frozen. The loss will be slightly

The London Spectator Sounds an Alarm

BRITAIN TO PREPARE.

As a Terrific Conflict Will Likely Follow the Statement of Bieberstein in the Reichstag - Natal Journal Says only a Miracle Will Stop It.

London, Feb. 16 .- The Spectator says that the possibility of a terrible war underlies the declaration of Baron Marschall Von Bierberstein, the German Foreign Minister, that Germany will not abandon her resolve to interfere in the affairs of the Transvaal. The paper declares it thinks that if Great Britain was fairly roused, there would be no danger of Parliament refusing the demands of the Government for munitions of war, but adds that it is doubtful if the country even now is aware of the dreadful suddenness with which an extreme emergency may arise.

The Spectator protests against the Government devoting part of the Budget surplus to the relief of the agricultural distress, and declares that this money ought to be expended in putting the country in a state of full preparedness for war. It asks what time would elapse, supposing there should be need for immediate action, before materials and reinforcements could be landed in South Africa, Germany, it adds, has entered upon a struggle with Great Britain to obtain the controlling influence in the Transvaal. An entente on this subject is impossible. The need for full naval and military preparations without a moment's delay is plainer than ever.

The latest despatches from Cape Colony confirm the view generally entertained there that the Volksraad of the Transvaal will decide that it would not be wise or expedient for President Kruger to make a visit to England. The newspapers of Natal say they expect that the negotiations between Great Britain and the Transvaal will end in a rupture of diplomatic relations, and this will be followed by hostilities. According to The Natal Advertiser, only a miracle can avert a

The tone of the Conservative and Liberal speeches in the debate last night in the House of Commons and the consequent comments to-day of the newspapers of both parties disclose the fact that there is a current of opinion favorable to British intervention in the Transvaal on the pretext of defending the rights of the foreign reidents of that republic. Sir William Harcourt's moralizing on the fate which attends those who interfere in the arrangement of domestic differenby the Liberals whose leader in the House he is. The Westminster Gagette, which is a Liberal organ, replies to William, saying that as far as Britain has already secured a locus standi by checking the fight between Boer husband and the Uitlander wife. It adds that if the Boer laws make it impossible for a man to become a burgher they must not at the same time deprive him of his rights as a British subject. The gravity of the situation is becoming recognized.
