No more unfortunate event, in recent times, has happened than the writing by for him. Father Lacombe of his now famous letter to Mr. Laurier. He sends it, he says, "in the name of our bishops, of the hierarchy, and of Canadian Catholics," and he threatens Mr. Laurier that unless he votes for the Remedial Bill, "the episcopacy, like one man, united to the clergy,' will deal out sudden death, and will crush and annihilate the liberal leader and his party. This extraordinary letter came like a thunderbolt; and though the political sky has not been clear for some time,

Mr. St. Louis has won his case against the government. Some men are lucky. Notionly has Mr. Haggart never been able to discover that provoking "truth" about the Curran bridge steal, and Mr. St. Louis escaped the action of the Montreal courts, but now he obtains by process of law another plot. What will the next turn of the wheel bring about?

In "the dark days of 1878," as tories delight to call that period, when we had a low tariff and trade was not "assisted" and "boomed" and "protected," Canada's exports to Australia amounted $370,723. In 1895, the people being taxed to pay a steamship subsidy of $122,667 to Mr. Huddart for 12 trips of his steamers, the total exports were $417,124, about the amount of a year's subsidy more than in 1878, and a decline of nearly $250,-000 from the figures of 1889.

In the second part of the auditor-general's report brought down last Tuesday, he illustrates the value of the detailed statements it contained by the following story: A person acquainted with the expenditure needed on the Carillon canal noticed in a report that one Charlebois appeared as the recipient of pay-money, and he knew the man had not been in the neighborhood for years. An investigation proved that $30,000 had been stolen from the government by the superintendent putting fictitious names on the list. Naturally there are those who feel injured by a system which enables this kind of thing to be stopped, as it is when Mr. McDougall gets his finger in the pie. Such clear cases of steal used to be frequent, and would be so still were it not for this salutary check.

The Montreal Star refers in a complimentary way to Ontario's surplus of afford $379,540 to Ontario's $702,686 while Ontario spends $982,652 for public contrast with which Quebec votes $330,lums." Quebec's total estimate stands at $4,935,449, while Ontario totals only $3,-483,365. Ontario is all right.

In his speech on the budget Mr. Henderson, of Halton, begged the farmers to them by the N. P. tariff on pork. The Chatham Banner points out that on that Detroit at $5 25 to $5 50, and in Chatham at $4.75 to $4.90. Butchers' cattle, $2 to $2 25 in Toronto; $3 to $3 70 in Buffalo. In the face of such figures, which can be found in the Empire's market reports almost daily, the conservative members are paying intelligent farmers a poor compliment in asking them to bless the N. Another Grant for the Scugog. Captain Crandell and other steamboat men are rejoicing over the news that Sir Oliver Mowat has placed $3,600 in the estimates for the deepening and widening of the Scugog between the locks and the Wellington-st. bridge, in compliance with the prayer of the petition forwarded last year by our town council. It will be re-membered that the departmental engineer visited Lindsay last fall to take the necessary measurements and soundings, and it will be seen that the government have We understand that in addition to the but he should not be allowed to bleed the taxpayers for any more socialistic experiments. His butter shipping scheme proved a costly farce, and his chilled beef scheme is not a par with it. Robertson is a dear man at $5,000, but even at that figure the country will save a pot of money by employing him about his milk pans and churns and keeping banks on the north and south sides, which will then be protected by crib-work. It is thought that the estimate will be ample to make a first-class job of the work, and thus put an end to the many annoying blockades that were a feature of last scason's occupancy of the town wharf. We may add that our citizens are indebted in no slight degree for the grant to Mr. Thos. Walters, superintendent of public works, who interviewed the government on the subject and strongly advocated the expenditure. COMMERCIAL NEWS.
