F. VanCamp. AXES and Cross-Cut Saws.

A First-Class AXE for A Good HELVE for CATTLE CHAINS for GOOD LANTERNS for -Nickle Silver T Kettles for $1.25 of the creek. Nickle Silver T POTS for 80c. Royal Canadian Wringers, $2.50 Nice New No. 9 CCOK

STOVES, SKATES of all Kinds Cheap

The Canadian Lost. LINDSAY, FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1895.

A FAIR CONFEDERATE. AN INTERESTING STORY OF

THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR. (Continued from last week.) You have just come through."

"Oi would name the bank of the creek at a point due west of this." 'How long a time will be required before the meeting can take place ? It is now a little after 11." "It may be an hour; it may be longer. If ye will be there, colonel, at 12 o'clock, we'll meet ye as soon after as possible." "You will find me there at 12."

"It would be well, colonel, to concert a signal by which each should know the other.

"Oi'll doubtless be with colonel Maynard. Oi'll cry 'Oireland," and ye can respond"- "To the rescue." Colonel Fitz Hugh called to those waiting outside, who had brought in Corporal Ratigan and directed them to blindfold him and take him to the Federal lines, and, if possible, insure his getting through without injury. They were to report the result to him in any event. Ratigan knew nothing but the gallop of the horse on which he sat, with a handkerchief about his eyes, until the party conducting him drew rein and he was directed to dismount. Then he was asked if he would be escorted to a Union vedette known to be on a road leading around the north end of the ridge or whether he would go alone.

"Oi'll go alone," he said. "If ye go with me, they'll think it a midnight attack."

Starting forward, the corporal trudged over a short distance between him and the vedette. As he drew near he began to sing a few lines from a play popular at the time.

Is the R'yal artillerie.

"Who comes there?" cried the lines. vedette, cocking his piece as Ratigan came in sight. Friend, with the countersign, to be von.

sure! Who d'ye suppose?" a good deal puzzled on hearing the Irish officers of highest rank." brogue coming from that direction, but "It would avail nothing." it reassured him, He did not have much fear of an enemy unless it were from this sacrifice, which, though she queried the man. troops. One came in half an hour ago martyr.

getting in re-enforcements." "I believe ye, my boy."

in Colonel Maynard's tent.

CHAPTER XVIII.

A STRANGE MEETING idea as to what he had accomplished. agony suffered by the other unless he There was little that it was essential judged that other by himself. should be told except that Colonel Neither had the heart to terminate the Fitz Hugh would meet him between interview, though both knew that it the lines as soon as he could get there fruitless. A night bird set up a dismal Casting a glance at his watch, Maynard | cry. It seemed a death-knell. noticed that it was 20 minutes to 12. The distance to the point of rendezvous, as near as they could estimate it, "remain here or meet me here at any was two miles. Every minute was time after a hour. It may be the precious. It would be midnight before they could meet, and then they would be, if at all, before sunrise." only have about six hours in which to They could only do so by communi- nor your sister shall know till it has yonder. cating with general headquarters, some | been accomplished." 15 miles away. In any event the case was desperate. However, Maynard at 1 o'clock you will find me where I had been used in his scouting days to now am." before his intended execution. Calling away. the ground at no laggard pace, and, ed, and raised his hat as politely as if his camp cot, on which he had written Colonel Maynard dropped back beside ordering a mount for the corporal at he were saluting in a ballroom. the same time, the two waited im- Fitz Hugh rejoined his companion were challenged by the sentry on post,

"Who comes there?"

orderly, inspecting vedettes route between two roads and meeting faster, when he was suddenly startled to the man who stood before him no more guards, they cautiously by the firing of a bullet and the inquiringly. approached the place of rendezvous. sound that came with it. The shot On reaching the bank of the creek rang close to his ear, almost brushing ness to discover what they were lessness suddenly come upon a Union looking for. Presently the dark figure of a horseman emerged from a clump Colonel Fitz Hugh, called:

The two men arranged that Colonel bridge. each rode back to his principal, and in road and turned northward. Soon a few moments more the Union and after they reached camp. Confederate officers faced each other from opposite banks of the creek. The distance between them at this point was but a few yards, and the night was not so dark but that they could plainly see each other. The Maynard said : equestrian figures stood silent, each waiting for the other to speak. The only sound came from the gurgling

"You are Colonel Fitz Hugh, I believe," said Maynard. "l am. I recognize Colonel Maynard's voice." "I heard yours last on a certain evening a year ago-an evening memorable to both of us. Then you gave me my life, and by doing so placed yourself in a position to be shot for a traitor to your cause." "Not for your sake, colonel-for the sake of another." "It matters not for whose sake; the act remains. Once before you spared me when you found me under a roof which covered"-"Then I respected the laws of hospitality, sacred in the south. Let us not dwell on these matters, colonel. Let us proceed with that upon which we have met for consultation."

"You are right. Time presses. Your sister stands convicted of the same offence as mine at the time of which have been speaking and sentenced to die at sunrise. We meet to concert a method to save her."

"At my request. But any proposition must come from you, Colone Maynard. 1 am unfamiliar with the feeling on the part of those in power in the Federal army as to executing a sentence of death upon a woman."

"Circumstances which I cannot explain, for they pertain to the situation in which these two armies are placed, render the feeling against your sister very severe." "You have suggested my exerting influence from our side. "It was your sister who suggested it. I have little faith in it," "What did you propose ?"

"That which your sister would not Maynard whispered in a strange, ground back to Colonel Maynard's He saw the sergeant watching. savage tone : "To use my authority as commanding the brigade charged with her keeping to place her within your "And now ?"

"I listen for some suggestion from

"I can think of none except, with death. "Advance friend, and give the your permission, to enter a protest over countersign," called the man. He was the signature of our commanding

"Then there is nothing to save her a trap to get him at a disadvantage. has always been prepared for it, and Ratigan drew near and whispered, doubtless will now meet it, like the remarkable woman she is, with be-"What are you doing out there?" coming fortitude, is still hard for those ot us who love and respect her to bear, "Lookin out for trains bringin in We will revere her memory as a

"During this dialogue each man sat "You don't mean it! Guess they're on his horse without any movement and spoke in measured, formal automatic tones. Maynard's words were Ratigan walked on toward the camp | quicker than Fitz Hugh's, who held to till he got out of sight of the vedette. the slower fashion of speaking Then he ran till he dropped breathless common in the south. After the last sentence spoken by Fitz Hugh there was a long silence. They had met for a purpose. Their meeting was a

It seemed to both that they could Ratigan was so 'exhausted as to be hear their watches ticking away the only able to give Maynard a few seconds that lay between Caroline Fitz detached sentences, conveying some Hugh and death. Neither knew the into them.

Then Maynard broke the silence. "Colonel," he said in a set voice, small hours of the morning. It will

"What do you propose to do?" "What I propose to do neither you "I will remain here or near by, and

"Adieu," replied Fitz Hugh in the Ringold, and Ma nard, followed by till they were again challenged by the Mounting they began to climb the Ratigan, started back toward their guard at the temporary prison. There disguised, and she did not recognize it Pea Vine ridge. Ratigan, who had camp. Maynard's brain was in a fever. the colonel advanced and gave the as Colonel Maynard's. been over the ground, led the way. Time had been expended to no gain, countersign and passed into the house. "Were you sent by They reached the top of the ridge, and The small hours were coming on, and The sergeant in charge met them and Maynard." the corporal pointed out the position only six of them would pass before asked what they wanted. The colonel on the creek, due west of ringold, the event he so much dreaded would handed him the paper he had brought where they were to meet Colonel Fitz take place. He had formed his resolve. with him. It was an order for the Hugh. Descending the slope, they Whether wise or foolish, right or person of the prisoner. The place was came upon a Union vedette and were wrong, practical or impossible, his only lighted by a candle, and the might be, desired to remain unknown, challenged with the usual words, resolution was taken. Once deter- colonel took care to stand with his and she desisted from further mined upon his course he spurred his back to it. But this was not necessary, questioning. "The colonel comman ling, with an horse on without thought of obstacle. for his disguise was complete. Turning from the rough ground on Corporal Ratigan remained without the Federal cause," she said. "My lips They then advanced, gave the which he rode he was about to take the door, on the porch.

Maynard made no reply.

"Cease firing ! Friends !" of trees on the opposite bank and Ratigan rode forward and found a rode forward toward the creek. vedette, who had mistaken them for Ratigan saw him, and, believing him an enemy. On making themselves 55c. to be some one in attendance upon known they were suffered to pass on, and Maynard, feeling that he was too incautious to lead, gave way to Rati-"To the rescue," called the man in a gan. They proceeded on their way 35c. low voice, and rode up to the margin with more caution and passed through a gap in the ridge leading to Reed's

Fitz Hugh and Colonel Maynard The good footing of the road enabled should advance to the respective places them, after getting well into their they themselves occupied as soon as lines, to proceed rapidly. After they - - $12 50 they had withdrawn. Then, wheeling, had passed the ridge they left the

CHAPTER XIX

IN THE SHADOW OF DEATH. 'Once inside his tent Colonel

"Corporal, I want you to to get me the uniform of a private soldier. of the stream which flowed between You must do so without exciting

"Oi don't know how Oi'll do it, colonel, without going back to me own "I tear that will take too long. Can't you steal one from one of the tents "One moight be able to do it, and Oi moight spend the whole night tryin. Oi can get one at me camp certain." "I would take your jacket, but I want your assistance. There's no other way but for you to go to your camp.'

'Colonel, Oi'll ride hard." "Ride, and remember that every moment is worth years at any other Ratigan lost no time in mounting and was soon galloping on his way. Once out of the camp from which he started he found no guards to pass and was able to drive his horse to the utmost. The night before he had chased the woman whom he had then known as Betsy Baggs in a mad race to capture her. Now he was tearing along in a mad race to save her from the consequences of his capture. Past woods and waters flew the corporal, over bridges and hills, through hollows and rivulets, till he came to his own camp. There he at once sought the quarters of Private Flanagan.

private, "yer wanted !" "What is it corporal?"

"Let me take yer clothes and ask no "Take 'em. And divil a question will Oi ask except what ye do be wantin

'em for." Ratigan seized the bundle, and, away."

night. The corporal cast his eye to the Before entering he loked again. The unscrupulous dealers who erase the numbers from east and saw a faint streak of white sergeant was still watching. He the machines in order to avoid detection. light there. Digging his spurs into his evidently wished to make sure that all THE WILLIAMS' M'F'G CO., (LTO.) beast's flanks and urging him with his was right. All entered the tent, while -54-2. C. W. DAVI. Man. Director. voice at the same time, rider and horse the colonel, standing at the front and

'Go on, me darlin. Stretch yer cussed | the way clear. legs, for I don't care if ye kill yersilf if we lose no time. What's yer loife compared with hers? On with ye, me distance down the road. Not a word beauty! Win the race with the sun was spoken. Presently they turned. that is showin his light there, and aside and entered the wood. There

Oi'll worship ye forever." With these contradictory and in- "Mount," said the colonel to the coherent phrases Ratigan urged his prisoner. horse till he could go no faster. Again Putting a foot in his hand, she auetioneer, at the did hills, vales, woods, waters, fences sprang up to a horse's back. There was Benson House, in the Town of Lindsay, fly by till at last the corroral dismount- no side-saddle for her, but the high ed at the camp he rode for, and in a front of a "McClellan" served very TUESDAY, 9th DAY OF APRIL, 1895, moment was in Colonel Maynard's tent. | well, and she was so good a horse-

He had no beard, while the colonel had Ratigan mounted, and the three rode a heavy one. His hair and eyebrows rapidly away.

"Give me the clothes, quick !"

"Corporal," said the colonel, "let me explain what I am about to do. I know duties, and semetimes they won't work something of the blood that flows in together. If savin a woman's life isn't the veins of Caroline Fitz Hugh. She a duty, then me mother didnt bring Mill; the whole structure is Stone and Brick, with will never accept her life at the price I me up right." intend to pay for it. She must not "Who's the other?" she asked, while know that I intend to save her by Maynard was riding a little in advance. violating a trust, by incurring my own downfall, or she will not leave her jail. | slave." Do you understand ?"

"I do, coionel. She would chide me if she knew I was doing the same."

distinctive feature in mine seems to be | and then who will care !" "Adieu," cried Maynard as he to decide quickly between conflicting "Oi know those who will rejoice." duties. I am going to violate a trust, to perform a sacred obligation. If you passed over the route before several vendor's Solicitor. escaped from prison on the very night turned his horse's head and galloped duties. I am going to violate a trust, Ratigan now took the lead, having will aid me, follow me." Taking up a slip of paper lying on way to get between the vedettes.

patiently till both animals were led up and rode away in the direction of but giving the countersign proceeded countersign and passed on. Taking a the road, on which he might get on The sergeant looked from the paper

"This is very strange," he said. 'Here is Colonel Maynard's order, ahead and peering through the dark Knowing that he had by his care, the sergeant added, reading it over

N. K. Fairbank Co.

isn't in 11.

It is just because there is no lard in it, that OTTOLENE the new shortening is so wonderfully popular with housekeepers. OTTOLENE is PURE, DELICATE, HEALTH-EUL, SATISFYING-none of the unpleasant odor necessarily connected with lard

Sold in 3 and 5 pound pails by all grocers. Made only by The N. K. Fairbank Company,

Wellington and Ann Stag MONTREAL, again. "Do you know what he wants

"Do you suppose I don't know any better than to ask questions when I get an order ?" replied the spurious private The sergeant went into the room where Miss Fitz Hugh was confined and 1 d her out, pale and wondering. "It isn't sunrise," she said in a voice which it was difficult for her to keep destrable houses in town to rent or sell, and also the

"Come," said the colonel. She followed him to the porch, and corporal "Flanagan," he cried, shaking the Ratigan joined them, but it was too I have also a number of farms which I have for dark for the prisoner to see who he was, ops. Fenelon and Eldon. Those desiring to either and he did not dare to make himself rent or purchase will find it to their known. As soon as they had got to a safe distance he whispered : "Darlin !"

"Not a word till we get further NOTICE

with an injunction to Flanagan to keep | They walked on at an ordinary pace, his mouth shut if he wanted to save though all desired to hasten. After Mallett, the local agent for the New William's Manuhimself from future trials, mounted his passing some distance from the house facturing Co.;horse and was again flying over the Maynard turned and glanced back, John Mailett, esq., Lindsay.

"We must go to the tent," he It was now the small hours of the muttered, and the three walked on. sped on in a race between life and peering between the tent flaps, watched A OCTION SALE for the sergeant to go back into the "Go on, ye beast!" cried the corporal. house. Presently he did so and left Valuable Properties they found the horses.

The corporal started back. A man woman that she could have ridden At Two o'clock in the stood there whom he did not recognize sideways on the animal's bare back. Part of the North Half of the for a few moments as Colonel Maynard. The stirrup was fitted, the colonel and Township of SomeRville, in three different were black, while the colonel's were "We must dodge the picket," said light, and the hair which had hung the colonel. 'Even the countersign separately, as desired below his hat in short carls was now might not avail us with a woman in OF LINDSAY and in the TOWNSHIP OF OPS, the party." "What does it all mean, Rats?" The corporal handed him the bundle, asked Miss Fitz Hugh. "I thought and Maynard lost no time in getting you were going to do your duty at all Twenty-Two and Twenty-Three in the Sixth Con-

"Well, there's different kinds of

"One who this night makes me his "And I from this night wille be you succeed in saving it. But I can't of miles are tributary to this mill, so that for years "While you have been away I have bear to have you sacrifice yourselves placed three horses in the wood for me. You may be committing an unpardonable sin toward your comrades, but I cannot believe you are "I see, colonel."

"Corporal Ratigar, every man has committing a sin toward our Father. Lot is one mile from the Village of Norland, on the his own part in life to perform. The And one day it will be ended, Rats,

"Who are you?" she asked.

"One who serves you." The voice sounded familiar, but was

"Why should you try to save me?" "Ask me rather why I should not." It was plain the man, whoever he will be sealed to any information I may . H. SOOTHERAN, "Your information would be too late in any event. Had it been otherwise this plan would not have been attempted." "Why so ?" (To be Continued, SUGARS.

When we say that we think we can do better in the line of SUGARS than any other store in the county we have faith in our ability to do so. It rests with the house-keepers of the County to test the statement's truth.

Don't lose sight of the fact that we pride ourselves on the quality of our TEAS and COFFEES. Experience tells in the handling of these lines, and if you can appreciate a cun of good Tea or Coffee there are those who cannot) we are sure of your trade.

SPRATT & KILLEN,

FAMILY GROC RS.

New Advertisements.

DOR SALE OR TO RENT.

Lindsay, June 12, 1894. - 98.

Leaving the tent, they walked a short COUNTY OF VICTORIA

TOWN OF LINDSAY.

indebted for my life to both of you if of the shore afford a good booming-ground for logs,

J. H. Sootheran. MONEY TO LOAD

at Lowest Rates on Mortgage Security, or

NOTES DISCOUNTED lash &dvauced on Farmers' Sale Notes FENELUM FALLS, on MORTGAGES CHANGED.

to the saving effected, REAL ESTATE bought and sold on Commission.

Kent Street, Lindsay. AGIC METAL POLISH. the best thing on earth 10c., at Perrin's Drug Store The Monitor.

THE MONITOR

Our new improved all steel Monitor Combined Drills, Fectional Seeders and Cuitivators for 1895, are built upon the only correct principles. They are stronger and more durable than any in the market. They are the lightest that ever was constructed. They run lighter than any in the market. They lead all other Combined Drills in the latest essential improvements. They have the best feed run. The best grain distributer. The best Cultivator in the world. They will work better in all conditions of the soil than any other combined

Any farmer wanting a Combined Drill, Sectional Seeder or Cultivator, will make a mistake in buying any other than the Monitor. We solicit your orders at the Factory or through our Agents, D. M. Houlihan, Downeyville; H. Fitzpatrick, Lindsay; Samuel Magill, Manvers; W. B. Robinson, Lindsay, or Geo. McHugh, Local General Agent. We shall be pleased to see you at our Office and Factory, where samples of all our machines can be inspected.

Adams' Tutti Frutti

On receipt of one wrapper of wing Golden Gem Library HOVELS.FREE: . The Yellow Mask. Wilkie Collins. The Bag of Diamonds, Geo. M. Fenn.

Lady Grace, Mrs. Henry Wood.

The Shadow of a Sin, Charlotte M, Braeme

9. Single Heart and Double Face. Ch. Reade

to, Cricket on the Hearth, Chas, Dickens,

M EMORIAL CARDS. - A very choice ERRIN'S TOOTH NERVE KILLER

New Advertisements.

stops Toothache instantly, Perrin's Drug Store.

UCTION SALE

VALUABLE FARM Under power of sale contained in a certain mort-gage made by Robert Webster to the vendors, now in ult, and to be produced at time of sale, there will be offered for sale by public auction at the MANSION HOUSE, in the Town of Tuesday, 16th Day of APRIL, 1895 At the hour of Two o clock in the afternoon :-FIRSTLY,-All and singular Lot Number 27, the Tenth Concession of the TOWNSHIP OF FENELON, and Lot Number 27, in the Eleventh containing 972 Acres, more or less, favorable terms and conditions then made known.

BLACKSTOCK, NESBITT, CHADWICK & RIDDELL Toronto, Solicitors for Vendors,

For further particulars apply to E. M. CHADWICK, BEATTY, Dated the 13th day of March, 1895, -- 54 2.

H'ARM TO SELL OR TO RENT .cultivation. For further particulars apply to M SWEYN & ANDERSON, Lindsay, March 19th, 1895. I OST .- On or about the 5th March

New Advertisements.

vill kindly leave or send word to CHAS. HARTLEY, Lindsay, Ont. March 19th, 1895,-54-4. LIOLSTEIN BULL FOR SALE .- The Township of FENELON. respect. McGEEBROS., Fenelon Falls P.O., Fenelon, March 5th, 1895.—52 4pd.

A BLACK and TAN BITCH HOUND and give such information as will lead to their recover

5,000 Acres Rough Pasture.

Farmers and Stock Raisers, Attention

The undersigned are prepared to take in Cattle Horses, all Ages, $1 per month. SECONDLY. - Lot Number 28, in the Eleventh Cattle, all Ages, 50c per month. Water, Grass and Shade guaranteed. Cattle to be Upon the property, which is about 11 miles from | branded in a clear, legible, legal and lasting manner, Fenelon Falls, and on the shore of Cameron Lake. A written description of each horse taken on are sald to be a Brick House, Frame Backed Barn | entrance. Owners risk all accidents and will be and out-buildings in good repair. About 190 acres | notified if accidents or sickness occurs, Money to be are in good state of cultivation and 12 acres in paid when stock are lifted. No pay, no cattle, No bulls, entire horses or breachy animals taken. Good The property will be offered subject to reserve bid, | fences, carefull handling and attention. No over-TERMS, - 10% of the purchase money will require | crowding -at least! three acres to a beast. The to be paid at time of sale, and balance according to pastures are watered by Balsam Lake, Raven Lake and Grass River, etc., to which stock have free access. Cattle branded at the "Fort" at the rate of five cents per head. For further particulars apply to LAIDLAW BROS..

The Fort, V ctoris Road, March 29th, 1895,-54-3.

Scott's

Anæmi with pale or or suffering or scrofulous relief in Sco of the stages general deck speedily cure takes away t that comes It enriches the appetite, and brings vitality. For C Bronchitis, We and Wasting D Send for our f Scott & Bowne, Bel Publis THE CA ADVEL cattle, teachers wan lines) $1 cash for

WILSON The C LINDSAY,

TRUTH

An Account Pair of Eye Relate Inc.

the Contin The first s of Europe

mined to about as Chicago, railroad

ery of the Great in

"I can

that, whi

Sam Reve in the arm tlesnake tains. pulling b jumped o their nat The doct stantly 8 It was th I felt sor an unco wrist sh He felt times th back to ten it. in peac a drun the spi man b is poss spiritu bulk o tain of