OWEN SOUND, March 2 (Special) .- Mr. Shipman tells his story in the hope that he may benefit others, and says :- As the result of a tumble when a boy which injured my back, I have been troubled with weak kidneys all my life. For the past year I have been a great sufferer, growing worse until a friendly druggist advised me to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Tests of the urine showed Diabetes and I realized my danger. I had found it impossible when tired to stand upright, and at such times was drawn down sideways. In all I have used about one dozen boxes and am now hearty and healthy as ever in my life. Death of an Old Resident.

The funeral of the late John De P. Rubidge took place on Monday, Feb. 24th Ray, J. C. Davidson and Ray, Mr. Stevenson conducted the services, while the pal bearers were Messrs. R. A. Morrow, T. A. Hay, J. D. Collins, W. H. Rackham, L. M. Hayes, and E. D. Orde, of Lindsay. The deceased gentleman, who was in his aighty-first year, was born in Wales, being the second son of the late. Cant. Babldge. the second son of the late Capt Rabidge, R.N. He came here with his parents a child, and with them settled in Otonabee. After his father became registrar of the county the deceased continued to reside in Otonabee, coming to town a few years ago. He leaves one son, John De P. Ru-bidge, of Iowe, and five daughters, Mrs. Drayton, of Gore's Landing, and others who reside in town. He was a member of the church of England and in politics was a conservative. An old resident of the district and a gentleman of excellent qualities, the deceased was widely known .- Raview.

Old Times in the North Country. Mr. Isaac Austin, reeve of Cardiff township, came to townlast Felday and remained over till next mcraing to transact some business. Mr. Austin and his late father were among the first settlers in that district-Indeed, when they arrived the only other settler was a man named Kent, who was killed some years later by a falling tree; his grave is yet to be seen on the banks of the Gull river. Mr. Austin sr., purchased a farm on the shore of Dark ake-a pretty little sheet of water situated about two miles from Wilberforce, and sfeer clearing a considerable area devoted h s efforts to growing hay and oats and raising cattle, the lumber shantles affording a profitable market. His son Isaacthe present reeve-devoted much of his spare time in these days to trapping and apare time in those days to trapping and hunting, and in the course of his wander tags became thoroughly acquainted with the topography of the country to the east and north. Later on he abandoned trapping for more profitable employment as bush ranger for some of the many lumbering firms then operating in the north country, and many a square mile of limits were bought upon his recommendation. When Mr. Pusey undertook the construction of the I. B. & O. R. R. to Bancroft Mr. Austin was selected to Bancroft Mr. Austin was selected to accompany the surveyors in their search for the most feasible line, and later on he explored the country lying east of Bancreft as far as Macoun lake, 75 miles east of Bancreft, the proposed terminus of the I. B. & O. R. R. Mr. Austin says there are great stretches of fine farming land through that region, and that the people of Lindsay should interest themselves in trying to secure the Bancroft trade in preference to booming the extension of the Haliburton line to the Mattawa.

The Curler's Ritual and Secret Pass Scottish Canadian: Whatever may be the practice among modern curling clubs, these fraternities in the days long gone by, had a kind of ritual with secret signs and a password. Regarding the Sarquhar Curling club, Dr. Taylor informs us that a dispute had arisen among the members as to which was the true curler word and grip, and the society found it necessary to issue an authoritative declara tion on the subject in the following terms:

"In order to prevent all disputes concerning the curler word and grip, the master, who is always present during his office, and the rest of the society, have agreed that the following shall be held and re-puted the curier words and grip of this

According to newspaper reports Rev. J. Pickering, a well-known Protestant minister, has been giving a dressing down to the young men and women who "cast sheep's eyes at one another" while skating. He is thus reported : "I make no impeachment. The pastime is as innocent as running, walking or wheeling. "But I once visited a rink in company with a friend, for the purpose of seeing gradually ran down, and until she comthe harm, if there was any, of young people attending this place of amusement. We saw them wheeling around and for the moment could see no harm. But by and by there came the promiscuous intermingling, the flirtations and the introductions, followed by the ball room intimacy. There was when the mischief came in." The reverend gentleman means well, but we think the fears that haunt him are largely creatures of his imagination. The "intimacies" of the skatingrink are not less discriminate than those of the church social and many other forms of "duly approved" entertainment. Besides, we have an idea that the brand of virtue that is only to be conserved by the establishment of a close board fence, or kind of dead-line, between the young men and maidens of the country, is not rugged enough to stand the vicissitudes of life in this bracing Canadian climate,
