-For some weeks it has been rumored among railway employees, says the Toronto News, that serious differences existed between the Grand Trunk and its telegraph operators. Reports have even stated that the latter were about to adopt similar steps to those taken by their brethren on the C. P. R. to obtain redress of grievances. Be that as it may, a general meeting was held in Montreal on Monday for the purpose of selecting a grievance Hays and ask that the inequalities complained of be rectified. Some of the alleged grievances are low wages, improper work and the introduction of American labor. It is understood that the operators are trying to obtain the co-operation of the other branches of the G.T R, service, such as the conductors, brakemen and engineers, and some of them think that joint action of all orders may be taken at no distant day.
