GOODERHAM. OBITUARY.-On Monday, Feb. 22nd, Glamorgan lost one of her earliest settlers, and one probably as well known as any person in the back country, in Charles Way of the Queen's hotel, Gooderham. He suffered intensely for many months from a cancer and bore his sufferings patiently, genial, kindly, pleasant and good-natured. Both he and Mrs. Way were well fitted to carry on the business they had built up and carried on so long, and it is much to be regretted that he was not spared longer to manage and enjoy the capacious, convenient and excellent building he had only just entered when taken sick. On Friday, the 26th, a large number of residents from both far and near assembled at the house for the funeral at Mr. Roblin Auderson's Messrs. service held by the Ray. Mr. Vance, at Cowieson and Chambers, of this village, which the Gooderham choir took part and have sold their popular French horse, the funeral procession was preceded by the Gooderham band, of which the deceased was a liberal petrop. > posa Christian Endeavorers, held in this church on Friday night, was a decided success. Though the number in attendacce was not very large, the program was an excellent one, all the addresses and papers being of a high literary and spiritual order. The meeting was opened at 8 p.m., the chair being taken by Rev. A. R. Delve, president of local C. E. Union. Rav. J. S. I. Wilson, B. A. of Wilfrid, made the opening address on "The relation of C. E. to Missions." It was fall of practical suggestions to all who desire missionary extension, and scathingly denunciatory of the churchs' callous indifference, social extravagance, and spirit of sectarianism, and earnestly urged prayer for, study of, and systematic giving to missions. The Rev. F. B. Stratton ably dealt with the subject 'How to interest our young converts in church and C. E. work," advising the church and C. E societies to first get them, then feed them, and afterwards set them to work. The closing address was by the popular pastor of Lindsay Baptist congregation, the Ray. 'C. E. Piedge and what it means;" taking first the pledge as a whole, and then clause by clause, the speaker threw much new and interesting light upon this most sacred spiritual obligation, and shows its deeper and truer meaning. This was Mr. Hughson's first appearance in this locality, and he left most excellent impressions, and we shall look forward with pleasure to another visit from him. Mr. William Suggitt, of Valentia, county president, read a paper on "The place and need of young men in our work," in which a clarion for more devoted youths was sounded, and their true sphere clearly pointed out Miss Libble Smith, of this village, contributed a paper on "Prevail-ing Prayer," and urged for a more persistent and systematic method of this fundamental power in C. E. effort. An interesting and profitable portion of the program was the handling of the "Question Drawer" by Mr. Alex. Horn, of Lindsay. Numerous ir quiries were put in, many of them dealing with crucial points of C.E. interest. Mr, Horn proved himself ready to answer, and ably disposed of many intricacies. The Valentia C.E. choir furnished an appropriate selection of music, the remaining pieces being congregational singing. We believe that all those who attended were perfectly satisfied with the excellent treat provided, and new zeal and energy in this important department of church work will no doubt be the direct result. The next convention will be held at Oakwood, probably in the month of PERSONAL.-Rev. J. S. TOO GOOD TO MISS! NO TIME TO LOSE!

Gough's Winter Wind=up.

These are Wind-up Days, and Gough Bros.' Slashing Cut in Clothing, Gentlemen's Furnishings, etc., to wind up the Winter Selling Season, is an extraordinary event too important to miss. Never since the days of Adam has good Clothing been sold so cheap as we're selling them now. A colossal stock of Glothing for Men, Youths and Boys at prices that revolutionizes the trade, and emphasizes the possibilities of this great emporium for clothing

THE STOCK MUST MELT.

The sudden thaw in prices must dissolve the Bargain Lots on Tables, Counters and Shelves, and the flood of bargains will lend spirit and snap to bargain lovers while they last. Our plan of campaign demands that all Winter Goods must be out of the way for Spring Arrivals. Besides we want to do our share in alleviating present distress by helping the farmer, the mechanic, the business man, the women and the youth.

New Spring Goods are rushing in upon us faster than we can place them, so we have decided to let the "hide go with the hair" until our big store is clear of winter lines.

More gigantic selling, forced on by tremendous buying, has never been planned, for we dump everything into this Colossal Sale at an average reduction all round of 20 Per Cent. below Manufacturer's Prices.

These bargains now stare you in the face, and what is worth emphasizing is that in all the lines we show a large variety of patterns and sizes in Clothing and Furnishings, It is not our policy to select two or three catch lines. You get the choice of the whole stock. You merely choose what you need-no question about the goodness of the material or workmanship.
