BRITISH CAPITAL TO OPEN UP NORTHWESTERN ONTARIO. In the legislature last Wednesday the mining bargain entered into by the Ontario government with the South African Gold Mining Syndicate -- an English company possessed of much capitalformed the subject of some discussion. The syndicate lease 64,000 acres of wild lands in Algoma, not yet explored, for three years. In the first year they spend and Mrs. Moses McIndoo, of Woodville, so on the lands in the second, are visiting at R Smith's; Mr. Wickett $30,000 on the lands; in the second, $40,000, and in the third, $50,000. If they find any mine als they must locate their claims, and apply for them in due form. The only advantage the company has is that they have a three years' option in this territory.

The arrangement has been regarded as a modified monopoly, but in the circumstances of the country it appears to be amply warranted. The administration regards this special effort to enlist British the very best advertisement of our natural not spend $120,000 in successfully developing the territory which they lease without effectively demonstrating the value of our resources to the world and influencing the investment of millions of dollars additional capital in Canada. On the other hand, if these men spend ing quantities in the strip that is assigned to them, it will be their loss and Ontario's delegate from the Methodist Sunday gain. Success we all hope that they will have, as their success would mean still greater things for the country at large.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Tuesday, June 22nd, has been relected by the imperial government as the day on which we hold the official celebration of her majesty's Diamond Jubilee.

On Saturday goods paying duty to the value of $1,200,000 were passed through the New York custom house. The rush is in anticipation of the higher duties expected in the new McKinley tariff.

Prominent members of the Dominion and Ontario governments were invited to attend the inauguration ceremonies at Washington. They were unable to but will probably work with a Lindsay kind feelings. I assure you that I am very accept, but the fact that the invitation firm. The family will be much missed, thankful to you, one and all, for the real was extended shows that all American politicians are not of the Corliss type.

Two immigrant agents have been appointed by the Laurier government, one for England and the other for Scotland. An outcry is being made because they are both grits. It really is too bad that the Laurier government should appoint grits to these positions when there are so many tories willing to take the job.

The Evening Telegram says :- "The guilt of intentionally misrepresenting the premier of Ontario is upon most of those papers which published the alleged list of Hon. A. S. Hardy's friends and relatives in office. The indignation of Mr. Hardy was justifiable, and the effect of the charges will be to strengthen him in the seed drills, etc., in this vicinity.....Mr. country, for the attack gave him a chance | 'Jack" Saunders returned to Lindsay on Concert.—The renowned musical Smith Family Concert Co., of Trenton, Ont., visited our circuit last week. They appeared at Pleasant Point on Tuesday, at Zion on Wednesday, and in the village on Thursday and Friday nights. The S. family are assisted by Prof. Nix and family, of Chicago. The members of the company are Mr. A. H. Smith, wife and three daughters; and Mr. J. W. Nix, daughter and two sons, and Mr. Norman E. Nix, manager in advance. The roads being in a rather poor condition, not many turned out on Thursday evening at the church, possibly 150. The ohief attractions were a ladies' band and orchestra, which did good execution: mandolin and guitar playing; staff bell and Swiss bell ringing by the Nix family, the latter bells being much more enjoyable than the staff bells. The rendition of "Blue Bells of Scotland" on the Swiss bells was excellent. The singing was fair to good, little Ada Nix doing very well, but Masters Bertie and Frankie Nix brought down the house in their carricature vocal duett, "Mr. and Mrs. Malone," CONCERT.—The renowned musical Smith Masters Bertie and Frankie Nix brought down the house in their carricature vocal duett, "Mr. and Mrs. Malone," and were forced to repeat. ## Gough's Winter Wind-up.

These are Wind-up Days, and Gough Bros.' Slashing Cut in Clothing, Gentlemen's Furnishings, etc., to wind up the Winter Selling Season, is an extraordinary event too important to miss. Never since the days of Adam has good Clothing been sold so cheap as we're selling them now. A colossal stock of Glothing for Men, Youths and Boys at prices that revolutionizes the trade, and emphasizes the possibilities of this great emporium for clothing the people.

THE STOCK MUST MELT.

The sudden thaw in prices must dissolve the Bargain Lots on Tables, Counters and Shelves, and the flood of bargains will lend spirit and snap to bargain lovers while they last. Our plan of campaign demands that all Winter Goods must be out of the way for Spring Arrivals. Besides we want to do our share in alleviating present distress by helping the farmer, the mechanic, the business man, the women and the youth.

New Spring Goods are rushing in upon us faster than we can place them, so we have decided to let the "hide go with the hair" until our big store is clear of winter lines.

More gigantic selling, forced on by tremendous buying, has never been planned, for we dump everything into this Colossal Sale at an average reduction all round of

These bargains now stare you in the face, and what is worth emphasizing is that in all the lines we show a large variety of patterns and sizes in Clothing and Furnishings, It is not our policy to select two or three catch lines. You get the choice of the whole stock. You merely choose what you need-no question about the goodness of the material or workmanship.
