A COACHMAN'S STORY.

"RHEUMATISM," said a leading physician not long since, "may altack anybody, but is especially the disease of age and poverty. The immediate cause is an irritant polson in the blood, which, becoming lodged in those parts of the system where the circulation has the least firee, sets up a more tion on the part of the atomsch and liver, and the amount of it in the system is increased by the inactivity of the excretive organs, particular'y the skie, bowels and

Assuming the correctness of this view. the following conclusion is clearly deductble from it, namely, that to relieve or ours | a case of rheumatism we should seek first, to prevent the formation of the poison by correcting the impaired digestion, and, second, to atimulate the skie, bowels and kidneys, that they may throw it off; or, in other words, we must bey to purify the blood. Outward applications. although they may, and do, mollify pain at certain inflamed spots, cannot, in the nature of things, eradicate the cause of the

"Sixteen years ago I had an attack c rheumatic gout which affected all my joints, giving me intense pain. My hands. feet and shoulders were puffed up and swollen, and for many weeks I suifored martyrdom. After this I was from time to time subject to rheumatism, which moved about my system, sometimes appearing in one part and then another. For five years I suffered like this. "In the autumn of 1885, whilst in the employment of a dector at Bayswat r as coachman, my eyes became affected and I was almost blind, not being able to see either the numbers or names of the streets I drove along. My eyes were like a p'ece of liver, and the doctor I was with sent me first to an eye specialist, and afterwards gave me a note, and I went to St. Mary's Hospital, Paddington, where I attended as an outdoor patient for nine months. "I was so bad I had to give up my amployment. The doctors at the hospital made a thorough examination of my eyes. and said they were sound, and that my gout. They gave me medicices and drops for the eyes, also placed blisters behind the ears and on the temples, but I was little better for anything.

"Some days I was better and then worse, and I feared I should lose my sight altogether. In July, 1883, my brother came to London on a visir, and urged me to try Mother Seigel's Syrup, as he thought it would drive the rheu natism out of my system. I got a bottle of this medicine from Whiteley's, in Westbourne Grove, and after taking two bottles I was wonderfelt better of myself. When I had taken six bottles I was well as ever, and have since been well. You can publish this letter, and refer any one to me. (Signed) Joseph Parker, 21, Blomfield Street, Westbourne Square, Bayswater, July 1st,

Mr. Parker is a respectable man worthy of implicit confidence. He is now in the employment of Mr. Whiteley, the famous purveyor, of whom he bought Mother Seigel's Syrup in the time of his necessity. The cure is certainly remarkable, and demenstrates the truth of the proposition, now admitted by the hightest medical authorities, that rheumatism is a disease of the blood, caused, at the root of it, by chronic dyspepsia and indigestion. Mother Seigel's Syrap, being the most successful medicine in the world for all ailments of the digestion, consequently prevents the girls. We wish Mr. Quibell success. further formation of the rheumatic poison, expels it from all places where it has produced inflammation in the body, and hence cures rheumatism. The reader will note that it is now ten years since Mr. Parker's recovery, during which period he has had no relapse. Therefore, the cure was real and radical.

Emperor William is reported to be showing signs of insanity. The news is sad, though not surprising. This bumptious young man undertook to run the government, direct the foreign and domestic policy of the nation, command the army and navy, stifle the press, chastise the socialists, write poetry, compose music, and be the father of his country generally. With so many wheels whirling at once in his head, a breakage of the mental machinery would be natural.

Regard to the Eastern Situation London, March 19 .- In the House of Lords to-day Lord Salisbury made a bitter criticism upon the speech delivered by the Earl of Kimberley, Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Rosebery Cabinet, at the meeting of the National Liberal Federation at Norwich Wednesday evening, in which he asserted that, "according to Lord Salisbury, the policy of France is also that of Great Britain, and is based upon the maintenance of the integrity of the Ottoman Empire." This assertion, Lord Salisbury said, was untrue. If, he continued, the policy of the Libe al party was to abandon the Ottoman Empire, it had been lately adopted. Lord Kimberley would probably again become Foreign Minister of Great Britain and in that event, he asked, would His Lordship then disregard the past policy of maintaining the integrity of Lord Kimberley replied that he had intended what he said to mean that the Liberal party would depart entirely from its past policy regard-dealer, St. Andrew street, Fergus, Lis week related to a representative of the News Record the sad story of the terrible suffering and sickness of his hith daughter Etla, his only child, now strong and healthy little maiden of to years of age. At the time of the child illness Mr. Post was a resident of Hamilton His story is substantially a follows:- "My daughter had been very delicate from childhood until about three years ago, and the money it cost me for doctor bills made me poor, as it was sedom she was without a doctor's care, and at times we have had as many as three doctors in attendance, and hope of saving her despaired of. The doctors succeeded in keeping her alive, but she wa gradually growing werse and we all thought she was going to die. Our regul lar physician had given up hope of say ing her life, and remarked that if it wer only warm weather, (it was then winter there might be a chance. But sever summers had paased since her birth an and she had gradually became feebles and my wife and I thought it was that called to a better home. About this true Dr. Williams Pink Pills were prominental brought to our notice through a cute the wrought in a neighbor's child I though I would give them a trial and so informed the doctor, but he only laughed at the idea of them helping her. However bought a box of the Pink Pills, and began giving them to her, half a pill at a time After a short treatment there was such a improvement that neither her mother me I could doubt that Dr. Williams Pin Pills were belping her, and 1 decided t abandon the doctor's services altogether The Pink Pill treatment was continue and although the progress towards healt and strength was necessarily slow, it wi none the less certain, and it was continue

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an a round-year medicine and are quite efficacious in the case of children as adults. They restore to the blood lacking constituents and make it rich, a and pure. In this way they strength the system and drive out disease. The are many cases like the above in whi this wonderful medicine has restor health and strength after the best medi advice had failed. The genuine P Pills are sold in boxes, the wrapper rou which bears the full trade mark, " Williams' Pit.k Pills for Pale People There are other pills colored pink, they are base imitations offered of
