With the use of a proper grade of fine salt and a better knowledge of packing, Canadian butter would speedily take the lead here.—English opinion.

BUTTER-MAKERS

USE THE BEST SALT,

IT IS IMPORTANT.

Shippers say so, and common-sense clinches it; the English buyer says so, and your reputations as makers of good butter that will sell at renumerative prices in the old country markets depends upon its use. Poorly salted butter will not keep. It would be hundreds of thousands of dollars in the pockets of Canadian farmers if they would attend to this matter of salt.

Now that the American market is practically closed to the Canadian farmer for many articles of produce, it is particularly necessary to study the requirements of the English dealers. Canadian Butter

It comes a little higher in price, of course, than the common, coarse article so generally used and condemned, but it pays in the end-There's really more money for us, as dealers, in handling the coarser grades, but it would not be like us-we always aim to keep the best. Try a sack of it this spring.

LAND SALT AND PLASTER.

Farmers who have not yet placed their orders for Land Salt and Plaster should do so now. We have Beamish's celebrated Grey Plaster in barrels and bags; the Land Salt is in sacks.

The extra yield gained well repays the use of these fertilizers. Something must be given back to the soil from which so much is taken.

COMMUNICATIONS. Better Crossings Needed.

SIR,-I have frequent business at the G. T. station, and was surprised yesterday on my way there to find a heap of dirt and gravel on one of the crossings on William-st. Surely it would be better that visitors would find good durable cedar block crossings than a dirt heap, or, as i will be the first wet day, a mud heap. The crossings on William-st. at both Russell and Glenelg sts. should be properly repaired. While I write on this let me say I am glad to note the repairs at Mr. Matthews' packing-house, but there are still two crossings on Cambridge-st., much used by all denominations on Sunday, that are very inconvenient in wet weather—thoe at Wellington and Bond-sts. These should at least be made as good as the one at Mr. Wm. Flavelle's corner.—Yours.

He named three creditable tories to "verify," as he calls it, his statements. I could, if necessary, name double that number to verify my statements as given in The Post. I will leave the next statement of the figures, shewing expenses the next statement of the figures of the figures of the figures of the figure of th it now with the public to judge between us in the rest of his statements. The editorial staff of the Warder also tried to raise some dust. They wish to call attention to one who has declared his intention of becoming an American citizen. It appears to me that the Warder staff are poor grammarians. One's intention of becoming anything refers to the future and not to the present. I must be five years here and take out my second papers before I will be a naturalized citizen of the States. I cannot vote for a president until then. was only eight months away from my home in Canada till I went back again to my home at Glenarm and paid taxes and statute labor. I voted a few days after doing so. I am always willing to forgive ignorant and illiterate men, such as the Warder staff are, and try to get them to be better informed. I would advise them now to send over here and procure a copy of Sam Hughes' declaration and they will be as well equipped as Duncan himself.
The only difference between Sam and I is that he failed to accomplish his intention, but I am on the way to accomplish mine. Duncan said that after giving the oath of being a British subject I added thereto of my own accord "I am not an American citizen." Even if I did I would be right, for I was a citizen of Glenarm, where my home was, with my wife and some of my family. I trust, Mr. Editor, that this wil satisfy Duncan and the Warder staff, and that they will be enabled to understand the difference between the present and future

Q. B. AND C. P. DIVISIONS.

[Before STREET, J.] FULFORD V. HOWE.-Hoyles, Q.C., the plaintiff, George Taylor Fulford, of the town of Brockville, druggist, moved for injunction restraining the defendants, S. L. Howe and W. A. Howe, from selling pills in imitation of those sold by the plain-tiff under the name of "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," and thereby infringing the plaintiff's trade mark for such pills registered under that name, which, the plaintiff alleges, by reason of his exten sive advertising, is well known throughout Canada. Judgment granted for a perpetual injunction.

An old adage has it that "imitation is the sincerest flattery," but when imitation public worthless, perhaps positively harmful drugs, in imitation of a popular rem edy, it is quite time the public is aroused to a sense of the injustice done them. There is no other proprietary remedy in Canada to-day that approaches Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the esteem and confi dence with which it is regarded by the people. And justly so, as this remedy has to its credit cures in cases where even the most eminent men in the ranks of medical science had pronounced the patients incurable. These cases have been thoroughly investigated by such leading newspapers as the Toronto Globe, Hamilton Times, Spectator and Herald, Halifax Herald Detroit News, Albany Journal, LeMonde, Montreal, and others, and their accuracy vouched for. Thus Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have achieved a continental reputation, with the result that we find dealers here and there imposing upon the public by selling, in their stead, for the sake of extra profit, worthless imitations. These customer by declaring that he can give him something "just as good." In still other cases Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are be difficult to make. LINDSAY, April 5th, 1892 My DEAR DR.,—The Watertown Water-works Company have secured the franchise of this town to build waterworks; however, just now there is a hitch and they may not sign the contract. I see in looking over the report of your Trenton convention that you state that the town of Brantford built and own their waterworks, and in doing so have saved $100,000. May I ask you in what way? I am also aware that the Waterworks act allows the sale of bonds, which will I think in all cases exceed the amount necessary to erect and finish waterworks. In our town $80,000 is the amount. I am quite sure the works can be completed for $60,000 at the outside, Is there any way by appointing commissioners or letting the contract that the municipality can take the place of a private company or benefit by the margin? This is an important matter to us, as we greatly need sewerage as well, and the difference between the actual price necessary to construct and the sale of bonds would be acceptable to improved sewerage. I will be much obliged if you will explain or will give any further information that may be of benefit in discussing the question of private company vs. municipal control. Yours, E. GRIFFIN, M.D., P. We have reduced the rates from $5 to $4 net for houses of five rooms. I do not consider the revenue as over half developed yet, but even at its present rate the whole debt and interest would be paid off in 40 years. I think the Brantford works would be a good investment to purchase, the present low tariff to be continued, at $400,000.00.

In the last budget the estimate of expenditure was £99,264, The actual expenditures were £98,-928,000, leaving a surplus of £336,000. This was a remarkably small difference between the estimates and actual expenditures. The total estimates of expenditures during the last three years was £264,000,000. The total difference in the expenditures was only £137,000. Analyzing the revenue, takes the form of palming off upon the Mr. Goschen said that the customs produced £19,736,000, being £36,000 above the sum calculated upon. It was not alcohol that caused the increase this year, but tobacco. The revenue tax from tea was exceedingly satisfactory, yielding £34,000 ever the estimates. Tobacco produced £9,953,000, being £418,000 above the previous year. All this, Mr. Goschen declared, proved that wages had not fallen and that there was still widely diffused prosperity among workingmen. The increase in the consumption of home spirits was greater in England than in Ireland or Scotland. Mr. Goschen estimated the revenue for the current financial year at £90,477,000, and the expenditure at £90,-253 000, leaving the small margin of £224, 000. Mr. Goscheu said he held himself responsible for the prudence of estimate. The mighty river of national prosperity still remained broad and he trusted the various watersheds of national wealth would continue the stream undiminished in volume.

A GAMBLING DEBT CASE. -The case of Doble v. Webb heard at Whitby Monday before Judge Burnham, was found highly interesting. Webb keeps a licensed hotel at Uxbridge, and last summer spent several nights playing poker at his hotel with one Morgan, alias Herriman, from Owen Sound. In the end Morgan had Webb's note for $250, and this note he sold to one Doble of Toronto. When the note became due and payment was demanded Webb refused to honor it, claiming that it was given as a gambling debt and was illegal, Doble proved by Morgan that Webb borrowed the money straight from him and asserted that he owned a farm and his Lotel. One Armstrong, who was consulted by Morgan before loaning the money, testified that he saw the transaction, and that it was regular enough. The testimony was conflicting from the gamblers on both sides, but the judge gave judgment for plaintiff for the note and costs. THE WHITBY Assizes. -The spring assizes opened Tuesday before Mr. Justice Rose. There were several important cases. The crown business was conducted by Mr. Hugh O'Leary, Q. C., Lindsay. The only case gone into Tuesday was an action brought on by Dr. Nation of Uxbridge to medical attendance upon the family of Henry Jones, a wealthy hardware mer-chant of Uxbridge. It appears that defendant's wife was for years a victim of the morphia habit, and that in 1888 Jones inserted warnings in the local papers of Uxbridge forbidding all parties to trust his wife on his account. Besides this, special written notices to this effect were served upon Dr. Nation and some others. the house in all ways except providing fuel. Later on Jones called Dr. Nation in this narrowed the case down to the bill for attendance on defendant's deceased wife. The jury gave a verdict for the full amount
