be addressed to C. E. Editor, care Canadian Post, Lindsay. [Conducted by the Christian Endeavor Editor.]

PUBLIC WORK The subjoined paper was read by Miss Minnie Clarke of Fenelon Balls at the county convention of Christian Endeavor Societies in Lindsay, on February 19th, The two great wants in our societies generally are speech and action. It ought not to be so, as each active member is pledged to act and speak for Christ and His church. authorities are taking all precautions to How this can be effected in public will be the object of this paper. In the short space allotted for this important theme, I feel I cannot do it the justice it demands. Public work is one of the greatest factors in increasing and maintaining the efficiency of the work in which we are engaged. This is not only true of secular organizations but of those who have the salvation of their -The London Chronicle's St. Petersburg | fellow creatures at heart. It may be said that the former makes good its existence by the quality-not so much the quantity -of the public good it effects. This, I consider, the endeavor movement has achieved; but perfection is still in the future. so much has been accomplished in ten years, and that with a much smaller number than we now have, how much more will be done is for us to determine by our own personal efforts. Let us ever rememthey did so under orders from Captain | ber that our extremity will be God's opportunity. God will bless and prosper us in the use of all legitimate means, personal and otherwise. In this phase of our work the public life must be in harmony with attention of those we seek to benefit. Generally, it is not the Christianity of Christ either manifested by Him in word or action, but the Christianity exhibited thus by us. This I regard as the fundamental attend our services or meet in our daily -A sad drowning accident occurred in vocations. This also enables the young Christian speaker, or worker, to speak freely and fearlessly. The truth not only believed, but lived, makes us free. A heart that is pure has a two-fold benefit, it perceives Jesus and reflects His likeness. This is a mode of Christian being that is more potent and permanent than that of speech. It behooves us, who would proclaim saving and keeping grace, to demonstrate it by our behaviour as well as by our lips. The attainment of this is acquired by watchfulness and prayerfulness. We know Christ -Warnings enough have been afforded just in the same way as we know these abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh," "for as the man thinketh in his

Is it not ac? The love of Christ constrains us to reveal a full-orbed life. There is an irresistible but in the rethe rulers of the Jews imprisoned Peter | thou? and John, and when these two apostles stood up to be examined by their enemies, "tock knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus." Was their perception right? I think so from the utterance which falls from the lips of Peter and John when they state that, "We cannot but speak the things that we have seen and heard. These apparently had no trouble in preaching or witnessing Christ and His church. Two things are evident here:-First, they had been with Jesus, in fact, Christ was in them and thus speaking through them. Secondly, "they cannot but speak." I+ this experience ours? If we follow the same conditions we shall become conscious fice, "Who made man's mouth." Cannot the maker of our mouths touch with elcquence the lips which he has fashioned. We are not to look at what we are, but at what God is. Our call to His work is the guarantee of all needful qualifications. Timidity may become cowardice; and self-distrust degenerate into atheism. "We walk by faith, not by sight." We are saved by hope. Let us remember that it is only those who are living the life more abundantly that can bless others. God must first bless us before He can make us a blessing. No manufacturer ser de us as a pattern of the commodi ies he has sell, a poor sample. Neither does God. We are His witnesses. Are we good or bad ones? The best evidence for Christ and His church is a live Christian on whom God's blessing rests. It is so in the earliest revelation Jehovah gives us as far back as Genesis. God made the name of Abram great, and said, "Thou shalt be a blessing." Now are we prepared for the blessing? The question is vital, and consequently all important. Is it not true that those who are our bosom friends, and from whom we have received material blessings, are the very individuals whom we secome elequent over, and even defend when their goodness is questioned, whether in public or private. Why, fellow-worker, should we be silent about Jesus, our best, truest, bosom friend? Can you or will you answer this? There should be no more difficulty in witnessing by word or deed for Him than -While the workmen were clearing for earthly friends. If we are weak He
