-In the jury trial of Mr. Durcher against the Mos treat Star for liber, which has been in progress for several days before the superfor court, the jury returned a verdict condemning the Star to pay $250 damages. -Two petition, prepared by Mrs. John Rockwell of Kingston, and signed by 18,000 Canadian woman, are to be presented to the Dominion parliament asking for the extension of the franchise to the weaker

-Miss Lizzle Love and her father secured verd on for $500 and $700 against Robt. Johnson of Aldborough for breach of promise and seduction respectively. Now Robert has sortled the claims by marrying Miss Love.

-Byron Adoins, one of the most advanced adepts in Buddhism, was cremated at Los An eles, Cala., on Friday, and in accordance with the ceremontes of his religion his ashes were taken into an open field and sestiered to the four winds.

chair over a posthole made by Western | Annie O'Leary. Union workmen opposite her father's home and deliberately and firmly sat down and held the chair in place while her father obtained an injunction against putting a telegraph pole where he did not want it.

-The remarkable birds of Manitobs are described in the new volume of the "Proceedings of the United States National Museum." In the spring season of the year thousands of prairie larks there salute the day by bursting all together in a splendid ex losion of song, pouring out their rich, strong voices from every little height and perch, singling with all their might. They sing all day, and at night joyously hail the moon.

-The authorities in Orangeville have complied with Mr. Justice Falconbridge's suggestion about baying the cost of arms painted in their court, "Scotty" McPher-son, a printer, was flited full and seat to gaol for thirty days. During his incacera tion he was put to work to paint the arms. The Advertiser says the work is beautiful. The same job cost Owen Sound $150. All it cos; Dufferin was "Scotty's" bed and board for thirty days.

-While an old man named Cailler, living at Grenville Bay, up the Ottaws, was engaged in boiling cap he accidentally fell into the botting fluid. Although fearfully burned he managed to get out and make his way to his home, on reaching which he became unconscious. When his clothes Were removed the whole flesh from the neck downwards came off with them, leaving all the bones of the body exposed. The old man lingered in terrible agony for a few hours and then expired.

-Frederick Paillips of Paris, Ont., several years ago began to suffer from peculiar pains in the stomach. At times the pain was most severe and his life was despaired of. He had been a confirmed invalid for two years. His belief was that some kind of animal was inhabiting his stemach, but his physicians ridiculed this idea and doctored him for indigestion. Mr. Phillips became at times temporarily insane. During the years of suffering the idea that he had awallowed an animal while drinking still lingered in his mind, and finally he began to doctor himself. A few days ago he took a dose of strong liniment, and the pain was lessened. He took a second dose, and there came from him a short time afterwards a full grown lizard

The civil suit entered by Mr. Lewis A. Wright and his wife, Jessie A. Wright, of London, Ont., against nine druggists of that city, is gradually assuming a more serious aspect. The ground for the suits is that the defendant sold Mrs. Wright, from time to time, larger quantities of the tineture of opium (laudanum) than the law permits. Esturday she called in her solicitor and made a dying declaration to him that she believed she was dying, and that, in case of death, the cause was attributed to the defendants selling her the laudanum and not telling her the effects of drinking the poisonous fluid. When her solicitor called on her first she was unable to speak and did not recognize him.

As yet property owners have not signified a desire to re-build, but when they are in receipt of their insurance they may take a more cheerful view of the situation There is scarcely any question but the fire was the work of an incendiary, and this is the third disastrous one in this village from presumably the same cause within the past two years. The result is that over three acres, formerly the active and business part of the place, is now covered by the rubbish of the late disastrous fires. There have been no efforts made to unearth the fire-bug, but good citizens are cautious and discuss the question in on undertone, lest vengeance should be wrecked on their own property. It looks as if this unholy warfare will be kept up unless some decisive steps are taken by law abiding citizens and enforced by the reeve and council There was the usual amount of pilfering indulged in, but fires are of such common occurence that our professional sneak thieves have become notorious and are now watched There was no effort made to check the fire, all attention

Of the worst foes that woman has ever had to encounter wine stands at the head. The appetite for strong drink in man has destroyed the lives of more women-ruined more hopes for them, brought to them more shame, sorrow and hardship-than any other evil that lives.

The country numbers tens of thousands -nay, hundreds of thousands-of women who are widows to-day, and sit in hore. less weeds, because their husbands have died by strong drink. There are hundreds of thousands of homes, scattered all over the land, in which women live lives of torture, going through all the changes of suffering that lie between the extremes of fear and despair, because those whom they love love wine better than the women they have sworn to love. There are women by thousands who dread to hear at the door the step that once thrilled them with pleasure, because that step has learned to pain while we write these words from bruises and brutalities inflicted by intoxicated husbands. There can be no exaggeration in any statement made in regard to this matter, because no human imagination can create anything worse than the truth, and no pen is capable of portraying the truth. The sorrows and the horrors of a wife with a drucken husband, or a at lowest rate of Interest and easy terms of mother with a drunken son, are as near the realization of hell as can be reached in amounted to serious charges against this world at least.
