-A quiet wedding wascelebrated at St. Paul's church Tuesday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, Mr. George Finlay, manager in Mr. Neill's shoe store, and Miss Minnie Wheeler, daugh ter of the late J. J. Wheeler, being the contracting parties. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Marsh. Miss Goodwin was bridesmaid, and Mr. Archie McIntyre acted as "best man." St. Paul's choir, in recognition of the fact that the bride had formerly been a member were present, and furnished appropriate music for the happy event. The presents were numerous and many of them valuable. We extend the young couple our congratulations.

wholly insectivorous and do no harm. Many birds have been driven away by the sparrows; and it is too bad that the boys and young men should assist the little pests. Sturgeon Point is no doubt a favorite nest-building resort for our bird visitors from the South, and the summer residents there should take action to punish the bird destroyers. If we are not mistaken there is a penalty for shooting insectiverous birds. An example should be made, if necessary, to impress the fact on the minds of the young vandals who indulge in unsportsmanlike

Many enquiries are heard as to when operations will actually commence, and we may answer "just as soon as the first train of iron arrives." It would be folly to open up the streets until the piping is at hand for laying. We understand that the iron is now on the way. It is the present intention of Mr. Calkins to do the whole of the work by day labor. —A bag of grain fell off a load being hauled up William-st. Tuesday afternoon. The driver was too lazy to carry the bag to the vehicle, and essayed to back the horse up to it, the result being that the remainder of the load was upset into the ditch. The language he made use of on the occasion is not to be found in any of the standard dictionaries of the English language.

—Mr. James Montgomery of Bobcaygeon is at present devoting all his spare time and energy to the catching of eels, of which large numbers are taken nightly at Needler's mill in that village. Some of these he salts down, and he also smokes a large quantity. Prepared in the latter way they are said to be particularly captivating to the palate. Large quantities of auckers are also being salted down for future consumption.

a Tuesday afternoon last Mr. Wm. Henry, employed in Rathbun & Co.'s sawmill at the lower wharf, while edging lumber, happened to allow his left hand to approach too close to the saw, with the result that he lost the little finger. Dr. Degrassi dressed the wounded member. Fortunately Mr. Baker, the manager, had sent in applications for accident insurance from all the men under him, and Mr. Henry will consequently receive $5 per week while unable to do his usual task.

-Mr. Jos. Wilson, the town poundkeeper, is at present somewhat extensively engaged in stock-raising. Sunday last while taking his usual quiet walk he meandered into the midst of a herd of twelve head of cattle, three sheep and one lamb, and was perforce obliged to impound the lot at once, as a by-law prohibits cattle running at large in town. -The new rifle range situated north of the town was opened Queen's birthday. About 2 H. Hopkins, reeve of Ops. proceeded to the ground and took the first shot at the bull's-eye, after which the usual match took place. Some remarkably good shooting was done at the dif-ferent ranges, Mr. W. H. Stevens being particu-larly complimented. In the opinion of all the marksmen the new range is much superior to the old one, as the sun shines on the targets

An adjourned meeting of the town fathers was held Monday evening to receive a detailed report from the street and bridge committee. A largely signed petition was presented asking that a by-law be passed compelling the closing that a by-law be passed compelling the closing of stores at six p.m. during the summer months, and the request was acceded to without discussion. The usual guarantee fund of $200 was granted to the South Victoria agricultural society, and Mr. James Keith was appointed a member of the board of health in the room and stead of Mr. J. W. Wallace.

Our lacrosse team drove out to Cannington on the 24th to play for a silver cup offered for competition between Port Perry, Lindsay and Cannington clubs. The ground was not in good condition for the match owing to the recent rains. Lindsay drew Port Perry and was defeated after a hard struggle, some rough play being indulged in on both sides. band was a most enjoyable affair and was well attended. The band, which now numbers seventeen players, rendered some choice selections, and the applause given was well deserved. It is intended to hold these concerts at regular intervals during the summer in order to provide a fund for the purchase of new instruments. The leader hopes to have the band about thirty strong in a few months, as many of the old members are again joining. The Emma Wells Co. appeared in the opera house Friday and Saturday evening last to small audiences, due partly to unfavorable weather. Miss Wells, if anything, has improved, and her singing in four voices—baritone, soprano, tenor and alto—with a range of voices of three octaves and four notes, was the occasion for a rapturous encore. Her piano solo itself showed remarkable ability.
