TO THE NIGHTINGALE. O Nightingaie, that on you occulay spray Warblest at eve, when all the woods are still;

Thou with fresh hopes the lover's heart dost fill; While the jolly hours icad on propinous may. The liquid notes that close the eye of day, . First heard before the shallow cuckoo's bill, Portend success in love; O, if Jove's will

Have linked that amorous power to the soft lay, Now timely sing, ere the rude bird of hate Fortell my hopeless doom, in some grove nigh; As thou from year to year hast sung too late, For my relief, yet hadst no rea on why:

Whether the Muse or Love, call thee his mate, Both them I serve, and of their train am I.

DUNSFORD. Correction. - In last week's Post there Merrill upon the scalding of whey in cheese factories, and several errors were noticeable. The percentage of butter fat left in the whey should have read 2.10 to 2.101 per cent. instead of 2 to 21 per cent., and "vassine" was substituted for cassine. The difference in percentage is very important.

RETURNED .- Mr. Henry Pearce has re- | O. L. No. 120 having secured the services turned from Fenelon Falls, where he has of Mr. C. G. Armstrong, comic vocalist, been residing for some years past, and is occupying the residence lately vacated by Mr. A. P. Brownscombe. The sentiment "There is no place like home," is clearly proven. We heartly welcome him and his happy family back into our midst.

NORTH MARIPOSA. [Correspondence of THE POST.] ENTERPRISE -Mr. Peter Brown of the 12th con. has purchased the north half of lot 14, adjoining his farm, from J. H. For-Greate. The figure is not known but Mr. Brown intends to put it in first class condition as a grezing farm for his large stock of fine cattle, to which he has just added a magnificent Durham bull, purchased from D. Jackson of Eldon.

FENELON FALLS. SUDDEN DEATH .- A terribly sudden death took place here Wednesday. Mrs. Vickerman Petch of Burnt River came to the Falls by the morning train to get medicine for a disease of the heart with which she had been troubled for three or | cept challenges from the larger clubs four years; and immediately after dinner, which she took at Mr. Edwin Wood's, near the railway station, she suddenly fell forward and expired almost instantly. Mr. S. Brokershire drove full speed for Dr. Graham, who was at the bouse in a few minutes, but of course could do nothing.

TORONTO. FATAL ACCIDENT .- About 9 o'clock Monday morning a fatal accident occured on Main-st. west. David McLean, an employe of John Mills, 91 Main-st. west, was engaged in loading glass on a waggon, when the horse bolted and ran away. McLean jumped or was thrown off the waggon and started at once for Dr. Storms' office near by, while Mills was engaged in catching the horse. On arriving at the doctor office McLean fell fainting on the floor and an examination revealed that blood was gushing from a wound in his thigh. Storms telephoned for Dr. Leslie and did everything he could for him, but it was found, that the main artery of leg was cut and the doctors removed a piece of glass 51 inches long and half an inch wide from the wound. He died shortly after.

The active principle of the several elements most essential to the healthy maintenance of life is presented in these pills in the most highly concentrated form at tainable-elements which have intimate relations with every fluid and solid of the body, but in far greater measure having to We feel he is fully capable of correcting do with that subtle energy centred in the

These symptoms are as various as the constitution, and the inherited or not see through a picket fence with all the accidental tendency of the individual afslats off should mind their own business. fected. But what matters the name of these effects if we are able to reach and control the cause?

Of all causes of disease and suffering the chief is faulty nutrition, and this, not tecause people do not eat enough, but rather because of the fallure of the organs to properly make use of what is eaten. This failure to act, again, is not the fault of weakness in the organs of assimilation or purification, such as the stomach, liver and kidneys, as was long improperly supposed: It is rather the absence of power in the nerve centres which regulate these organs. Thence has arisen an entirely new treatment consisting of restorative foods for the nervous system. The motive forces controlling and moving all the organs of the body into healthy actions are stored in the delicate tissues, or cells of the ganglia, or nerve centres. These are composed of the finer, the infinitely at tenuated matter, akin to the spirit of the foods we partake of generally, better understood when we say nerve food, such as the extraordinary nervine qualities contained in Celery, the quintessence of which enters into the composition of these Pille.

The discoveries of the chemist as well as the experience of the physician have estabished the fact that healthy life is impossible when certain elements are absent from the blood. Certain forms of Iron have specific action on the red corpuscies, and a richness and purity of the blood. Iron is therefore prescribed in the recovery from acute diseases, fevers, malaria and all forms of debility. Tone, vigor or elasticity either of mind or body, depends upon the Oxygenization of the blood, and varies with it because Oxygen is essential to every mental or bodily function. Oxygen is the fuel, and must be ever present in abundance to run the machinery of the body at a uniform speed. When great strain has occurred, and the store is drawn upon too rapidly, the importance of rebuilding and restoring is important.

The achievement of absolute harmony of essential elements has been reached in Dr. Harte's Celery Iron Pills. We have effected a happy combination of Nervine Nutritives and Tonics, forming a perfect nerve food as easily assimilable by the delicate child, the debilitated invalid, as by the athlete in training for a race requiring super-human effort. To sum up the arguments in favor of the Kidney troubles, heart failure, and all the minor symptoms presented at different stages of these diseases. Nervous debility and general debility. The least informed person can see at a glance that all these diseases are symptoms of almost a single cause, nervous prostration, to which Celery Iron Pills are adapted from their very nature as a nerve food.

Dr. Harte's Colery Iron Pills are put up in a neat metallic case, thus perfectly protecting them from dampness or other causes of deterioration. These cases also perfectly adapt them to be carried on the person, so that regularity of taking is insured, no matter what the occupation. Directions: - These pills have their best

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1893 THE REMARKABLE CASE OF

LITTLE GEORGIE VEALE. After Three Years of Illness His Friends Despaired of His Recovery-Rustora. tion Came When Hope Had Almost Fled-The Little Fellow is Now as

Lively as a Cricket-A Story That Will Bring Hope to Other Parents. Woodville Independent. The Independent has published from time to time the particulars of some very remarkable cures following the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These cases have been so fully verified as to leave no doubt that this now universally favorite remedy is one of the greatest medical achievements of an age that has been remarkable for the wonderful discoveries of science. Possibly some of our readers may have thought that the virtues of this medicine have been exaggerated, but there are many among them who can testify to its virtues, and now The Independent is enabled to give the particulars of a cure occurring in our village quite as remarkable as any that has hitherto been published, and which may be so easily verified by any of our readers that skepticism must be silent. We had heard that little Georgie Veale had been cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as all our people know, that little boy had been ill for a long time and his recovery was thought to be hopeless. The report of his cure therefore created so much astonishment that we resolved to ascertain the facts, and accordingly we called upon Mr. Veale to get the particu lars. Mr. George Veale has been a resign dent of this village for years, is a waggon maker by trade, and is well known to out citizens, as well as to most of the people of the surrounding country. He has a family of young children who unfortuntely lost their mother some six years ago. One of these children, named Georgie, is about seven years of age, and some three years ago was taken ill and has since been practically helpless, and as a result much sympathy was felt for the family owing to the children being motherless. The case of the little fellow was considered hopeless and no one ever expected to see him able to rise from his bed again. On asking Mr. Veale about the report we had heard of the boy's recovery, he said it was quite true, and expressed his willingness to give us the particulars, declaring that he had no hesitation in saying that it was owing to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that the lad was now better. He said that some two and a half years ago little Georgie was taken ill with inflammation of the bowels, annd received good medi-

and several small pieces of bone came out He could take but very little susten ance, and for seven months could no stand on his feet. He had to remain it bed or be carried about in his sister arms. All the medicine he got did him no good and his case was given up a hopeless, and it was thought that h would not long survive. Mr. Veale had read; of the wonderful cures effected by the use of Pink Pills and decided that al things else having failed he would tr what they would do for his boy. Accord ingly he purchased some at Fead's dru store, and began giving them to his son After about two weeks he found that there was an improvement in his cond tion, which warranted the further use the Pink Pills, and accordingly he pro cured anot' er supply. "And now," sai his fathe, "the little fellow is running about as lively and as mischievious ever." "There is no doubt about the matter," said Mr. Veale, "Pink Pil cured my boy when all other remedia had failed, and I am glad to give th information so that it may be of benefit t cal treatment. After being ill for some time the trouble seemed to take a new form and settle in his bones, which became diseased. During the summer he got a little better, but when winter set in h was taken down, and the disease became worse. Swelling arose over the body

We called upon Mr. Fead, the druggis and asked him his opinion of Dr. Wil iams' Pink Pills. He said that the d mand for them was so great as to l astonishing, and that these who once u them buy again, thus proving their valu Mr. Fead said he sold more Pink Pil thrn any other remedy, and the deman is still increasing, and he thought tetter evidence could be given of the value as a medicine than this.
