LINDSAY, FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1896.

IN NORTH VICTORIA.

The campaign in North Victoria is progressing most favorably for the reform candidate, Mr. McLaughlin is well-known and highly respected, and has made a capital impression at the series of meetings he has held. He is an excellent speaker and has the ability, not only to make his mark in the new house, but to command the respect and confidence of parliament, just as he commands the respect and confidence of the community where he is known. The Tupper remedialist candidate finds it difficult to explain his "wobbling" course in parliament in the school debate, and there are so many difficulties in connection with other political matters that he is kept busy explaining and defending. Mr. Delamere is giving him a hard time and is smiting him hip and thigh. Mr. Delamere is making an effective canvass and will come in a fair second, with "Robert J." a good way ahead.

WORKING THE CANAL.

The wobbling coercion candidate in North Victoria must be having a very hard time of it when he is compelled to resort to the T. V. canal in order to try to make political support. We have been informed from many quarters that it is impossible to get work on the canal as laboring men without a recommend from the Remedialist Tupper candidate, or unless the applicant is known to be all right. That is carrying things very far. Such practices have never been heard of before. We have received the following card which speaks for itself. The name of the bearer is omitted. The signature will be recognized as genuine by any one who knows it and who wishes to see it.

LINDSAY, May 2nd, 1896

DEAR MR DENNON,—The Bearer, Mr. ————, of Eldon, is desirous of obtaining employment on the Trent Canal Works. He is a deserving man. By giving him work you will greatly oblige me,—
Faithfully, SAM HUGHES.

To Mr Dennon, contractor, Kirkfield.

THE FIRST MEETING.

The first meeting in the campaign for Mr. McHugh, held last night in Lindsay, was a decided success. Hon. Geo. W. Ross gave a brilliant and masterly review of leading public questions, and fully maintained his high reputation as one of the finest public speakers in Canada. His discussion of fiscal questions was clear and convincing, and his exposition of the reform policy as to the tariff and as to questions of revenue and expenditure showed that all the great interests of the country would be safe with reform leaders in power. He showed in the most convincing way that the time had come for a change; that the extravagance and corruption that had so long prevailed would be intensified under the Tupper regime; that coercion was unwise and dangerous; that economy, prudence, honest expenditure, investigation and conciliation were required, and would be the policy of the reform leader. Mr. Ross's speech was one that many conservatives would applaud and act upon, and it will have a powerful effect upon the public mind in this riding.

A feature of the evening was the first address by the venerable Thomas Ray, of Ops, (now in his 88th year) who bore warm testimony to the worth of Mr. Geo. McHugh and his father and other relatives, and especially to their courageous adherence to reform principles under the most trying circumstances.

Mr. Geo. McHugh made a most effective address. He dealt in a clear way with general questions, and then, with a manly courage and candor that received rounds of hearty applause, he denounced the unworthy attempts that had been made to turn electors against him by appeals to religious prejudices. These tactics had not been openly displayed, but along the side lines and on street corners, where it would be safe and quiet for the time. The ignoble appeal was, "Could you vote for a Roman Catholic like Geo. McHugh?" and sundry strong descriptive terms were added by these parties to make the appeal more effective. Mr. McHugh's plain speaking, and his pointed reference to a personage no less than the president of the conservative association of South Victoria, and, well known doctor, prominent and active in the conservative ranks, as leading offenders in this discreditable course, were quickly appreciated and heartily applauded by the audience. Mr. McHugh did well to denounce such unworthy tactics. His declaration as to his own course in regard to the leading public question of the day was clear and manly, and characteristic of the courageous man who addressed the electors. George McHugh is no "wobbler" or trimmer, his course is clear, and every one can understand it. It is worthy of the support of the electors, and we believe this support and confidence will be given in such generous measure that George McHugh will be placed at the head of the poll by a majority that will be a lesson to those who are making unworthy appeals against him. Such we believe will be the answer of the people of Canada of all classes to the unworthy appeal of Sir Chas. Tupper not to place in power a Frenchman and a Roman Catholic who would go further than he had gone in remedial legislation. The reformers never raised against Sir John Thompson the question of his religion. It is an ignoble appeal, and it should be frowned upon and stamped out.

"WOBBLING" AND "JOLLYING."

The Toronto World, a tory paper opposed to the Tupper remedial bill, has some general observations on papers and politicians that are wobbling on the great question of the day and trying to "jolly" or humbug the electors. These observations might be read with interest by Dr. Vrooman and his political friends, and with profit by the conservative electors whom they expect to jolly or humbug. We do not imagine they will be able to deceive any reform electors by such transparent tactics, just as we do not believe they will influence any electors—reform or conservatives—by discreditable appeals to religious prejudices, after the manly and courageous way in which Mr. McHugh expressed his opinions at the opening meeting in Lindsay last Friday night.

A good many of the Tupper tory politicians have evidently been trying to get the World to keep quiet, to say as little as possible, to make no pledges, "to run with the hare and hunt with the hounds," and so on, so as to avoid coming out on the school question, just as Dr. Vrooman is trying to work it in South Victoria. To all these the World replies as follows:

"But there are a number of conservatives in this country and in this city who, while they may be well intentioned, appear to imagine that the people of Ontario, the people of Toronto, the press of Toronto, the great bulk of the conservatives of Toronto, are not in earnest, that they really do not care two buttons whether remedial legislation passes or not, and that they will vote for any man in the coming election, provided he is a conservative. These same gentlemen go the length of asking newspapers that have convictions, and voters who have convictions, to suppress them for the time being, and go with the party on the understanding that it'll be all right in the end. The try to "hurrah" them or "jolly" them.

Now, we cannot quite understand these gentlemen. They are trying to humbug us all. And the people of Ontario, of Toronto, the conservatives of Toronto, are not in the humor of being humbugged.

The World therefore begs to extend its most distinguished felicitations to some worthy gentlemen who have been trying to make us believe that the 'school question doesn't amount to anything"; "that it's best to keep quiet, anyway," and that there is no difference between a remedialist conservative and an anti-remedialist conservative. The World belongs to the latter kind, and prefers to hunt with hounds of the same pack."

SIR OLIVER MOWAT AT OAKWOOD

We are pleased to be able to announce a meeting to be held at Oakwood in the interests of Mr. George McHugh, the liberal candidate, to be addressed by Hon. Sir Oliver Mowat, premier of Ontario. The people of Mariposa are extremely fortunate in being able to look forward to hearing Sir Oliver, as it can well be understood that very many requests for his presence from other parts of the province are continually being made. Let every farmer in the township avail himself of the privilege of hearing Mr. Mowat, and let nothing interfere to make this the largest and most enthusiastic meeting ever held in the riding. Don't overlook the time—1 o'clock p m. on Tuesday next.

ORGANIZE.

From all parts of Ontario the indications are that the present contest will be remarkable for its unparalelled earnestness. Although there is yet nearly a month to elapse before polling day the battle is now in full force in nearly every constituency, and organize! organize! is the watchword.

The press of the whole Dominion gives instances and names of prominent men breaking away from the conservative, or now better named, the Tupperite party. In Nova Scotia and Manitoba there is a perfect land slide towards the liberal cause. Scores of manufacturers in Ontario have expressed their confidence in themselves and in their country, and declare that the liberal policy of revenue tariff is satisfactory to them, and that with raw material made free they will be ready and willing to compete with the world in our markets.

The presage of victory for the reform party is on the wing.

Sir Charles Tupper's unlimited promises of financial assistance to every conceivable scheme is alarming all thinking business men. At the present time it would take about forty millions of dollars to redeem his promises. No wonder this wholesale attempt to bribe the country with its own money causes thoughtful men to ask "Whither are we drifting?"

No man should hesitate—each one can do something to help to redeem South Victoria. But it must be organized work. In every polling subdivision, in every school section, there should be regular committee meetings, and discussion, and the bringing in of those who are wavering or uncertain. We will not have the opportunity after the 23rd of June. Just now there is a little less urgency amongst the farmers to compel them to work, and whilst they are still busy each man could give two or three evenings in the week to see that everything is being done to secure victory. Do not wait for some one else to begin. It is your own individual work. Speak to your neighbor; arrange for meetings; apply to the central organization for information if any is required, or for speakers, and any assistance that can be rendered will be cheerfully given. But do not delay. Organize thoroughly. Your candidate is working unceasingly. It is not his fight, it is our fight, and let us acquit ourselves like men, and a grand victory will be won by the reform party in South Victoria.

AN OUTSPOKEN DIVINE.

The Rector of All Saints', Kingston, (Church of England)—a life-long conservative has felt bound publicly to declare that he cannot support the Tupperites. He objects strongly to the Tupper remedial policy, "which is no remedy at all," and states general objections in this vigorous way:

"Apart from this, I should feel thoroughly justified in voting against any government with the corrupt record of the last years against it, even though the other side might be just as bad. It will be easy at bye-elections, or at all events, in five years, to read a similar lesson to the liberals should they need it. But the ousting of the conservative government now would be a pretty strong hint of what they might expect if they also failed in honesty, and it would probably be heeded. Moreover, we have at present no reason to suppose that they will heed it Laurier is not Mercier, even though he courageously refuses to speak aught but good of the dead, and not one that I know has successfully proved fraud or dishonesty against Sir Oliver Mowat's government.

The only reason left why I should hesitate to vote liberal is the fear of dislocation of industries. I do not fear this myself, partly because of the assurances which have been given that due care will be observed in altering the tariff; more, because of the many manufacturers and wage-earners who do not hesitate to support Mr. Laurier; most of all, because I feel that five years' dislocation, if it comes, would be a cheap price to pay for the wholesome lesson to a corrupt government, and the judicious settlement of the school question."

EDITORIAL NOTES

The liberal policy can be embraced in two words: Investigation and conciliation.—[G. W. Ross.

"It will be an evil day for the Dominion and the province when the federal government seeks to interfere with the autonomy of the provinces."—[Hon. A. Mackenzie.

All honest men should be thoroughly consistent in the practical application of the principles of his private and business life to the transaction of public affairs.—[SOCRATES.

At a late visit to Montreal Sir Mackenzie had only one faiend to meet him and see him off—instead of the crowd that gathered when he was premier "Faithful to the last," rewarded the lonely ex-premier with emotion.

The fact is that Sir Oliver is both a sound constitutional authority and a very lucky politician, and there is every reason for the belief that in the enlarged arena of the Dominion parliament, which he enters as lieutenant to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, the success of the Grand Old Man of Ontario as a safe, progressive administrator will be continued.

Campaign Meetings.

Public meetings in the interests of Mr. George McHugh have been held at Brown's and Black's schoolhouses; at Cresswell, Mariposa, and at Dunsford, Verulam. Addresses were delivered by Mr. McHugh, Dr. McKay, M.P.P., and Messrs. Stewart, Anderson, Bower, Dr. Bingham, Purvis, Kelly, Alex. Robertson, Geo. Graham, P. N. Murdoch and others. All the meetings have been well attended, and the best of order and attention prevailed. There is much enthusiasm among Mr. McHugh's supporters. Many conservatives think it is time for a change of government, and will support Mr. McHugh, who is carrying on a vigorous campaign and will be elected.
