In spilling our minds over this paper we want to arouse your curiosity, and after this is excited we want to satisfy it. So long as ladies in general are general buyers of Millinery, just so long will our Store continue to command a large custom.

If you have ever bought Millinery our printed inducements are unnecessary. It is to the unacquainted we are addressing an earnest and profitable appeal.

It is not beauty alone. Beauty hath charms, but Price, from a commercial standpoint, has greater ones. Our Prices stand on the pedestal of their own individuality, and shout defiance in the face

It is said "Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn at no other." Simply because people do not yet trade with us is no excuse for branding them foolish. Many people do not know (even yet) that we sell Millinery, and those who do scarcely realize the Values we offer. It has been said, and affirmed by many customers, that our Prices are "mere remnants to those of some."

Empty exaggeration is not our method in advertising. Come to our Store and examine the Goods and Styles, and if what we say in print is not proven we will relinquish all hope for your future favors in trade.
