A STORY 3,000 YEARS OLD

You know the ancient story about Penelope, the wife of Ulysses? No doubt, for it has been told over and over for the last 3,000 years. Nevertheless let us have it Saved once more-cut short. Ulysses went off to the wars and left Penelope at home. A very long time elapsed and he didn't come back. People tried to persuade her to marry again. She said she would as soon as she finished a piece of cloth she was weaving. All right, they said, thinking they should have her married again before the new moon was old. But they were disappointed. Determined to await the return of her husband she picked spart every night as much of the cloth as she had woven during the day. "A very obvious device," you say, "yet prepared evidently with great care, asked the Raad, as a token of sympathy with Queen Victoria and appreciation of her long and glorious reign, to declare June 22, Diamond Jubilee Day, an official hoilday in the Transvaal. He said that, in spite of unfavorable influences, the South African Republic continued to enjoy friendly relations with all foreign powers. After asking that provision be made for the election of his successor next year, he said the Government intended to submit proposals for the facilitation of traffic and the promotion of trade with adjoining States, and he added that the Government hoped as soon as possible to submit the report of the commission appointed to enquire into the conduct of the Transvaal mining industries, with a view of adopting such measures as might seem desirable. The Government, he added, recognized that the general welfare of the country went in hand with the prosperity of its mining interests. In conclusion, President Kruger said : "It would have been a cause of heartfelt joy if the Government could give a frank assurance that the political porizon was unclouded, but we must gratefully admit that many light-giving can be discerned, and we are animated with a firm resolve and an earnest wish to do what lies in our power, while guarding our independence, to break up the clouds which seem to menace the whole of South Africa, and to make the way clear and light, by means of peaceable co-operation.

aged to the Extent of $75,000. Toronto, April 30. The stock of H. P. Eckardt & Co., wholesale grocers, Front-st. east, was damaged by fire yesterday afternoon to the extent of probably $75,000. The premises were also considerably damaged. The blaze was discovered about half-past 1, but there seems to have been some delay in ringing the the signal to the firemen. Box 3 was also pulled and the firemen were on the scene with the utmost despatch. The fire, ly difficult to get at as the place was stocked with sulphur, matches and other articles iscovered by an employe of the firm, seemed to be coming from a pile of packing cases in the corner of the room. The ames broke forth so quickly that the employes had as much as they could do to get heir coats and get out of the place before the whole flat seemed to be ablaze. Five minutes after the arrival of the firemen seven streams of water were playing on the building, and a general alarm was sounded, bringing all the sections of the brigade. The dense sulphur smoke made t very hard for the firemen to fight the with the fumes. One man, Thomas Spence Bay-street Hall, fell unconscious from a ider after inhaling the smoke, and was sen in the ambulance to St. Michael's Notwithstanding the difficulty the firemen encountered the flames were confined to the flat of the Eckardt building, although art of the stock of W. B. Hamilton & wholesale shoes, next door, was considerably damaged by fire and water. Eckardt & Co. value their stock in round mbers at $100,000, and it is insured for 0,000 in the following companies by dessrs. Marter & York: London & Lancahire, $15,000; Lancashire, $15,000; Guaran, $15,000; Royal, $10,000; Commercial Union, $10,00; Queen's, $5000. Mr. William Ramsay owns the building, which is insured by J. B. Reid in the Lancashire for $8000 and in the London & Liverpool & Globe for ancashire on fixtures. The water tower, which was stationed on Scott-street, did fine work and all of the engines worked admirably. One stream of hose was disabled by a coal cart passing over it, giving the fire a temporary advantage. It was nearly 4 o'clock before the flames were under control, and by this time the whole place was flooded with nearly a foot of water. Fireman Spence recovered consciousness within an hour after his arrival at the hospital and is getting along very well. Some of the firemen were very sick last night owing to the sulphur. How often is the beauty The direction of the steps, wavering and following of a young girl marred and her spirit broken by weakness and irricability caused by those complaints to which so many females are subject at the present day. Mrs. Robt. Twa, New Carlow, Ont., tells for the benefit of others of the restoration of her daughter from a life of misery. She says: "For upwards of three years my daughter Lydia, now eighteen years of age, was utterly broken down in health, and her condition appeared to be going from bad to worse. She became so weak that she could not endure the least excitement, and the smallest amount of exertion would fatigue her. If she did any work about the house she would tremble with weakness. She was pale, and seemed almost bloodless. Her heart at times would palpitate violently, and she was the victim of severe nervous headaches. Her condition was such that we became much alarmed. We tried a number of remedies, but they did her no good. Then we decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and before are, and several of them were overcome | the first box was completed we could see that they were helping her, one of the first signs of returning health being an improvement in her appetite, which before had been extremely fickle. A continued use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills drove out every symptom of her illness, and she has since enjoyed the most robust health. She has not, in fact, had a day's illness since she discontinued the use of Pink Pills, and it is with feelings of gratitude that I recommend them to mothers whose daughters may be in a similar condition. It is a lamentable fact that there are thousands of young girls throughout Canada whose state of health is alarming and whose condition is certain to develop into hopeless decline unless prompt measures are taken to give new vitality to the blood and nerves, by which means only can disease be driven from the system. In this emergency Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the only medicine which will effect a prompt and certain cure. The pills supply the blood with its lacking constituents, strengthen the nerves, and bring to pallid faces the rosy glow of health so much sought for. There is abundance of evidence to prove that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure after all other medicines have failed, but it is better far to apply to them for relief at the outset than to experiment with other medicines upon getting the genuine, put up in boxes the wrapper round which bears the registered trade mark "Dr. Williams" pink colored imitations and other medi-

There is no doubt at all that many people are prejudiced against proprietary medicines, and equally no doubt many look upon the testimonials published as much in the nature of an exaggerated war policy puff. If the Banner has been tinctured Opp with this feeling it has, so far rs one onies, medicine is concerned, had its doub's removed. We refer to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, concerning the curative qualities of which strong claims have been feeling, and made, and proofs advanced in their support which seemed equally strong. But it is when one comes across in their locality a case almost rivaling any that have been made public, that doubt disappears and conviction follows. Such a case the Banner came across and investigated, and now gives the facts. The case is that of Miss Sarah Langford, an estimable young lady who resides in the neighborhood of Camilla. We were told she had been brought near to death's door and had been restored to health through the agency of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. We decided, however, to cast hearsay aside and investigate for ourselves. We found Miss Langford the picture of health and good spirits at her pleasant home in Camilla. In response to our inquiries as to her illness and the cause of her recovery, she expressed her willingness to satisfy our curiosity, and as she added, relate her experience for the good of others afflicted as she was. Her story, very briefly, was as follows: - "I had la grippe in the spring of 1894, I did things not seem to get over the effects of the attack, and as the summer progressed became weak and listless. Any kind of work became a burden to me. After pumping a pail of water from the well I would have to stand and hold my hands over my heart for a moment or so, it would flutter so violently. I could not go up stairs without difficulty, and towards the last would have to rest on the steps, and when I got to the top, lie down until I could recover my breath. became a mere skeleton, my cheeks were like wax and my lips colorless. I lost all appetite and my meals often went untasted. Medicine seemed to have no effect upon me. I was getting weaker all the time, and at last began to give up hope of recovery. My parents were of course in great distress, and I knew by the looks and actions of friends who called to see me that they thought I was doomed to an early death. Then a dear lady friend died and I managed out of love for her to drag myself to her funeral. The sensation of seeing her laid away believing that I would soon follow her, was a strange one. Shortly after this an aunt of mine, Mrs. Wm. Henderson, of Toronto, came to visit at our place. My condition troubled her very much and she insisted on my trying Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To please her I consented, but with little hope of any good result. The effect, however, was wonderful and a pleasing surprise to me. I soon began to feel more cheerful and seemed to feel stronger. Then my appetite began to improve and the color returned to my cheeks and lips. From that hour I steadily gained strongth, and was soon enjoying my former excellent health, and I am sincere in expressing my belief that to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do I owe my recovery." Enquiry among neighbors corroborated Miss Langford's story as to her illness and remarkable recovery. In her case at least Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have given a striking proof that they possess wonderful merits. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They renew and build up the blood, and strengthen the nerves, thus driving disease from the system. Avoid imitations by insisting that every box you purchase is enclosed in a wrapper bearing the full trade mark,
