THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD

THE SESSIONS HELD IN ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The Closing Proceedings - Votes of Thanks and Other Business.

Wednesday Afternoon Session. (Continued from last week.) Wednesday afternoon, the moderator presiding. The entire afternoon was resigned to the transaction of Synodical business,

The Synod resumed at 2 15 o'clock on the various matters being handled with good judgment and celerity. Rav. Mr. Frazer, of Bowmanville, introduced the case of Robt. Bailey, of Toronto presbytery, formerly an elder in the Port Credit congregation, who had been removed. He had appealed to the church courts, and thus the matter was carried to Synod for a pronouncement. Some of the ministers maintained that the parties in the case should have been cited to appear. but it was pointed out that a number of the members of the session and three of the assessors who had dealt with the case were present—the only parties absent being the petitioners. The proposal was made to send a commission to Port Credit to take evidence, but it was finally agreed to cite the moderator of the session and three assessors o appear before the court of investigation appointed by the Synod in

Though differing somewhat in matters of doctrine, all were common workers in the Master's cause, and he hoped each would receive the crown of

Rev. Mr. Shorey said he was in the difficuit position of realizing and feeling what ought to be said, yet not knowing exactly how to s t about it. He fully appreciated the value of time, and he practised one important grace, at least, -that of brevity. Dr. Buchanan spoke with much earnestness, urging the importance of the mission work in that country being carried on with greater vigor. Since his return he had received a letter from an army officer stating that the famine had reached the Bheels, a hill tribe among whom he had labored, and he expressed the hope that the mission board would forward their instructions to have their agent visit that district as soon as possible.
