An analysis shows that the poor man cry over the reduction of saving bank interest by the post office department is rather ludicrous. The most numerous class of depositors, 61,461, will lose on an average 2 1-2 cents a year each. When we reach the poor fellows, 1,394 of them, who have $401 to $600 each, we find that the change means a loss of about 5 cents a week to them, and when we come to the really poor chaps, 894 of them, with $801 to $1,000 each in the bank, the change takes off about 9 cents a week from their interest accounts. It is hard on this class. But then, if they can get better rates they are at liberty to withdraw at any time. . . .

"The Park's Case," (To Editor Post.)

Sir,-Mr. Anderson complains that rushed into print against him. did not, and had no intention of doing anything of the kind. He saw my letter before it was published, and his only objection to it was altered by me in his presence to suit him. He states 1 attempted to injure him with the Attorney-General's department, tried to do so on a former occasion. This I absolutely deny, and call upon him to give the circumstances or apologize. Now as to the facts: Mr. Anderson says Parks was released because evidence was excluded, and quotes the order to prove it. Then why did they publish that it was because Methodist ministers interfered and were closeted with the magistrate? Did Mr. Du or did he not? If not, where did the Toronto News get its information?

Vernet represent that to the Judge, 000 bushels less than two years ago, 39,800,-If he did, where did Mr. DuVernet get his information, unless from Mr. Anderson? This was the grave matter in my letter, yet Mr. Anderson, in his two columns of heroic twaddle, cannot find time to refer to it. I said, and I repeat, that it is an outrage to slander the magistrate and Methodist ministers in such a way. Let Mr. Anderson tell us why the Duluth, No. 1 hard 1 30 Toronto, No. 1 hard 1 27 affidavits were smuggled out of the Toronto, red 1 05 way instead of being filed in court, as they should have been, unless they were ashamed of them. I challenge him to produce and publish his affidavit and make good the statements which could only have come through him, or otherwise apologize like a man to the magistrate and Methodist ministers. never made the slightest insinuation against the honor, dignity or integrity of the Judge who made the order, and I object to Mr. Anderson publishing such statements when my letter contains nothing of the kind; I leave that sort of business to him-he has a monopoly of it. What I do complain of is, that the Attorney-General's department, without giving us any opportunity of answering the affidavits, and without making the slightest enquiries from the persons conducting the case, should consent to the order. Everybody knows that where the opposing side consents, the Judge makes the order as a matter of course, and it is idle and silly to try to make the public believe that the Judge gave the matter his consideration and decided that Parks was improperly convicted.

Let me ask Mr. Anderson why the application was made to a Judge privately, and not in open court to the regular Judge who sat in court every day that week. Why did they buttonhole the Attorney-Beneral and Mr. Langton to get a consent if they had such a good case? Why did they not serve notice in the regular way and proceed and argue the case on its merits? Why is the consent and affidavits not recited in the order, as is usual? Why were the affidavits smuggled out of the way?. And why did the Deputy-Attorney-General write me that Mr. DuVernet told them he was not going on with the application, instead of telling me they had tonsented? Did Mr. DuVernet ever tell them he was not going on with the application, and if so, was it after he had applied to another judge and turies. The concession practically makes got refused, and did he then get the famous consent? The Attorney-General's department deny having consented: Mr, Anderson says they did. I leave them to fight it out which is correct. There is no doubt it was represented to the Judge that they did The temperance people want to know, steers and common to fair cows and butch and insist on being informed, why the ers' grades are also selling well. consent was given, if it was given, and if not, why was the Judge misled.
