Rev. J. F. McLaughlin, B.A., B.D., of Victoria university, has been spending a few days with his brothers in Lindsay before leaving Canada for a two years absence in England and Germany. Mr. McLaughlin graduated from Victoria in arts three years ago, carrying off the gold medal in philosophy and first-class honors in other departments. This year he has graduated in divinity, carrying off the Sandford gold medal given in that department. A year ago he was appointed lecturer in biology in Victoria university, which position he has filled so successfully that this year the board of registrars have appointed him to one of the most important chairs in the university, to succeed Dr. Workman as professor of oriental languages. On the fifteenth June he sails from Montreal for the old world, where he will spend two years at Oxford and Leipsic in special study for his new position. Mr. McLaughlin is only twenty-eight years of age, and the remarkable progress which he has made in the course of a few years from the mastership of a country school to one from the mastership of a country school to one of the foremost educational positions in the country reflects great credit on his ability and industry, and gives great promise as to what we may expect from him with the large opportunities he will have in the new Victoria.

Farewell Banquet.

Tuesday evening last a complimentary banquet was tendered by a number of our leading citizens to Mr. J. A. Bucknell on the eve of his departure with his family to Saginaw, where, having been placed in charge Saginaw, where, having been placed in charge of the business of the Canada Life Assurance Co. for the state of Michigan, he will in future reside. His friends assembled in the fine dining room of the Royal hotel at nine o'clock to the number of about forty, and for nearly an hour devoted attention to the tempting bill-of-fare provided by Mr. McConnell, the genial proprietor. Among those noticed at the tables were Ex. Mayor T. Walters, J. D. Flavelle, F. C. Taylor, J. R. McNeillie, chairman of the board of education, John Kennedy, Col. Deacon, Thos. Stewart, Hugh O'Leary, Dr. Burrows, H. B. Dean, F. D. Moore, J. Neelands, D. R. Anderson, and other prominent residents. After the given to boasting, and indeed whatever of timate self-assertion was indulged in found in the report of the directors. This stated in the report of the directors. that fires have been started there in that way, the boats running very close to the high bank. If their owners are wise they will insist—in their own interests—on the screens being kept closed when passing near the shore. Most readers will remember the burning of the Hazlett mill at Fenelon Falls some years ago by Mr. Thurston's steamer, and the disastrous litigation that followed. In that case the law was held to be that a steamboat owner is responsiheld to be that a steamboat owner is responsi-ble for all damages done by a fire kindled from her smokestack, even if every possible precau-tion has been taken to prevent the escape of fire. In that respect the law is much more severe on steamers than on railway locon office, as the latter run under charter. If screens are kept closed when running near the shore there will be no danger. Steamboat men should bear in mind that steamers and railway trains have in numerous cases been held liable for fires, which no one saw started, but which occurred within a reasonable time after the passage of boat or train; in some cases only a few minutes, in other cases hours elapsed before the fire was discovered.
