On Viewing Mr. Ferrin's Lawn. I stand at the post box corner, The bells are wringing for noon, 'Tis a pleasant spot, but duty bids me leave it all too soon. I watch the sunlit shadows On the sidewalk under me, Cast by the trembling leaves Of shrub, and bush, and tree. I gaze o'er the pretty hedge-row At Mr. Ferrin's lawn, Whose shady precincts sparkle still, With the glistening dew of dawn. Among the trees and bushes, The waving shadows lie, The sight of their pleasant coolness Brings from my heart a sigh. Lilies luxuriant blossoms, With sweetness fill the air, While pansies and valley-lilies Of sweetness yield a share. How often, O, how often In weeks that have gone by I've cast on those pretty pansies A somewhat envious eye! How often, O, how often, A message half divine Is breathed by those fair sweet flowers, To this weary heart of mine! For the pleasures culled from flowers In this life so full of care, Makes daily labors lighter, Troubles less hard to bear. The sight of this grassy carpet Bordered with fragrant flowers, Comes often to my memory In busy class-room hours. And whenever I pass that corner I think of by-gone years, When the place was a dreary common Where this garden now appears. I think how many hundreds, Of students since grown men, Each cumbered with wondrous knowledge, Have passed this lawn since then. I see the long procession, Still streaming up the hill, Eagerly thirsting for knowledge, Toiling with earnest will. And forever, and forever, Whilst our Collegiate lives' And unto unforgotten youthful minds A careful training gives. This garden has admirers, Riched the aesthetic mind, Food for artistic fancies, Shall in its beauties find. A. COGAN, The Collegiate Institute, Lindsay, June 1892.

W. H. Pogue—Little Britain.

STILL LEADING

In returning thanks to our many friends for their kind patronage we beg to say that we are continually receiving fresh supplies of all the new and seasonable goods. We have learned from long experience that a heavy stock of staple goods will soon put the owner out of the race.

OUR AIM is to keep a gilt-edge stock, and as near as possible to renew it every month.

Turnip Seed is now on deck. We offer Steele Bros. best varieties. Don't experiment with your turnip crop, get the best. Don't forget that we handle TINWARE; also carry a good stock of BOOTS and SHOES and sell them cheap. Don't lose all day Saturday and throw in a railroad fare when you can come down to the village after tea and get a pair just as cheap. A fine stock of PAINTS, and GLASS cut to any size or shape.

OUR BUSINESS

is run on a case basis; the highest market price paid for farm produce. We always pay one cent extra in trade. Customers, please notice that we are paying 12c. for Eggs. Don't sell to peddlers for less.

We are determined with your assistance to make Little Britain the cheapest place to get your supplies, and to that end will keep climbing, and when you hear a little squealing you will know that our spurs have notched off a little bark. Yours truly,

W. H. POGUE.

Little Britain, June 15, 1892.-110.

Gough Brothers, Lindsay.

NOTE THIS.

Our Stock of General Groceries was never so complete nor fresher than at present. It is well that the public should know this. In some lines, indeed---for instance, TEAS---our stock is unequalled for value. Long experience has taught us much that is of value when purchasing, and we get the best because we do our own selecting and tasting. Some of our low-priced lines could not be bought some years ago for less than 50c. per lb; now they sell for half that figure. In Coffees we give you the pure grown bean in all the different brands.

We make a specialty of family trade, and those dealing with us get goods at the lowest possible notch. A year's trading at our store means a telling reduction in the expense account and a "nest-egg" to deposit in the savings bank.
