The Hamilton Herald, an independent conservative journal, says:-"It is a comparatively easy task to defend the Mowat administration and a rather difficult one to attack it on its merits. Its sins have been few, when all is said and done, and its virtues many. In a number of respects it has a record that is unique among governments. So well has it withstood the assaults of the opposition that after all these years no charge of corruption and dishonesty can be sustained against it. In an age of corruption and dishonest government this is certainly something to be proud of."

In these days of keen competition the hope of the farmer is in being more skilful than his competitors in other lands. He can attain this advanced position only by the application of the most approved methods.

While the other departments of the Ontario government are engaged in the control of the various branches of public made at from $3.75 to $3.85 per cwt. Prices are business entrusted to their care by the Local demand was fair, and there was quite a people, the position of the department of agriculture is somewhat different-it exists primarily in the interests of a class of the community, namely, the farmers. Everything that tends to their welfare comes within the scope of its work, and "advance agriculture" might well be taken as its motto. This advancement the department seaks to accomplish by several means. It's Some inferior cattle disseminate such information as will be of value to the farmer in his calling. But to Hon. Mr. Dryden belongs the credit for devising new and original means for the improvement of agriculture. Thus the travelling dairy was organized to improve the butter product, a special dairy methods to managers of cheese and butter factories, and also a special summer school to enable teachers to give instruction in rudimentary agriculture. Experimental fruit stations are now being established in various sections of the province with the view of stimulating that great industry. In addition to the work outlined above, the minister of agriculture makes it his business to mingle as much as possible with the farmers, learn their aims and difficulties and inspire them to continued efforts; to guard their interests so far as legislation is concerned; to deliver addres-
