"How to look well and feel well" during the oppressively hot summer months, is a subject that should command the attention of every busy man and woman. There are thousands of business men, clerks, employed in offices, stores and workshops, who lose all strength and vitality in the

in ordinary weather; but, when the sun pours down his scorching rays day after day, and when the air is heated and heavy, then all life and heat seem to depart from every-day tollers. They look pale, listless your committee cannot recommend that Mr. and nervous; they are irritable, languid to say that, "they feel worse than they To those who find life a burden in

The wise, prudent and vigorous in summer use Poin's Celery Compound as a tonic and strength-giver. This remarkable medicine, it must be remembered, is not marvellous medicine and am very much pleased

At this time a few extracts from letters may prove useful and helpful. A busy wholesale grocer, doing business in one of our largest cities, says : "During the hot summer weather of 1893, I used Paine's Celery Compound, which was reohn Maginnis, repairs, court house, etc..... 2 15 | commended to me by a banker.
