of H. H. Cook. Orillia, May 28.-Two meetings were held in the opera house to-day in the interests of the Opposition candidate, Mr. H. H. Cook. The principal speaker at both the afternoon and evening meetings were Hon. G. W. Ross, Ontario Minister of Education. The attendance at the afternoon meeting was the evening the large auditorium was some what marred by the rain, but in filled about 300 ladies being seated in the gallery Mr. W. M. Harvey, chairman, introduced Reeve Miller, who spoke from a manufacturer's standpoint on the National Policy. Hon. G. W. Ross devoted himself to showing how the N.P. had affected the workingman and farmer. He said that the people of Canada had become very familiar with the N.P. in the 18 years it had been in existence, and found to their sorrow that in every respect it was a fraud. Touching on the Manitoba school question, he claimed that the policy of the Liberal party was .concifiation, and not coercion. Coercion, he said, had proved a failure the world over. The superannuation system also received a share of his attention. The Canadian voter, he said, had one minute every five years in which to exert his sovereignity and say how he wished the nation to be ruled, and that was when he marked his ballot. He spoke for one and a half hours. Mr. H. H. Cook followed, and the meeting closed with cheers for the Queen, the candidate and the Reform leader.

ROUSING MEETING AT THE FALLS

The Minister of Education in Terse Language Shows How the National Policy Has Failed to Produce What Was Promised by Its Promoters.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 26.-The

Liberals fired their first gun in the County of Welland here this evening. The meeting was largely attended, the principal speaker being Hon. G. W. Ross, Ontario Minister of Education. The Town Hall was filled to the doors All the prominent local Reformers were on the platform, and when the Liberal candidate, Mr. James A. Lowell, entered the hall with the Hon. Mr. Ross Hon. G. W. Ross and Party the audience cheered both of them heartily. The chairman, Mr Alex. Gray, opened the meeting with an appropriate speech, followed by Mr. Gross of Welland, who made a short but rattling and witty political speech. Mr. Lowell, who followed, received a grand ovation, and made a good speech, giving a resume of the session of Parliament of last winter, pointing out the conspiracy that brought out the present Premier as the leader of the Conservative party.

Hon, Mr. Ross was then introduced, and received a grand ovation. After alluding to the honesty of character of which was very largely attended. Mr. Lowell to faithfully represent the Quite a number of ladies were present people of the County of Welland, he and prominent Reformer of the town took up the political issues, and han- and vicinity occupied places on the dled them to the satisfaction of his auditors, who frequently cheered as he scored the late Government. The first issue he took up was the trade policy of the Conservative party. He said he would deal with the quesas the Conservatives promised them in 1878. He claimed the National Policy had not given the people of Canada employment, as they said it tions of the day. would. It did not even keep them at home. He claimed there were a quarter of a million more Canadians in the United States in 1890 than there were in 1880. There was a greater number of fallures in Canada in 1894 than there were in 1878. The N.P. advocates promised the farmers higher prices for farm produce. He showed by figures that prices were lower now than ever before. He said the Conservatives boasted over their loyalty to the old flag, but had through manipulations decreased the imports from Great Britain from sixty million del lars in 1878 to thirty millions last year, while the imports from the United States had increased. He said the policy of the Liberals should be tariff for revenue, all surplus to go into the publie treasury and not sugar combines, the raw material in every case to be free. He believed in the policy of Sir Robert Peel and Hon. W. E. Gladstone for his political economy. Take the duty off wool. Give to the artizans of England free raw material and good machinery and the artisans of England would compete with the world, and the same thing could successfully be applied to Canadians. He believed the heavy tax should fall on the luxurles of life and not tax woolens and cottons 30 and 35 per cent, and silks 30 per cent. We claim, said he, that the present tariff is defective in this respect. Why should the duty on farm implements be higher than jewelry and silverware? He claimed that one-half the manufacturers were L'berals, and they would adjust the tariff to prevent any industry or men working in fac-

He then took up the Manitoba school question, and claimed the worst of all the Government's offences was the fact of allowing the question to enter the arena of Federal politics. No one disputed the element of justice. The Privy Council had decided the Roman Catholics had suffered a grievance. grievance was caused by Manitoba and it was to the Government of that province they should have gone and told them that the Privy Council has said, You have inflicted a grievance; see if you cannot withdraw that grievance," and waited a while to see what they would do, instead of rushing at store the schools to the He claimed that
