LINDSAY, FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1896.

WORK! WORK!

Let every reformer and elector who wishes to see a change from the present extravagant administration of Dominion affairs, and who desires the success of the liberal party at the polls on the 23rd, work as he has never done before for the accomplishment of that end. If one of our friends knows of an elector who has not openly signified how he intends voting, he should see him at once and if possible induce him to promise to cast his that policy. Mr. Delamere opposes the vote for the liberal candidate.

The time remaining is short, but a lot of good work can be done in the interval. Remember, if only one conservative vote in each sub-division is secured for the party, the election is ours. Take a few half days from your farm work or business and give it to Mr. George McHugh -it will be time well invested, for if the liberal party be placed in power it will undoubtedly mean the saving of millions to the country and the removal of many burthens now oppressing the farmers. Work! Work! Work!

THE POLITICAL SITIUATION.

No contrast more striking and significant as to the political situation and outlook could be furnished than that of the reception accorded to Mr. Laurier in Western Ontario, and to Sir Charles Tupper in his native province and in the Dominion capital. Commencing a series of meetings at London, Mr. Laurier has had a reception at a dozen great political gatherings unparalleled in enthusiasm, in attendance, in the applause given to his noble elequence, and in the effect his utterances appear to have had upon the electors. His London speech was masterpiece of political oratory. constructive statesmanship, in sensible proposals for needed legislation, humorous satire of the questions of Tupper, in indignant and fearless denunciation of Tupper's appeals to religious prejudices, and in firm and manly declarations of principle in Mr. Laurier's address was in every respect admirable, and it is not surprising that it had a wonderful effect on the electors. It was a speech that will have a great effect in every constituency in Canada, for it can be said or read to electors of every class and every race and every religion. He did not, like Sir Charles Tupper, appeal to Winnipeg in one voice and to Montreal in another voice. His exposure of Sir Charles Tupper's reply to his challenge to repeat at Montreal the appeal to Winnipeg was particularly effective. Sir Charles appealed to the conservatives of Winnipeg-to the people of Manitoba-"Why turn me out and put in my place | tion with the Tay canal, the Curran bridge a French and Roman Catholic premier who would do more for the Remedial

Bill-who would bring in a stronger bill than I have done." Sir Charles accepted the challenge and boldly declared that he would repeat it at Montreal. He did so in a way-but notice the clumsy trick.

At Montreal he said, why turn him out and put in a French Roman Catholic premier who was a traitor to his race

and religion, and he went onto denounce

To their credit be it said, his denunciation of Mr. Laurier had as little weight with the French of Lower Canada as his mad appeal to the Protestants of Ontario-and the people of Ontario are every day showing him that they have confidence in Mr. Laurier and are not afraid to place the destine of the country in his care.

Contrast Mr. Laurier's triumphal tour with the hostility shown by many conservatives when Sir Charles Tupper makes his appearance on the platform. In Halifax he had a very bad time, though he scattered bribes in the shape of extravagant promises right and left. He did not dare go to St. John's, N. B., and left to poor Foster the unwelcome task of facing an angry and disgusted audience at the conservative meeting-where the ministerial supporters were troublesome almost beyond 'endurance. The great "I am" opened his Ontario tour at Ottawa, and oh ! my country, what a fall was there. Though surrounded by a strong bodyguard of contractors and jobbers, and with a judiciously packed audience, the rebellious anti-Tupper section of the conservative party, led by Mr. Taylor Mc-Veitty, controlled the meeting, and no progress was made until Mr. McVeitty was invited to the platform. No wonder the great 'igh commissioner was white with rage. No wonder that he shivers over the prospect of visiting East Toronto. No wonder that he will speak in spots only in Ontario. No wonder that he does not venture to come to Lindsay and speak for Dr. Vrooman.

trying to bolster up his wavering fortunes by loud bragging and blustering. boasts that he will sweep every province and that he will have a majority of fifty iu the new parliament. This is too absurd. It is supremely ridiculous. house divided against itself cannot stand. The conservative party is sick of Tupper. It is disgusted with his Tupperonian bombast. The time has come for a change. The country is going to have a change. The Tupperites are on the run. Tupper's hour of doom is come. As Lincoln said, you may fool some people all the time, and you may at some time fool all the people, but you cannot fool all the people all the time, and Tupper has been found out by all the people and will be sent into the cold shades on the 23rd of June.

THE CANDIDATURE IN NORTH VICTORIA.

The people of North Victoria now have a rare chance to vote as fearless, honest men, and no matter what attempt may be made to blind them, and how many excuses may be made, the issue there is a straight

On the school question Mr. Hughes has been forced to practically admit, both his paper and on the platform, that he is a Tupper man, that he will try to excuse their policy of remedial legislation. The game that he tried to work at first of supporting the government and hoodwinking the people of the Orange and Protestant sections, has now failen flat. He had to choose, and he chose Tupper.

Mr. McLaughlin is plainly and definitely on the other side. His policy is to investigate and make peace, and he is strongly against the stubborn policy of coercion. Mr. Hughes supports the old policy in toto the policy that has given the people the continuous period of hard times for the last ten years, yearly getting worse, and he promises nothing but a continuation of school question, advocates the policy of class protection, and tries to excuse the dishonesty and fraud that has been carried on in the civil service and public works of the country. Mr. McLauchlin advocates quality of trade privileges to all, no prctection to a certain class, and sounds no mistaken note against the present organ- were made in an Arctic whaling steamer ized system. No thinking man can approve of Mr. Hughes' course along this line. Never once has his voice been raised against the prevalent extravagance.

Morever, he has never had a dollar's in terest in the constituency. By some way that is not straight he has his name on the voters' list for a piece of property in which he has no interest. He is now making frantic appeals to the Roman Catholics of Carden and Galway to pick him up when the independent Protestant and Orange elements are casting him aside. He has mistaken his men, however, and has been blowing a little too much about the vote he is going to get in these places. These men are against him on principle, and if they change, it will be to cast their ballots for a man who will take a straight course. The people have known Mr. McLaughlin from childhood. He is pre-eminently one of themselves, raised among them and ac quainted with their life and labors on the farm, in the woods and mills. He is known to be a man of first-class ability and untiring industry, and if there is a word to be said against his honesty and integrity, it has yet to be said. If he represents North Victoria, the constituency will have a representative who, in the knowledge of constitutional law, economics, and social

Some think that because he has not been eternally blowing about his majority, his work, etc., that the issue of the campaign is doubtful to his friends. His campaign is one of honest work, not one of intrigue and noisy blustering, and the result in his election by a good majority will be amply gratifying to the many friends of all classes and parties who endorse him as their representative.

Mr. J. G. Haggart is getting funny on the eve of his departure from ministerial life. At Trenton he informed his hearers that he hoped the Trent Valley canal would be of as much benefit to the section of country affected "as the Tay canal had been to the town of Perth and his constituency." This is good. The people will not forget that Haggart's ditch cost them in round figures some $500,000. It costs between $2,000 and $3,000 per year to maintain and its revenue amounts to some $100 a year ! Is the Trent Valley canal going to be second edition to this?

The Manitoba Methodists are more liberal than some others in the Dominion. They at least are generous enough to express themselves in favor of such amendments of the provincial school law by the provincial authorities "as will remove any actual grievance, if such exists, which may rest upon our Roman Catholic breth-This is quite right. After Mr. Laurier takes the reins of government in his hands and approaches the subject with violence, and in the "spirit of fairness and conciliation" desired by the Manitoba government, he will evidently have the cordial backing of the Methodist In this trying emergency Sir Charles is | body in his effort to arrange this vexed question without having recourse to the

For a province only to increase its population by 3 and a tenth persons per annum is rather a remarkable progress. Yet the New Brunswick papers are pointing out that this is the case in their province. The census shows that between the years 1881 and 1891 the population of New Brunswick showed the extraordinary in. crease of "thirty-one persons!" Between 1871 and 1881 the increase was 35.638, so in ten thousand years it can pick up, which is a consolation no doubt. But the idea seems to prevail, judging from the provincial papers, that the best remedy is to return a liberal government, which will effect such a change in the national administration as will prevent an exodus of the people like that evidenced by the census returns referred to. But the N. P. has produced this result down by the sea, and the New Brunswickers do not seem to like it.

Concerning Sir Charles Tupper's Hudcordial endorsation of some tory papers, son Bay Railway scheme, which has the the New York Journal of Commerce says: "One would suppose that the Canadians had loaded themselves up with quite enough transportation routes that are maintained at public expense, but this is not the view of Sir Charles Tupper, who has assumed the premiership with a magnificent programme of public improvements. He is going to renew the charter of the Chignecto Ship Railway Company and give it $170,000 a year for twenty years, and he is determined to carry through the Hudson's Bay Railway scheme. This will only cost $3,200 s mile, if the figures have not been mutilated in the process of telegraphing, together with $80,000 a year for twenty years for carrying the mails. When Manitoba wheat and the mails get to Hudson Bay they will be worse off than when they started unless steamers are provided to carry them to Europe. The matter has been thoroughly investigated, with results that show it to be the most chimerical project that ever secured serious support. The navigation of the bay, and particularly the entrance to it, is impossible eight or nine months of the year, and subject to delays and dangers from three or four months. Repeated voyages by naval officers under direction of the Dominion government, and reports read like stories of Arctic exploration. celebrated Northwest passage would be of almost as much commercial value as the Hudson's Bay route."
