NOTES OF THE WAR. bragraphs About the Hispano-American War That Keeps One in Touch With Latest Events.

Word comes from Vienna that Spain arnestly desires peace. Philippine insurgents are reported to have attacked Manila on Saturday. General Merritt has now 16,000 troops in sight for the Philippines and wants Spanish reports say regarding Friday's bombardment of Santiago that the attempt to land U.S. troops failed.

Lieut. Hobson and his fellow heroes of the Merrimac are reported well and being The auxiliary cruiser St. Louis captured a Spanish merchant ship outside the harber of Kingston, Jamaica, on Saturday. The London Times correspondent at Manila thinks peace has been brought nearer by recent events in the Philippines. The arsenal at Ferrol, Spain, is very working day and night. Twenty thousand Spanish soldiers are in the town of Santiago, and a desperate resistance to the landing of American troops is expected. U. S. warships Vixen and Suwanee active, and men in the dockyards are anded 300,000 rounds of ammunition, 300 ritles and 2,000 machetes on the Cuban coast near Santiago. It is said that the delay in sending troops forward from Tampa is because peace negotiations are farther advanced than the public is aware. If something has not happened to preant it, Gen. Shafter sailed from Key West Sunday night with the first division of the U.S. army for Santiago to besiege and capture the town. Thirty transports, with about 16 convoying warships com-

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain Says He Knows More of the United States Than Does Mr. Morley. London, June 18 .- Friday evening's

Proceedings in Parliament contained re-

Sated illustrations of the high favor in which America is held here just now.

Every allusion of Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Mr. George N. Curzon or Mr. Joseph Chamberlain to the suggested alliance or understanding was loudly theered, the Irish alone dissenting. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Libsral leader in the House of Commons, Mid: "No one is more anxious or more sager for closer and more permanent relations with the United States than myleif. Ever since I have had anything to do with public life my foremost object has been the cultivation of good relations with the United States. There have been mischievous attempts to represent that there are differences between the political parties on this subject. There is no differance. (Cheers.) There is no member in the Liberal party, any more than of the Unionist party, who does not place friendship, alliance, if you choose to use the word, in the sense of cordial friendship, with the United States in the very foremost of English foreign policy." Mr. Chamberlain, at the end of a long defence of his policy as Secretary of State for the Colonies, made an eloquent reiteration of his desire for "close, cordial and intimate relations with the United States," adding: "And the more close, the more intimate and the more defined they are the better I shall be satisfied." berlain was repeatedly interrupted by the 11, 4 p.m., via Kingston, Jamaica, June Irish, and the Daily Chronicle says it 12.—(Noon.)—For three days the scene of thinks he will rue the "bitter" words the chief military and naval operations with which he finally answered them, has been Caimanera and Guantanamo saying: "The Irish will have something Bay. FOUR AMERICANS WERE KILLED

Assistant Surgeon Gibbs, Whose Father Fell in the Custer Massacre, Is Among the Dead-The Other Three Were Massachusetts Men-Victims Killed at Close Range.

On board the Associated Press despatch boat Dauntless, off Guantanamo, Sunday, June 12, via Mole St. Nicholas, Hayti, June 12 .- (8 p.m.)-Lieut.-Col. R. W. Huntington's battalion of marines, landed from the transport Panther on Friday and encamped on the hill, guarding the abandoned cable station at the entrance to the outer harbor of Guantanamo, has been engaged in beating off a bush attack by Spanish guerillas and regulars since 8 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The fighting was almost continuous for 18 hours, until 6 o'clock this morning, when reinforcements were landed from the Marblehead.

Four Americans were killed and one was wounded. The advance pickets under Lieuts. Neville and Shaw are unaccount-

An Assistant Surgeon Killed. Among the killed is Assistant Surgeon John Blair Gibbs, son of Major Gibbs of the regular army, who fell in the Custer massacre. His home was at Richmond Va., but he has been practising in New York and he entered the service since the war began. He was a very popular officer. The others killed are: Sergt. Charles H. Smith of Smallwood, Private William Dunphy of Gloucester, Mass., and Private McColigan of Stoneham, Mass. Corporal Glass was accidentally wounded in the head. The Spanish loss is unknown, but it was probably considerable. The splashes of blood found at daylight at the positions the Spaniards occupied indicate fatalities, but their comrades carried off the killed and wounded. Killed at Close Range.

The engagement began with desultory firing at the pickets, a thousand yards inland from the camp. Capt. Spicer's company was doing guard duty and was driven in, finally rallying on the camp, and repulsing the enemy by 5 o'clock. The bodies of Privates McColigan and Dunphy were found, both shot in the head. The large cavities caused by the bullets, which, inside a range of yards, have a retary metion, indicate that the victims were killed at close range. The bodies were stripped of shoes, hats and cartridge belts and herribly mullated

The sky was blanketed with clouds, and when the sun set a gale was blowing seaward. Night fell, thick and impenetrable. The Spanish squads, concealed in the chaperel cover, had the advantage, the Americans on the ridge furnishing fine targets against the sky and the white tents. The Spaniards fought from cover till midnight, discoverable only by flashes, at which the marines fired volleys.

The Marbiehead launch, a Colt machine gun in her bow, pushed up the bay, en: fillading the Spaniards, and it is thought that some were killed. The ships threw their searchlights ashore, the powerful electric eyes sweeping the deep tropic foliage and exposing occasionally skulking parties of Spaniards. Each discovery of the enemy was greeted by the crackle of carbine fire along the edge of the camp ridge or by the long roll of the launch's machine gun, searching the thickets with a leaden stream. The Main Attack.

Shortly after midnight came the main attack. The Spaniards made a gallant charge up the southwest slope, but were met by repeated volleys from the main body and broke before they were a third of the way up the hill, but they came so close that at points there was almost a hand to hand struggle. The officers used their revolvers. Three Spaniards got through the open formation to the edge of the camp. Col. Joz Campina, the Cuban guide, discharged his revolver and they, turning and finding themselves without support, ran helter-skelter down the reverse side of the hill. It was during this assault that Assistant-Surgeon Gibbs was killed. He was shot in the head in front of his own tent, the farthest point

The surgeons of the hospital corps then removed their quarters to the trenches about the old Spanish stockade north of the camp. The attacks were continued at intervals throughout the night, with firing from small squads in various direc-

Towards morning the fire slackened. Dawn is the favorite time for attack and, as the east paled the marines, lying on their guns, were aroused. Some were actually asleep, as they had no rest for 48 hours, and tired nature could no longer stand the strain. But no attack came.

Like Prairie Dogs. Three new 12-pound field guns, which could not be used during the night for fear of hitting the marines, shelled several squads of Spaniards after daylight. They dove into the bushes like prairie dogs into burrows, as the shells broke over them. As the correspondent of the Associated Press talked with Major Cockrell, who was in charge of the outposts, word came of the finding of the body of Sergeant Smith. When and how he was killed, no one knows at this writing. Neither had the men been mustered, nor had the outposts of Lieut. Neville and Shaw been relieved.

Lieut.-Col. Huntington and Major Cockrell give high praise to the nerve and steadiness of officers and men, especially the young ones, as the engagement was a baptism of fire for a large majority. The men were in darkness and in a strange land, but they stood to their posts with courage and fortitude.

Eager for More Fighting. The marines, though exhausted, were eager for more fighting, promising to inflict heavy punishment. Estimates vary as to the attaciking force. Some say 200 and the figures run as high as 1,000. Colonel Campina, the Cuban guide, says the Spaniards were in drawing cartridges. Corporal Glass cently hanged, and in an orthodox manshattered his hand. Despite the loss of ner. Therefore, realizing that these little the men, which is greatly regretted, the functions should be uniform, and recogmarines rejoice that they have been engaged in the first fight on Cuban soil.

Admiral Cervera. Severe storms prevail in the channel between Santiago de Cuba and Jamaica. The press despatch beats have encountered three storms for the last ten days, making the voyages very difficult. The heat adds to the discomfort, but a daily service is maintained.

Secures the French Cable. On board the Associated Press despatch boat Dauntless, off Guantanamo Bay, Saturday noon, by the Associated Press despatch boat Wanda, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 19 .- (1.80 p.m.) -In controlling the outer harbor of Guantanamo, where Lieut.-Col. Huntington's battalion of marines landed on Friday, Rear-Admiral Sampson secures possession of the Cuban terminus of the French cable to Hayti. The apparatus in the office at the harbor mouth was wrecked by a shell but the cable steamer Adria has instruments and operators aboard, and direct communication with Washington will soon be established.

Shot Across British Steamer's Bows. Sunday morning the British steamer Newfoundland of Montreal, with a general cargo, from Halifax, steamed into the barbor. Her commander was greatly surprised at the presence of the Americans, but he retained enough composure from the Marblehead stopped him, and see if he could get a return cargo of sugar. He was informed that he could not and was allowed to proceed.

MAY YET ARBITRATE.

Mr. Curzon, of the Foreign Office, on the Future Relations Between Great Britain and Uncle Sam.

London, June 11 .- Sir Charles Dilke, Advanced Radical member for the Forest of Dean division of Gloucestershire, in the House of Commons, yesterday moved a reduction in the Foreign Office vote, and attacked the Marquis of Salisbury's foreign policy of concession. Referring to the United States, he said:

"Our relations with the United States are mainly due to the good influence of Her Majesty's ambassador at Washington (Sir Julian Pauncefote), for the Government's policy has been rash and feeble Everyone will welcome an alliance of learts with America, but no alliance Continuing, Sir Charles said he did not believe in the possibility, mooted by

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, of an alliance with Germany: The Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, Mr. George N. Curzen, gave credit to the good influence of the British ambassador at Washington: Hut he asserted that credit was due not mere ly to the ambassador or to the exigencles of the mement, but to Lord Salisbury's friendly, calm and dispassionate attitude during the discussion of difficult matters

Mr. Curzon added: "An arbitration treaty will be accepted some day." This statement was greated with cheer

THE LION TO THE BEAR. Sending Troops Into the Yang-Tse-Kiang

Will Be Regarded as an Act of War.

London, June 11 .- The newspapers are printing many congratulations upon the signing of the Anglo-Chinese convention yesterday, which gives Great Britain an extension of the boundaries of Hong-Kong, including Kan-Tung, of altogether 200 square miles, under a lease, to which the greatest importance is attached, as the territory thus acquired is regarded as being essential for the protection of Hong-Kong. The lease comprises the Island of Lantao, to the westward of Hong-Kong, and the mainland behind Kan Tung, south and east of a line drawn from Mirs Bay to Deep Bay. While the Chinese retain the northern shores of these bays, the lease covers their waters, subject to the right of the Chinese to use them for their own ships. When questioned in the House of Commons yesterday evening as to whether Russia contemplated sending troops to the Yang-Tse-Kiang valley, the Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office. Mr. Curzon, made an important statement to the effect that such a proceeding, without the consent of China, would be an act of war and the Government would take the requisite steps to protect British interests. Obviously this is intended as a warning to Russia not to interfere in the Yang-Tse-Kiang valley.
