FOLLOWED BY A MEETING OF THE COUNCIL. Pursuant to public notice, the members of Ops municipal council met at a court of revision on Monday, May 29th, at the usual hour, and after having taken the prescribed oath of office and subscribed thereto, soon disposed of the short list of appeals presented.

Mr. F. Beamish, owner of west three-fourths of lot 23, con. 8, 150 acres, stated that he had bought said farm for $2,000 and thought the assessment should not exceed that sum.

Mr. D. Walker, who had been assessed at $2,700 for some years past, but owing to the low purchase price the assessor reduced it to $2,000 this year.

Mr. J. D. Flaville, who was showing some friends about the mill premises. The poor mother was grief-stricken. The father, who was having left on the 5th of October, will have the sympathy of all in their affliction.

Some Minor Mishaps. Monday, May 22nd, Mr. J. E. Perrin, carpenter, inflicted a painful wound into the bone of his ankle while using an adze on a piece of timber.

Mr. Harry May is another giant cracker victim. He touched a match to a cigarette in his left hand, injuring the thumb and burning and lacerating the flesh between thumb and index finger.

On Tuesday, May 23rd, a young son of Mr. Felix Landry fell and broke his nose and at the same time cut a gash in his upper lip about one inch long and quite deep.

Mr. John Trumble, who is employed by Mr. John Hartley, of East Ops, met with a very unusual accident the other day. He had to clean the teeth of a hog.

Yesterday Willie Parkin, the little son of Mr. Sam Parkin, of the mill, was riding on the sidewalk. Immediately a larger boy took it in his hand to show how bold he was, and pointed it in the direction of Willie's face.

Wilfred, the seven year old son of Mr. R. B. Allan, met with a rather serious accident while celebrating the Queen's birthday. The little fellow was setting off fire crackers, and was using one without a fuse as a light.

May 24th Willie Parkin, the little Deniston, plumber, while amusing his children, received a painful wound on his right hand. Having a lighted match in his right hand, he was about to pitch a large fire-cracker, when it exploded, lacerating his right index finger, almost taking it off at the last joint, and thumb.

Tuesday, 23rd, about 5 o'clock, while Joseph Tetro, of the Rathbun mill, was taking the place of another worker, who was on an excursion, he had occasion to climb up to tighten a nut on a revolving shaft.

Mr. Dryden began his political career when he was elected to the township council of Whitby. Subsequently he was elected reeve by a majority of 160 votes in the local house, and South Ontario in the local house, and was elected again in 1887, 1887, 1890 and 1894.

Those who have heard Mr. Dryden speak will admit that he is an effective speaker. He is not an orator, nor a debater, but his quiet, convincing way of presenting his arguments has a most powerful effect.
