The travelling exhibit car of the Canadian Pacific railway company is making a good deal of success in the eastern counties of England. Much interest was taken in the produce displayed at the Doncaster show at Doncaster, Yorkshire, Harlow and other centres, and the local papers speak of the valuable information as to the resources of Western Canada imparted by J. H. Hays, the general manager of the car under the direction of Mr. Archer Baker. The car will attend the leading agricultural shows throughout the season.

John McQueen, one of the British farmers' delegates to Canada, whose report to the Dominion government was withheld from publication, states that his province has a condemnation of many provisions as a field for emigration he will urge upon his fellow-countrymen the advantages of Manitoba as an agricultural country. He says Great Britain has no market for Manitoba, while the United States is the natural market for the maritime provinces. Mr. McQueen has purchased a large tract of land in the St. Lawrence valley, and will settle there next year.

On Sunday last the police, who had been notified by neighbors, broke in the door and found old Mrs. J. H. Hays, who had been taken to the hospital, lying on the floor. She had not been around for some days, and the residents of the vicinity began to suspect something was wrong. The lady was 84 years of age and had lived alone. A neighbor heard her coughing in the morning, and it is supposed she died from helplessness, old age and lack of nourishment. Her body was taken to the Hinton's undertaking establishment and a son in Ingersoll was sent for. Coroner Crowder inquired into the case. Flock considered an inquest unnecessary.

On Friday afternoon Berkman, who appears to have been hired for the purpose, attempted to murder Mr. H. C. Erick, manager of the Carnegie works, whom he stabbed in the hip and back.
