Enclosed in the last issue of THIS POST we sent out a printed notice to subscribers in arrears for subscription, worded in rather forcible terms, urging the payment of the account. We shall be compelled to take the steps spoken of in the notice, as we must have a large amount of money at once, therefore those receiving such notices should govern themselves accordingly.

Police Court Items.—Alexander and Joseph Burke, aged 14 and 12 years respectively, were charged in the police court Saturday with stealing a carpenter's plane. The boys pleaded guilty and offered to be tried by the judge. It appears that they gave the plane to a young man named Bingham, who tried to sell it, but failed to do so. Bingham was also charged with the same offence, and his case was adjourned for one week. When the younger Burke found that Bingham had failed to sell the plane, he wrote a note to Mr. Wilson, who has a second-hand store, asking him to buy the plane, signing his mother's name to it. The magistrate gave the elder Burke ten days to procure a situation, and if he is found idle in town after that time he will be sent to the reform school. The younger Burke was released on a suspended sentence.

Chief Ball last Thursday arrested two boys charged with stealing a carpenter's plane from one of his workmen. The plane was found in a second-hand store and identified by the owner. Another boy was apprehended later in the afternoon. All three were charged with the same offence. In this case no trace of the missing property could be discovered. The young culprits were remanded until Tuesday next. The thing of coolness in the atmosphere last Thursday week seriously interfered with the attendance of the garden party held by the young ladies of St. Paul's church. The arrangements were perfect and the attendance very fair, but the refreshment tables were not patronized as they would have been in warmer weather. It was really too cool for one to absorb ice cream, with strawberries in reckless fancy work were disposed of, however, and well satisfied with the arrangements. The young ladies expressed themselves as being very much pleased with the arrangements. The Citizens' band took very short rests between numbers, and their music was greatly enjoyed.
