THE SULTAN'S ANSWER.

He Has Ordered His Ministers to Get Things Fixed Up by Thursday (To-Day).

Constantinople, July 14.-Important Ministerial councils were held on Sunday and Monday, at which an indemnity of £6,000,000 was agreed upon as the extreme limit of Turkey's concession. This agreement was sanctioned by an Imperial irade. The councils further prepared a report, stigmatizing the concert of Europe as "a league of cross against crescent." The Sultan, after considering the report, answered by the ollowing irade: "I am convinced that the effort and energy of the powers are directed entirely towards the maintenance of peace and the prevention of fresh complications. In these circumstances, it is the plain duty of Turkey, whose sentiments are likewise pacific, to put an end to the present abnormal situation. "Consequently, I command the Ministers, if possible, to find the necessary means for concluding the negotiations and to sign the preliminaries for peace The foregoing is authentic, but is regarded as a ruse intended to delay a

WHY TURKEY GAVE IN. Germany Just Told the Sultan That He Had to, and He at Once

Cried Peccavi. Constantinople, July 17 .- The announcement by Tewfik Pasha to the Ambassadors that the Sultan had agreed to the principle of their demand, and was prepared to accept their views on the conditions of peace, was due to a message sent him prior to the meeting to the effect that if the Porte had not previously replied satisfactorily, the Ambassadors would adopt an important decision with regard to their attitude toward Turkey. Tewfik Pasha turned up at the last moment and announced that he had been instructed to accept the proposals of the powers.

This change of front is now understood to be the result of the action of Germany. The reply of Emperor William to the Sultan's personal appeal was ambiguous and had induced him to believe that Germany would support him. When, Germany found the powers were resolved on coercion, Emperor William, desiring to prevent such an eventuality, instructed his Ambassador to go to the palace and state distinctly that the Turkish Government must conform absolutely to the decision of the powers. It is said, however, that the Council of Ministers is not unanimous in favor of yielding. Consequently further opposition is feared, although the Ambassadors pretend to be satisfied with Tewfik Pasha's declaration. The Porte has informed the Ambassadors that it has abandoned its intention to send reinforcements to Crete. The Ambassadors and Tewfik Pasha met this morning at the Tophaneh Palace to

JACK M'LEAN'S ESCAPE,

The Burglar Had Two Crowbars, No Less-Did He Do the Job at Toronto Laivershiy? Toronto, July 14.

The mere mention of the name of Jack McLean at Police Headquarters is now sufficient to call forth a reproachful giance from many of the officials and those who are directly connected with the clever burglar's unpopular absence inwardly curse the energy which prompted Detective Davis to go outside the city limits at 2 o'clock in the morning for a desperate criminal who was wanted elsewhere, and bringing him to Toronto to disturb and upset the peaceful serenity and somnalence of their happy little circle of inactivity by having sufficient gumption to break away from custody, when a couple of seven-foot iron crowbars had been left just as uear as possible to where he wanted them. There is going to be a meeting of the Police Commissioners some day and it will then be decided who is to blame for having left the crowbars so far away from McLean's cell, that it would be possible for him to get them without an accomplice. When the Chief or Police investigated the matter yesterday he had all the men immediately concern-(excepting McLean) on the carpet, it is still a mystery how McLean reached out 25 feet and gained possession of the weapon with which he ef-As already stated McLean got through the station when the constable on duly was employed in another room, the door

DEAD EASY FOR M'LEAN. A Fellow-Prironer at Headquarters Tells How the Besperado Got Hold of the Crowbar.

Toronto, July 15. The mystery which puzzled the police as to how Jack McLean, the burglar and desperado murderer, who escaped from Police Headquarters, got hold of a crowbar has been set at rest. McLean was astute and his line of action was the simplest in the that time the north winds have been un- member for Russell county, being elect- world. It appears that the then prisoner spent half an hour in the cells before the Police Court opened. He saw the crowbar in the corridor outside the cage or about 20 feet from the cage. McLean went upstairs into the court-room to be remanded temporarily till the Barrie detective arrived in the afternoon. He was one of the first to go downstairs after being remanded. A fellow prisoner named Callahan, who had just been committed to jail for a term, came downstairs just after, while the stati n du y nilitary changes already mentioned man remained behind to help a lame prisoner down the stairs. McLean, who was downstairs first, with a quick movement picked up the crowbar lying outside the cage and placed it in the closet near by, where he could reach it from inside the cage. Callahan saw this move, and asked McLean what he did that for, McLean winked knowingly at his fellow prisoner and said: "There's a bad smell from that closet and I want to fix it." In the meanhe lame prisoner referred to and of course soners were then taken off to Jall, leaving McLean alone. The Police Commissioners Find That There Was Gross Carelessness-Too Much Figurehead at Headquarters, Toronto, July 17.

The circumstances connected with the escape of the notorious criminal, Albert W. McLean, from Police Headquarters last Monday were gone into thoroughly by the Police Commissioners yesterday morning. The finding of the board was "that Inspector Stephen was guilty of gross carelessness in allowing iron stakes to be left in the corridor at all, and particularly in letting them remain there for seven weeks, The board regrets that so careful and efficient an officer as the inspector has been should be thoughtless enough and by his carelessness indirectly allow a criminal to escape. The board recommends that the door in the basement be strengthened and that the weakness in the cell bars should be immediately remedied."

Welsh, Who Shot Detective Mahoney, Sent Down for 20 Years Says He Will Kill Someone in Penitentlary.

Windsor, Ont., July 17 .- Joseph Welsh, the escaped convict, who shot Detective Mahoney in the leg while endeavoring to avoid arrest, was this morning sentenced by Judge Horne to 20 years' imprisonment. Welsh pleaded guilty to three indictments, each of which was serious enough to send him up for life. Judge Horne said his record was a bad one throughout; that he had twice been sent to the penitentiary, and had an unfinished sentence before him. He had leliberately fired at an officer who was loing his duty, and might have killed "But I did not try to kill him," interjected the prisoner,

Welsh almost collapsed, and the judge said he would exercise all possible lenency, and let him off with a 20 years' Welsh said to one of the guards: "1 wish I had killed that fellow Male ney, but I won't serve out my sentence, 1 will kill somebody down there first,"

The British Troops Intervened to Protect Christians Against the Eashi-Bazouks and a Serious Conflict Followed - Tarks Ordered to Surrender Their Arms.

London, July 14 .- The Times' Athen's correspondent says official despatches have been received announcing that a serious conflict has taken place at Candia between a force of British troops and a party of Bashi Bazouks, arising from the British intervening in a skirmish between the Bashi Buzouks and Christians. Sixteen of the British force and a number of the Bashi Bazouks were killed. The admirals of the foreign fleco have sent five warships to Candia to suppress any further Mohammedan

No further details of the conflict have been received, but passengers who have just arrived from Candia state that on account of excesses by Bashi Bazouks 300 British marines have been landed at Candia to replace the Italian garrison stationed there. In consequence, they have agreed to assure the Ottoman Government that they have arrived at a firm determination to put an end to the obstruction, the only effect of which is the prevention of the conclusion of a peace eminently in the interest of Europe." Saadi Bey, formerly chief accountant of the Ministry of Commerce, who was recently appointed Mutessarif of Urfa, refused to go to Urfa until the arrears of his salary shall have been paid. He has fortified his house in Constantinople and surrounded it with armed men, to whom he has given orders to resist any attempt to abduct him-Saadi Bey's appointment is tantamount to sending him to exile, and was made, it is said, because he was suspected of affiliation with the Young Turkey The Turkish Ministry as a special session of the Cabinet yesterday, discussed the replies of the powers to the circular note of the Porte. Notwithstanding the unfavorable character of the response, a large majority of the Ministers have reiterated their former advice to the Sultan to insist upon the Peneios frontier. It is believed that the Forte, in maintaining this attitude, is acting upon the conviction that the powers would be unable to agree among themselves on any measures of coercion.

Important Move by Turkey. Berlin, July 13 .- The Frankfurt Zeitung's Constantinople correspondent says it is reported that a treaty was concluded at the Yildiz Klosk to-day between the Roumanian and Turkish Governments by the terms of which Turkey will secure military assistance from Roumania in the event of Burgaria's developing warlike designs, Ratifications of the treaty will be exchanged next week.
