

Scott's Emulsion. Oil with Hypophosphites brings back the ruddy glow of life to pale cheeks, the lips become red, the ears lose their transparency, the step is quick and elastic, work is no longer a burden, exercise is not followed by exhaustion; and it does this because it furnishes the body with a needed food and changes diseased action to healthy. With a better circulation and improved nutrition, the rest follow.

The Canadian Post. LINDSAY, FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1927. A MINER'S CATECHISM.

Which Those With Klondike Fever Should Study. THERE IS LOTS OF GOLD THERE. But there are Great Risks. The Government will take steps to protect the revenue and maintain law and order.

Ottawa, July 23.—Mr. Ogilvie's report on the Yukon was published today. It contains nothing new. A meeting was held in Hon. Clifford Sifton's office at the Interior Department this afternoon, at which Hon. W. Scott, Hon. Patterson and Hon. H. W. Scott were present.

A MINER'S CATECHISM. If you would be Gold Hunters Can Answer Yes, Why Go to the Klondike? Ottawa, July 23.—Mr. H. B. Cameron, a practical and experienced mining engineer of this city, writes as follows, which is very timely when so many are contemplating going to the Yukon gold fields.

Several people have already left Ottawa for the new gold fields, and to judge from the many personal enquiries and letters I receive it is plain that many more are on their way. To these I would like to give a little timely advice before they start on their journey, and ask them to be sure they are well equipped with the essentials of success. Let me first mention the essentials of success. Let me first mention the essentials of success. Let me first mention the essentials of success.

Lucky French-Canadians. San Francisco, July 23.—Six French-Canadian miners, who were successful in the Klondike and are now bound for Mount Bennett, are at the Commercial Club in this city. They came from Seattle, having been there for some time, and were on their way to the Yukon.

MOSS TELLS A TALE OF HORROR. Says He Saw Two Thousand Graves in the Klondike Country—Men Died of Starvation. Great Falls, Mont., July 23.—Frank Moss, an old-time miner in this section, who four years ago was one of a party of Americans to visit the Klondike country, returned to-day and tells a story of horrors and starvation seldom equaled even in modern novels.

THE NEW GOLD LAND. No Abatement of Excitement Out West. THE TRUTH TOLD BY NANAIMO MEN. Inspector Scarf of the Mounted Police Heard From Letters Carried for a Dollar Each—Customs Officers Sent from Victoria—A Miner's Night Starve.

San Francisco, July 26.—Instead of abating, the Klondike craze grows more intense. Preparations for the departure from the Cleveland merely added to the mining fever that has swept over the city. All day long Mission-street wharves, where the steamer was moored, was thronged with men and women. Every longshoreman was crammed up the gangplank, and as the steamer moved away, the men became a herd.

Hamilton Man Got. Hamilton, July 23.—(Special.)—Mr. George Fisher, brother of Al. Fisher, leaves for the Klondike district to-morrow, going to Seattle, and thence by the overland route. Mr. Fisher will put in the winter at the spot.

San Francisco, July 23.—The Alaska Commercial Company ship Bertha arrived from the Yukon yesterday with 500 tons of concentrates from the Apollo mine at Unga and a bar of gold weighing 100 lbs. The gold was brought on the same steamer, which was the Klondike steamer, speaking of the Klondike boom.

San Francisco, July 25.—The desire of the gold struck through to reach the Klondike district is reaching its height. The craze of easterners to reach California in the days of '49, or little or no method in the longing of the masses to reach the Eldorado in the great unknown territory of the Northwest.
