Some Lively Bidding.

When President Robertson called for bids Mr. Flavelle opened with an offer of 8q; Mr. Whitton called out a sixteenth better; Mr. Wrighton made the figure 8 1-8c; Mr. Fitzgerald raised to 8 3-8c, and Mr. Flavelle came back with a bid of 8 7-16c. Mr. Whitton wanted cheese, however, and called 8 9-16c, beyond which the other buyers would not go. Mr. Whitton then selected Cameron, Star, Omemee, Fenelon Falls, North Verulam, Reaboro and

Mr. Flavelle then offered 8 7-16c for a further selection, which was raised to 8 1-2c by Mr. Fitzgerald, who took Dunsford, Mariposa, Cambray, Bobcaygeon, North Ops and Janetville. Maple Leaf and Pine Grove refused the Mr. Flavelle again led the bidding for the third selection, offering 81-2c and taking Palestine, Lorneville and Little Britain, and secured Pine Grove and Maple Leaf by offering an extra The board broke up in happy mood, ORANGEMEN AT CHURCH.

mall Turnout of the Brethren at the Annual Church Parade on Sunday. The Orangemen, True Blues and Prentice Boys attended divine service at St. Paul's Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when they were addressed by Rev. C. Hi Marsh, rector, There was a good congregation present, of which the brethren formed but a small pro-Rev. Mr. Marsh took his text from the Acts of the Apostles, 18th chapter, 17th verse, "Galileo cared for none of

St. Pau's arrest and arpearance before Galileo, and the circumstances justifying the expression in the text, adding that there are many things some of us would give a good deal not to care besetting sins, for instance. There are other things we cannot afford not to care for. It may be asked what has the story of Galileo to do with us at the present day? It has much. Men can work up great enthusiasm about politics, about horse races, a base ball match, or something else, but about matters affecting the soul they are cold and spiritless-they care for none of those things. How many men realize the significance of the drums and fifes on the 12th of July? They watch the procession pass with its banners and insignia, but many care not for

It was not his intention to praise the Orangemen unduly-he could see faults in them as in the members of his church; possibly some members of that organization join from a selfish motive- for the promotion of their own ends. He had studied the ritual of the Orange Order, as he had those of other secret and fraternal societies, and he could say that the principles of the Orange brotherhood were the grandest of all-Love of country and love of God's grace were the fundamentals. The very moment the people of a nation commences to lose faith in these, that very moment the nation begins to retrograde. Thank God, that feelling is growing more and more every day in the hearts of all British peo-

It is not a matter of indifference whether a mun is a Roman Catholic or a Protestant; it is not a matter of indifference whether Japan is to become christianized or remain a heathen nation. While tolerant to those of other faiths, we should uphold our own religion. Under the old Hebrew dispensation the sinner had to approach the priest in the Holy of Holies to intercede for him with God. When Christ came the poorest beggar or the foul leper could approach the Son of Man and say "I have sinned," and if truly repentant he was made clean without having to seek the intercession of anyone. No mediator is needed between Christ and the sinner. Orangemen should be kind, courteous and tolerant to those of other religious beliefs, and conquer by good example and precept. They should be soher and good-living champions of Protestantism. If they prove false to their grand principles-if they live for evil rather than for good, then the Order will suffer in public esteem, and lose its power for good.

Votes of Thanks. After the brethren had returned to their lodge room cordial votes of thanks were passed to Rev. Mr. Marsh, and also to the organist and the choir, in Central prison. for their efficient services.

LONDON'S NEW BISHOP.

Short Sketch of Rev. Mgr McEvay who is Sishop of London. The Catholic Register in publishing the appointment of Rev. Mgr. McEvay as Bishop of London, says :-"Right Rev. Fergus P. McEvay was born in Lindsay, Ont., on the 8th December, 1852. He received his education at Lineway Separate school, St. Michael's College, Toronto, St. Francis' Seminary, Milwaukee, and the Grand Seminary, Montreal. He took the Dowling medal for literature at St. Michael's in the class of 1877, and stood high in all his classes, and captured several prizes. He was ordained priest those things." The speaker described on the 9th of July, 1882, and was then appointed parish priest for Fenelon Falls, where he remained five years. While in this parish he had charge of several churches, scattered over a wide area, and did much travelling on horseback, administering the comforts of religion to the people and accomplishing a heroic work. After this he was appointed rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, and chancellor of the diocese. On May 1st, 1899, on the occasion of the translation of Bishop Dowling to Hamilton, it was arranged between the Bishop of Peterborough and the Bishop of Hamilton that he should be transferred to the diocese of the latter, which arrangement was subsequently ratified at Rome, and he obtained a new tutulus for the Diocese

"Soon after this he was appointed rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, which position he has held with great acceptability. Bishop McEvay has been very successful, not only in the spiritual work of the church, but also in church building and repairing. While in Peterborough he ably carried out the bishop's idea in erecting St. Joseph's hospital and several other important improvements in connection with the there. Since he arrived Hamilton, he has been in labors abundant, supervising the erection of the magnificent new presbytery, St. Lawrence church, and a beautiful mortuary chapel and vault at Rock Bay cemetery, as well as extensive repairs to the cathedral. His busy life contains the fullest evidence of his untiring efforts to promote the interests of the English Universities Democratized.

Says the London (Eng.) Spectator:

A remarkable and unique event has happened at the Mathematical Tripos at Cambridge this year. Not only is the senior wranglership bracketed between two students, but these students represent the nouvelles couches sociales, whose presence at our universities is transforming the character of our seats of learning. One of the senior wranglers, Mr. George Birtwistle, began life as a poor boy at Burnley, his father having died when he was young and his mother having to support her young children. And now, at the age of 22, the poor Burnley youth finds himself at the head of the learned and promising young men of England of and afterwards went to St. John's Col-
