PEACE AND NOT WAR.

It is to be peace, after all, and not war. The announcement will be gladly received by the doughty warriors who have been indulging in all sorts of jingo braggadocio. The Dominion government have wisely decided not to order out the troops and fight, but have in their organs announced their intention to abolish the rebate on grain via the Welland canal trans-shipped in Canadian ports for Montreal and to impose the old toll of twenty cents on all grain passing through the canal no matter what its destination or no matter who carries it. This abandonment of any untenable position has been forced by President Harrison; but we have no hesitation in stating that our government have taken the wiser course and that they deserve credit for it. This solution of the difficulty is one that Mr. Chapleau strongly favored. Speaking the other night to an Ottawa correspondent of the Mail he said that Canada "cannot afford to quarrel with the United States over a matter of this sort, that we must have friendly trade relations with the United States, and that a great deal of irritation which is finding expression against Canada across the line, while there is not just cause for it, can nevertheless be understood on this side and should be allowed for." Canada will thus have the credit of adopting a new maxim of statecraft, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."
 President Harrison will no doubt not now put into force the act authorizing him to levy tolls at the Soo canal.

A MOWAT DEMONSTRATION.
 The Dundas True Banner has made the capital suggestion that at the forthcoming grand liberal convention to be held in Toronto next fall one day should be set apart for a suitable demonstration in honor of Sir Oliver Mowat. This excellent idea has been very cordially received by the liberal press, and it is favorably alluded to by several conservative papers. As the True Banner truly says: "There is no instance in history of one man holding a premiership continuously for twenty years, and when we consider that in all these twenty years Sir Oliver has been maintained in office by the popular vote it shows what the people think of him. As the champion of provincial rights, a principle which he successfully upheld in the privy council in England over and over again in fighting Ontario's battles, he has a strong claim upon our people, and we hope to see a demonstration in his favor in October, when he will have reached his twentieth year in office." If this suggestion is carried out, and we trust it will be, our worthy Dundas contemporary should lead the procession, mounted on a grey horse, and carrying the True Banner of reform. Seriously, however, if the convention is held in Toronto the program should include an "Oliver Mowat day," which would give a fitting opportunity to make a worthy demonstration in honor of Ontario's premier and would attract immense numbers from all parts of the province.

MR. GLADSTONE IN POWER.
 The cables announce that in anticipation of the division in the house of commons, which was to take place yesterday, Her Majesty has arranged to have Mr. Gladstone meet her at Osborne today, when he will be entrusted with the task of forming an administration. It is understood that Sir William Harcourt will be chancellor of the exchequer; Mr. John Morley, secretary of state for foreign affairs. Home rule is the all-absorbing topic. Lord Salisbury in his speech in the lords intimated that their lordships would do their duty to the country—by throwing out the coming home rule measure. Mr. Gladstone promptly answered the challenge by a significant intimation. If the measure is thrown out stirring times may be expected.

THE LINDSAY, BOBCAYGEON AND PONTYPOOL RAILWAY.
 We understand the provisional directors of the Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and Pontypool railway, held a meeting Monday and discussed the question of ways and means with the view of going on with the undertaking. We believe, they came to the conclusion that it would be necessary to receive by way of bonus a considerable amount from the interested municipalities before it would be possible to finance for the construction of the railway. Details are to be considered and arranged at meetings to be held shortly, and then the scheme will be officially promulgated. The railway will be a decided advantage to this section of the country and we hope the company will be able to devise a bonus and financial plan that will be acceptable to the municipalities interested and that will ensure the early construction of the line.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
 The death of Geo. W. Badgerow, county crown attorney of York, occurred at Buffalo on Sunday last, after an illness extending over a period of two years. The deceased gentleman represented the riding of East York for twelve years in the legislature and was widely known and greatly respected by a very large circle of friends.

The will of A. T. Fulton of Toronto, the wealthy retired grocer, whose death took place a short time ago, was probated the other day. The estate is valued at over $300,000. This is the first will to be taxed under the new succession duty act passed at the last session of the legislature, and the province will secure over $10,000 instead of only the usual surrogate fees.

At a mass meeting of Catholics, held at Winnipeg Monday night, it was unanimously decided to maintain separate Catholic schools in that city. Committees were appointed to devise ways and means for the successful carrying on of the schools. The Catholics will pay the taxes for the public schools, but send their children to separate schools supported by the people of their church.

The death of Sir Daniel Wilson, president of University College, Toronto, occurred at his residence last Saturday afternoon. For thirty-nine years the deceased president has occupied a foremost place in the educational life interests of Canada, and assisted in laying the foundation and developing one of the grandest educational systems of the world. He was born in Edinburgh on January 5th, 1816, and he was consequently in his 76th year.

The Dundas Banner is setting out the startling theory that many thousand years ago the natural channel of the Niagara river was down the Dundas valley, and the Horseshoe falls once thundered where the Dundas canal now oozes in philosophic indifference. That was in the epizootic age when the Hamilton mountain was a mere pimple and muddy Little York a sink-hole out on the road to Hogg's Hollow. The Dundas hackmen were too extortionate in those days, and the river was moved to the boundary greatly to the injury of the cotton mills which the N. P. of that day had developed.

Mr. Blake has more than realized the expectations formed in the old country from the great reputation that preceded him. He was entertained at a banquet by the Eighty club in London last Thursday evening and made one of his finest speeches. The cable reports all state that it was a great success. One correspondent says he made a distinct hit when in referring to the house of lords he declined to assume beforehand that the lords would reject any bill that was passed by the commons after a general election following upon six years' discussion in the country. "Time enough," said Mr. Blake, "to bid the devil good morning when you meet him." The London Chronicle warmly praises Mr. Blake's speech and says it is understood Mr. Blake's entrance into the imperial parliament was due to the expressed wishes of Mr. Gladstone, who was anxious to have his co-operation in setting the details of home rule.

 discovery of this continent. Exercises of this kind could be made very interesting, and should exert a good influence on the youth of our country.

The above circular has been issued to the inspectors and teachers of the public schools in Ontario, by the minister of education, Hon. G. W. Ross.

Mr. H. H. Dewart, son of Rev. Dr. Dewart, and Mr. J. W. Curry, have been appointed county attorney and clerk of the peace for York county, a position rendered vacant by the death of Mr. G. W. Badgerow. These are excellent appointments. Mr. Dewart has been an active member of the Toronto young men's liberal club, and has rendered valuable political services. He is a clever and promising lawyer. Mr. Curry formerly in Millbrook, and is a Port Hope boy, who has taken good rank in the profession in Toronto. We congratulate Messrs. Dewart and Curry on their appointment.
 A special cable to the Globe on Thursday says: The Hon. Edward Blake to-night fulfilled his promise, of which I called you some days ago, to speak at a meeting under the auspices of the home rule union in memorial hall in London. The hall was crowded. The audience was one of the largest that has been seen in recent years at a political meeting in the heart of the city. Mr. Blake spoke for just over an hour on the chief present phases of the Irish question. He spoke with magnificent effect. The address is universally voted an extremely fine effort. Many of his hearers, with a long experience in politics, say it is one of the best speeches they ever heard. It was much more popularly effective than the address delivered before the Eighty Club. Mr. Blake was received with great enthusiasm. Premier Feilding of Halifax also addressed the meeting.
 Lord Salisbury is expected at Osborne House to-morrow to tender the resignation of the present government upon the adoption by the house of commons of the "no confidence" amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech.

The Globe says: There ought to be a concerted effort to arouse the people of Ontario into an interest in the question of improving the roads. Good roads would mean not only more money in the farmers' pockets, but increased comfort, greater facilities for social intercourse, a general betterment of all the conditions of country life and a consequent checking of the migration from the country to the great cities. It would mean also an improvement in the business of the country towns. The Woodstock Sentinel-Review is doing good work in arousing public interest in the question, and its example ought to be followed more extensively. Our railways are built by skilled engineers. Why should our common roads be left to unskilled labor without intelligence or direction? Statute labor, says the Sentinel-Review, "fails because it does not construct permanent roadways on sound principles, and because it does repairs only for a few days in the year. The system is all round. There is no organization and no continuity of aim and of work about it. Some of the pathmasters are intelligent, others less so. But none of them can do good work under a bad system. The work of a good pathmaster is often undone by a less efficient successor. But the most scientific and conscientious road maker could accomplish little under a system which gives him unskilled labor for only a few days in the year. The system is all round. A waste of effort and a cause of public loss so great as to be beyond calculation. We may have progressed in some respects but we have not got much beyond barbarism in road making."
