-All the alcohol in the world will not contribute a drop of blood, a filament of nerve, a fibrila of muscle, a speculum of bone, to the human economy. > Re King-st. Improvements. (To Editor of The Post.)

S.r.-Would it not be well for "Observer" to wait until the improvements on King-st., opposite P. J. Hurley's elevator, are completed, before airing his views through the press. Stupidity and lack of judgment are the prime faults attributed to me, or in another word, "fool." Somewhere there is a strong sentence attached to him that calleth his brother a fool. Now, even in these heated "dog-days" we would expect to receive from "Observer" a little more charitable language in his first epistle on sidewalks. "Observer's" remarks to me on Saturday morning re the work being done at that point, impressed me forcibly that "there are others" not wanting in stupidity and lack of judgment. However, I trust that "Observer will exercise a little patience and wait until the proposed sidewalk on King-st. is completed-then he can wade into the press with his insinuations knee deep, and roll all over the yard in his choice language re stupidity and lack in Miskoka on Friday. Men, Brethren, Sisters and City Fathers,-Just take a walk or take a ride on your bicycles, or get into your carriages and come over to King-st., in the east ward, and see the beautiful piece of granolithic walk that is being constructed from the Rathoun Co's office to the railroad crossing at Car-

I understand there was an order of council a short time ago giving some near the boundary, says he would like one authority to construct a walk at to know the names of certain members | that point, but who gave authority to place it 10 feet out from the buildings along the street? And yet this piece of corduroy is being built, and for 12 or 15 feet, at the end nearest toCaroline-st., is much lower than the centre of King-st., and must be a receptacle for mud and slush during spring and fall.

The first thing that presents itself to the observer is that the convenience of the public is being sacrificed to the interests of the person owning the elevator. The second thing is the stupidity and lack of judgment in the construction of this piece of corduroy. If we were living 25 years ago, this piece of work might have been an improvement, but as it is, we can only look upon it as a retrograde movement-a positive disgrace. At this particular place there are more people walking each day, than at any point in this part of the town. Because of this fact the people living over here, ought to be more courteeouslyb treated, and the appearance of the street better served at the point under consideration.

How is it going to be possible to keep this tow-path clean and safe for pedestrians, passable for ladies with their baby carriages, and keep all out gons off this tow-path, unless a constable is there to protect it constant-

Berlin, Aug. 21 .- Andrew Hauss, of this town, confirms the story that he was quickly cured of pains in the back and kidneys by Dodd's Kidney Pills. He had tried rubbing with liniments and various other remedies to no purpose, and he was advised to take Dodd's

"I did," he says, " and got better from the time I started to take them. I am sircere in saying that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, for which I cannot be too thankful." In a letter dated June 19, 1899, Mr. Hauss answers an enquiry as to his cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills as follows: "I am pleased to say I am cured entirely through taking Dodd'sKidney Pills." Yours truly,

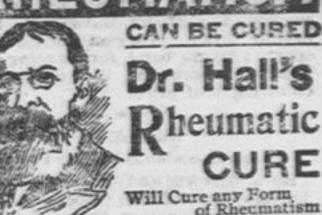

ANDREW HAUSS. Don't Worry.

The Magazine of Sanitation and Hygeine gives the following good advice: It is trite to tell women to take every day as it comes along, to avoid remorse over what is done, and forebodings over what is to come, but it is no less valuable advice. Nervous prostration is seldom the result of present trouble or work, but of work and trouble anticipated. Mental exhaustion comes to those who look ahead and climb mountains before they arrive at them. Resolutely build a wall about to-day, and live within the enclosure; the past may have been hard, sad or wrong-it is over. The future may be like the past, but the woman who worries about it may not live to meet it-if she does she will bear it The only thing with which she should concern herself is to-day its sunshine, its air, its friends, its frolics, its wholesome work, and, perhaps, its necessary sorrow.
