Boys' Suits, Boys' Overcoats, Men's Suits, Men's Overcoats.

The predominant quality of Boys' Clothing should be durability. Boys are not men, and boys' ways are not men's ways. No use to tell the little fellows to be careful of their clothes, they can't do it and enjoy life. So we carry a line of goods to meet the situation; Cloth that will not tear under ordinary strain, stitched close together, threads extra strong, pockets large, linings that will not rip, buttons sewed on to stay, and as stylish in cut and perfect in fit as they are durable.

Is your sight failing? it trouble you to read, particularly at night? It so NOW is the time to give your eyes proper attention. Relieve them of this strain and thus preserve your sight.

The belief that the use of glasses should be postponed as long as possible is erroneous. As soon as the approach of failing sight is apparent, glasses should be used, as the longer the eyes are deprived of the aid which they need the more rapidly they grow worse. Some people raise the objection that the use of Spectacles once begun must be continued. In most increases sight gets WORSE, not BETTER, and one has the choice of wearing Spectacles and seeing with ease and comfort or going without them and seeing imperfectly and with discomfort.

Among young people a large proportion of habitually weak sight may be entirely remedied by the use of properly adjusted Spectacles.

Remember it costs you nothing to have your eyes carefully tested by us.

"HE WAS HINGRY."

Further Testimony Truching Senecal's Extertions-The Grg applied by the Tory Majority-Mr. Chapleau's Turn Comes Next.

The most important witness before the public accounts committee Tuesday morning week was Colis Scott, book-keeper of the Dominion type foundry of Montreal. He said that the money paid Senecal was sometimes paid him by the president, sometimes by the manager or $8.50 by himself. On two occasions he gave him $9.00 | checks for $100 or $200. Senecal got from $10.00 the company in all $1,800 and other

"Had your president any correspondence with Mr. Chapleau?" asked Mr. Lister. that letter from Chapleau, for Mr. Crosby had taken it into his own possession four or five weeks ago. Senecal did not tell him the usual story of wanting to make a payment on land. He simply wanted money.

Sir Richard Cartwright asked the witness if his firm subscribed to the conservative The chairman (Wallace) ruled this out of

Mr. Wood (Brockville) argued that this committee had nothing to do with such Sir Richard held that as this firm were public contractors their subscriptions to the government were of interest to the country and the committee. He instanced the case of Larkin, Cornolly & Co. Mr. Chapleau and Mr. Foster took the ground that this committee was empowered to investigate the public accounts and

Mr. Foster pressed for a ruling when Dr. Landerkin said that the constant practice had been in this committee to let the investigation go so long as it touched only the smaller villians, but the moment it reached a higher if was stopped. Mr. Costigan raised a point of order and characterized this as a villainous expression-the lowest expression he had ever heard among gentlemen.

Mr. Lister said that no matter how the chairman ruled be would insist on his right to ask the question, and argued that it was very important.
Chairman Wallace ruled the question out

Mr. Chapleau then rose to state that Mr. Stark, of this company, had written him that the company was being forced to suscribe to the party funds. He then replied to Stark that this was not being done by the authority of the governmen when he (Stark) withdrew his insinuation. Mr. Lister showed that this was merely done by Stark to prove to the government that he was sound to the committee.

Sir Richard Cartwright stated that he was instructed that Stark was asked for and did make the subscription. Mr. Lister wanted to ask the witness about this, now that Mr. Chapleau had brought it up, but the chairman still ruled

"I don't know who he is," said Mr. Lister. "I'm trying to find out." Mr. Moncreiff (conservative) from Lambton supported Mr. Lister's question, which he was allowed to put.
The witness said: "Yes, I know why the repudiation was withdrawn. "Do you know of your own knowledge?"

asked Mr. Lister. "Yes," was the positive reply. "I do no know now it came about, but it was this: The company was compelled to pay $1,500 to Francois Benoit, French secretary of the conservative club of Montreal, and after that our goods were taken without any trouble." He said that he drew the check himself for the $1,500, and it was signed by Alex. Murray, their late president. After that the repudiation of Senecal's order was withdrawn in writing.

CHAPLEAU AND "YANKEE BOODLERS."

Press Makers-Large Subscriptions to the President of the Montreal Tory Association-A Remarkable Story. There was trouble and fear in the Chapleauite camp when the public accounts committee met last Thursday morning. Mesers, Dansereau, Black, Tache, Col. Audette and other members of the secretary of state's retinue were buzzing about and doing their utmost to make matters smooth. Some satisfaction was expressed over the statements that none of the witnesses would volunteer anything and that one important witness would refuse to produce a letter proving Mr. Chapleau's connection with the corrupt Berthiaume

He said he had no particular busipresents such as a mirror worth about $60 ness before being appointed postmaster of and several cases of chanpagne worth $29 | Montreal. Almost before he finished the representative of the Potter company began to tell him the practice in the States, which was what the Hoe man told him. He knew that Mr. Senecal was superintendent of the bureau at the time. Witness never thought he would exact commissions. He simply warned the Potter and the Hoe companies against paying commissions because Mr. Chapleau asked him to do so. He never mentioned anything about the matter to Mr. Chapleau on his return About three weeks later a Hoe representa tive came to him. He said that the whole thing was in Sanecal's hands and to go and see him. He never had any conversation with Mr. Senecal about the bureau and never had any letter from him about it. He and Mr. Chaplesu went to New York together afterwards but he did not know whether Mr. Chapleau saw about the presses or not. He told the New York people that there were two conservative associations in Montreal and gave the name of the president of the French association, Mr. Benoit. He had no idea from Mr. Benoit or anyone else how much the New Yorkers paid. He was not aware that from $8,000 to $15,000 was paid, He did not give the names of the officials of the English association because he did not know them. Mr. Bergeron-And when you went to Yew York it was not for that ? Mr. Dansereau-Oh, ao. (laughter) Mr. Forbes-Was any Yankee boodle used during the last election for the conservative party? Mr. Dansereau-I don't know. To Mr. Chapleau he said he heard from gentlemen in New York that yankee boodle was given to the liberal party.

Mr. Dansereau-Yes. (Laughter) To Mr. Lister witness said La Minerve was in difficulties in 1879, and Rolland & Sons advanced $13,000 to help it. Witness produced an agreement between the Rollands and himself dated in 1875, by which they got the privilege of printing the Montpetit readers for 20 years, and they were to give him half the profits. His income amounted to $5,000 yearly more or less. He had acquired the Montpetit copyright for $10,000. Mr. Lister—That is a pretty soft snap.

James Johnson, commissioner of customs, said he did not know whether the type imported by Patterson, of Toronto, paid duty or not, but would find out. A MAN WITH A BAD MEMORY.

J. Brooks Young, president of the New England paper company, was next called. He had a contract with Mr. Berthiaume of La Press. The contract was in court. Mr. Lister read a copy of it and asked in it was a true copy. Mr. Chapleau objected to the admission of this document, but his objection was overruled, Mr. Lister remarking that this point was already rettled by the house. By the contract the New England paper company accepted for the La Presse indebtedness notes for $8,000 endorsed by Mr. Chapleau. A clause of the contract provides that if the company gets any govern-ment contract half the profits shall be adplied in reduction of the notes. Mr. Young said the copy was substantially correct. He said Wurtele & Co. were the original proprietors of La Presse and indebted to the New England paper company. Wurtele & Co. transferred the paper to Berthiaume, who assumed Mr. Wurtele's indebtedness, about $9,000.

This indebtedness was met by the notes profits because he thought Mr. Berthiaume would work harder to secure the contract if he was to get a share of the profits. It was in consequence of Mr. Berthiaume's remark that the clause was inserted.

Mr. Lister asked witness to produce etter he had received from Mr. Chapleau confirming or approving of the clause to livide the profits. Mr. Young said he had none. Mr. Lister—Did you receive such a letter rom Mr. Chapleau?

Mr. Young-I don't know,

Mr. Lister-Will you swear you did not. Mr. Young-No. Continuing, witness said he was a witness in the suit of the New England paper company vs. Berthiaume, and that Me Chapleau's firm was their counsel. He did not remember that such a letter was produced in court and ruled out by the judge. Mr. Lister-Did you not get a letter from Mr. Chapleau confirming the agreement?

Mr. Young-I don't remember. Mr. Lister-Have you not said so within the past four weeks. Mr. Young-I can swear that, I don't remember. (laughter).

Mr. Young-I don't remember. Mr. Lister-Have you spoken to anyone within the past few days about this case? Mr. Young-I don't remember. Mr. Lister-Well did you or did you not?

Mr. Lister repeated the question about receiving a letter from Mr. Chapleau. Mr. Young-Now it seems to me I did get a letter. (Laughter). You have it there let me read it. (Laughter.) Mr. Sproule objected to the regetition of these questions. The chairman ruled that questions should not be repeated because the witness was not a hostile

He next went to the Potter company and told them the same profit. After the agreement with Mr. Berthiaume was signed he sold the government to the value of $1,085. He received $1,074 on which the profit was $137. He offered Mr. Berthiaume half of this $137 in accordance with the agreement but Mr. Berthiaume refused to take it because it was too small. (Laughter.) WANTS TO GET AWAY. As it was time to adjourn, Mr. Lister asked Mr. Young to search for the letter he got from Mr. Chapleau and to bring it back. Mr. Young said he was an American citizen and knew what Mr. Lister was driving at. He knew nothing of what they

Mr. Lister-If you don't come you wil Mr. Young replied that he was an American citizen and they could not arrest him. They could not prove that Mr. Chapleau knew anything of the agreement. Mr. Lister said he could prove such letter was produced in court and ruled out.

Mr. Chapleau said that Mr. Brown, a member of his firm, was present in the court and could prove that no such letter was produced. He asked that Mr. Brown be pution the stand to testify on that point. Mr. Lister protested against Mr. Chap-leau breaking in on his examination. Mr. Brown could be summoned afterwards if

Sir Richard Cartwright said it was most outrageous thing he ever heard of to and friend, they presented her with a very interject a witness in this way.

Mr. Lister said the conduct and answers of the witness showed conclusively that there was a letter approving of this corrupt bargain, Mr. Young's statement could not carry the conviction of truth. Mr. Young-Why should I undertake to come here and defend Mr. Chapleau-

Mr. Lister-I don't know. Mr. Young-Chapleau and Berthlaume are enemies of mine. They broke faith. there was such a letter I would produce it. Sir Richard Cartwright said it was contrary to reason and practice to interpolate witnesses in this way. SCHOOL PICNIC.-The annual picnic of the F.ngcrboard school was held on Friday afternoon, the 11th of September, in Mr. Wm. Beacroft's woods, south of here. About 3 p.m. proceedings began; a fine platform was erected for the speakers and plenty of seats for the audience. Mr. Thos. Broad, ex-reeve of Mariposa, was elected chairman. The speakers were Rev. P. A. McLeod of Sonya, Mr. Sam Hughes of Lindeay, Mr. J. Vallentyne and the chairman. The addres-es were of a high order, and elicited applause from the audience. The speeches were interspersed with recitations and singing by the school children. The spelling match was won by Clarence Mark, who received a nice book the baseball match between Uxbridge and Salem teams. As will be remembered our team went down to Uxbridge and defeated that club, winning $40. The Uxbridge boys came over to avenge their defeat. The prize was $20. The visitors succeeded in "obtaining" the prize. We cannot say "won" owing to the circumstances under which the game was played. Our boys were disappointed, as some of their best players failed to turn up. They played with eight men, and one of them had not played in a match for years; whereas Ux-bridge had their full force and an extra innings. The score stood 6 to 4. In the evening a concert was given in the Zion Methodist church. Songs were rendered by Messrs. Weeks, Hutchins, Yerex and Vallentyne. Recitations were given by Rev. Mr. Wilson of Little Britain and others. Taking everything into consideration, the picule reflected great credit upon Mr. J. Vallentyne for his enterprise. A very large crowd attended the gathering, and all will be looking forward to the occasion next year with great anticipation.

[Correspondence of The Post.] ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION, -The bible class students waited upon their Sabbath school teacher, Miss Bella Ross, Saturday evening last, and after they had read an address in which they expressed with great pleasure their appreciation of her services, beautiful writing desk, dressing case, glove and handkerchief box.
