

CELERY BITTERS

Are sold in Quart bottles or in packages, 50c. each. One package makes about one and a half bottles. Can be used as easily as ordinary tea. Tonic, aperient, digestive, diuretic, perfect blood purifier and nerve tonic; restores strength and vitality to run down constitutions; acts directly on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. Sold at PERRIN'S DRUG STORE.

At PERRIN'S Drug Store.

TERMS, $1.00 PER YEAR.
PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

NOVELTIES IN DRESS GOODS.

New Fall Dress Goods Opened up Every Day.

Just to hand a handsome lot of New TWEED SUITINGS in Dress Lengths—no two alike, the very Newest and Nobbiest Goods in the Trade.

Opened this week a full range of COLORINGS in 45 in. All-Wool HENRIETTAS at from 5c. to 7c. per yard.

Less than any Other House in Town can Quote Them.

BLACK CASHMERE AND HENRIETTAS.

Full range of Prices of New Fresh Goods just to hand. Value Unapproachable. Extra Special Values in Black Silks and Brocade Mantlings.

WE DO THE DRESS TRADE OF THE TOWN

because our Styles, Qualities and Prices are always right.

We have just received advice of the arrival of the Steamships "Furnessia" and "Circassia", which have

TWENTY-SIX CASES NEW FALL DRY GOODS

for us, imported direct from Glasgow, which will be opened and placed in stock in a few days.

OUR STAPLE DEPARTMENT is overflowing with Great Bargains in Grey Flannels, Shaker Flannels, Crêtonnes, Shirtings, Tickings, Cottons, Looms, etc. We have some Special Bargains in Towels, Towellings and Table Linens. New Hemp Capers and Oil Cloths just opened up. For Bargains in Useful and Reliable Dry Goods of all kinds come direct to

WARNER & CO.,

THE GREAT BANKRUPT STOCK MEN,

76 and 78 Kent-st., Lindsay.

ENGAGEMENT RINGS

which are new, rare and beautiful. We shall be happy to show you these goods and quote prices, which are away down.

The sales in our Fancy Goods department are constantly increasing. It's the low prices that do it.

A new line of Violins and Accordions in a few days.

HUGHAN & CO.,

The Jewellery People.

New Advertisements.

THE CANADIAN POST WILL BE sent to any address in Canada, Great Britain or the United States for One Dollar a Year. Address THE POST, Lindsay, Ontario.

FARM FOR SALE.

The East Half of Lot 5, in the 7th concession of Marlborough, in the Township of Marlborough, in the County of Hastings, Ontario, is offered for sale. The property consists of 100 acres of land, with a good house, barn, and other buildings. For particulars apply to JAMES ROACHE, Auctioneer, Lindsay, Ontario.

FARMS FOR SALE

in Virginia and Maryland.

Almost in view of the Capital at Washington, D.C. Salt water, fine fishing, river, and other advantages. Finest tramping ground in the world. Half day from the city. The farms are in the best of cultivation. Transportation cheap. 100 to 1,000 acres, with good buildings, and other improvements. For particulars apply to JAMES ROACHE, Auctioneer, Lindsay, Ontario.

PURE-BRED BERKSHIRE BOAR

FOR SERVICE.

The undersigned would take this opportunity of offering for sale a few of his pure-bred Berkshire Boars. For particulars apply to JAMES ROACHE, Auctioneer, Lindsay, Ontario.

W.M.C. CORNISH,

Lot 5, Con. 5, Little Britain Township, Sept. 2, 1892.

New Advertisements.

FOR SALE.—A good second hand PIANO, in good order. J. R. DUNDAS, Lindsay, August 18th, 1892.—19-3.

WANTED.—Good general servant. Good wages. Apply to C. D. BARR, Registrar of Deeds, Lindsay, Aug. 24, 1892.—20-3.

HOUSE TO LET.—Brick house, nine rooms; fruit and shade trees, lawn, hard and soft water. James Gallon's late residence. Possession Sept. 1st. T. H. THENTON, Wood, Coal, Hay and Straw.—19-3.

CARD.

MISS FLORENCE McDONELL, late pupil of the Toronto College of Music, is prepared to give lessons in instrumental music at her residence, 65 Lindsay-st., Lindsay, August 23rd, 1892.—20.

FAIRM FOR SALE.—The North Half of Lot 12, 10th con., Township of Marlborough, in the County of Hastings, Ontario, is offered for sale. The property consists of 100 acres of land, with a good house, barn, and other buildings. For particulars apply to JAMES ROACHE, Auctioneer, Lindsay, Ontario.

TENDERS.

Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to August 30th from parties wishing to erect a Stand and Platform on Fair Ground at Victoria Road, during the fair on 21st and 22nd of September next. Highest tender necessarily accepted. Parties desiring to furnish their own material see required.

A. C. GRAHAM, Secretary, Victoria Road, Lindsay, 1892.—20-3.

WOOD AND COAL.

Order Your WOOD AND COAL

from Jos. Killaly, who has on hand the very best quality. Orders left at J. P. RYLEY'S Hardware Store will be promptly attended to.

JOS. KILLALY, Lindsay, Aug. 25, 1892.—20.

TO MILL-OWNERS, LUMBER-DEALERS, AND OTHERS—SALE OF VALUABLE FARM

—IN THE—Township of Eldon.

There will be offered for sale by the undersigned, the premises situate in Campbell's Hotel, in the Village of Kirkfield, on TUESDAY, September 6th, 1892, at 10 o'clock p.m., sharp, by PUBLIC AUCTION, that valuable farm consisting of Lots 4 and 5, in the 10th concession of Marlborough, in the Township of Eldon, in the County of Hastings, Ontario. The property consists of 100 acres of land, with a good house, barn, and other buildings. For particulars apply to JAMES ROACHE, Auctioneer, Lindsay, Ontario.

VALUABLE TOWN PROPERTY.

Under and by virtue of a power of sale contained in a mortgage which will be produced at the time of sale, there will be sold by Public Auction at the

Benson House, in the Town of Lindsay,

—ON—WEDNESDAY, 14th day of Sept., 1892 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the following lands and premises: Lots numbers One, Two and Three, North of Kent St. and East of St. David-st., in the said town of Lindsay, containing three quarters of an acre more or less, and a large frame house, with a garden, and a number of other buildings, and a large lot of land, with a good house, barn, and other buildings. For particulars apply to JAMES ROACHE, Auctioneer, Lindsay, Ontario.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MASSES.

He rejoiced that they had in all classes of this community the territorial aristocracy and the higher education, the wealth and the refinement, true, firm, outspoken liberals still. But one could not conceal from oneself the fact that a proportion of the liberal strength in these forces had in these later years been somewhat weakened, and that a greater responsibility, a greater power, devolved upon the masses of the country. He trusted and hoped—aye, he believed—that the democracy of Britain would be equal to this great new task which it found imposed upon itself; and he earnestly remarked that in order to have an adequate discharge of that task it was necessary that it should exhibit the virtues, not merely of political penetration and far-sightedness, but of steadfastness of discernment and of loyalty to faithful service rendered to its cause. (Cheers.) More and more it was a temptation to the politician who sought the suffrages of a large and popular constituency to be dishonest—not to be dishonest in the ordinary sense of the term, but to dishonest in the higher or moral sense—to align with his convictions; to trifle with the truths which he believed in his soul; to keep silence about things upon which he thought some portion of those whose suffrages he solicited might differ from him, and not to give an honest rendering of the faith that was in him. (Cheers.)

UNPOPULAR FOR THE SAKE OF TRUTH.

He warned them that one of the greatest dangers they had to consider was that of a breed of politician. He warned them that one of the greatest prizes they could obtain was a man who dared to be unpopular for the sake of truth and honesty. (Loud cheers.) They must look at the whole of the circumstances; they must consider past services and present issues; they must not dispose—he did not say of the vote of such a man, but of their own votes—upon the narrow consideration of one single topic; they must look over the whole field, and he said, adhere to the man who believes in his soul; to keep silence about things upon which he thought some portion of those whose suffrages he solicited might differ from him, and not to give an honest rendering of the faith that was in him. (Cheers.)

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY HARVEST EXCURSIONS

FROM ALL STATIONS IN ONTARIO, RETURN RATES TO

Oxbow Deloraine Mooseminth Nesbitt Regina Moosejaw Yorkton Calgary Prince Albert

EDMONTON, $40

To leave all points in the Province of Ontario, Return until 10 o'clock, 1892.—

August 16 Return until 10 o'clock, 1892.—

August 23 Return until 10 o'clock, 1892.—

September 6 Return until 10 o'clock, 1892.—

THE LIBERAL GOVERNMENT WOULD ALSO HAVE TO AMEND AND TO RENDER EFFICIENT THE SAME AND ABOLISH ATTEMPTS AT LEGISLATION OF THE LATE GOVERNMENT—ABOLISH ATTEMPTS WHICH THESE PRESENT HANDS MAKE (Laughter and cheers.) The measure which had been enumerated was nothing strange to the people of Canada—generally speaking. And it was amusing to them, who had experienced these measures in law and seen the great good they had worked, to read the solemn diatribes against them

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MASSES.

He rejoiced as heartily as any man amongst them when he saw that they took up, earnestly dealt with, and grappled with, after the fashion of Englishmen, the great question of education some 22 years ago. And he believed that the fortunes of England were largely dependent upon their action, and that her future was brighter and more hopeful, because the decision in that matter would be given during the next ten years, which would be given by an educated instead of an ignorant democracy. (Cheers.) He looked at the question when it loomed upon the political horizon—that of Irish home rule—as the probable period for the commencement of that cleavage to which he had referred—that new adjustment of the political forces as between the classes and the masses, which, even apart from it, was inevitable. His belief was, as expressed at the time, that the old wild and territorial and aristocratic element—not entirely, thank God—would largely ally themselves with the democratic and liberal element for the purpose of opposing the new movement. (Cheers.)

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MASSES.

He rejoiced that they had in all classes of this community the territorial aristocracy and the higher education, the wealth and the refinement, true, firm, outspoken liberals still. But one could not conceal from oneself the fact that a proportion of the liberal strength in these forces had in these later years been somewhat weakened, and that a greater responsibility, a greater power, devolved upon the masses of the country. He trusted and hoped—aye, he believed—that the democracy of Britain would be equal to this great new task which it found imposed upon itself; and he earnestly remarked that in order to have an adequate discharge of that task it was necessary that it should exhibit the virtues, not merely of political penetration and far-sightedness, but of steadfastness of discernment and of loyalty to faithful service rendered to its cause. (Cheers.) More and more it was a temptation to the politician who sought the suffrages of a large and popular constituency to be dishonest—not to be dishonest in the ordinary sense of the term, but to dishonest in the higher or moral sense—to align with his convictions; to trifle with the truths which he believed in his soul; to keep silence about things upon which he thought some portion of those whose suffrages he solicited might differ from him, and not to give an honest rendering of the faith that was in him. (Cheers.)

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MASSES.

He rejoiced that they had in all classes of this community the territorial aristocracy and the higher education, the wealth and the refinement, true, firm, outspoken liberals still. But one could not conceal from oneself the fact that a proportion of the liberal strength in these forces had in these later years been somewhat weakened, and that a greater responsibility, a greater power, devolved upon the masses of the country. He trusted and hoped—aye, he believed—that the democracy of Britain would be equal to this great new task which it found imposed upon itself; and he earnestly remarked that in order to have an adequate discharge of that task it was necessary that it should exhibit the virtues, not merely of political penetration and far-sightedness, but of steadfastness of discernment and of loyalty to faithful service rendered to its cause. (Cheers.) More and more it was a temptation to the politician who sought the suffrages of a large and popular constituency to be dishonest—not to be dishonest in the ordinary sense of the term, but to dishonest in the higher or moral sense—to align with his convictions; to trifle with the truths which he believed in his soul; to keep silence about things upon which he thought some portion of those whose suffrages he solicited might differ from him, and not to give an honest rendering of the faith that was in him. (Cheers.)

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MASSES.

He rejoiced that they had in all classes of this community the territorial aristocracy and the higher education, the wealth and the refinement, true, firm, outspoken liberals still. But one could not conceal from oneself the fact that a proportion of the liberal strength in these forces had in these later years been somewhat weakened, and that a greater responsibility, a greater power, devolved upon the masses of the country. He trusted and hoped—aye, he believed—that the democracy of Britain would be equal to this great new task which it found imposed upon itself; and he earnestly remarked that in order to have an adequate discharge of that task it was necessary that it should exhibit the virtues, not merely of political penetration and far-sightedness, but of steadfastness of discernment and of loyalty to faithful service rendered to its cause. (Cheers.) More and more it was a temptation to the politician who sought the suffrages of a large and popular constituency to be dishonest—not to be dishonest in the ordinary sense of the term, but to dishonest in the higher or moral sense—to align with his convictions; to trifle with the truths which he believed in his soul; to keep silence about things upon which he thought some portion of those whose suffrages he solicited might differ from him, and not to give an honest rendering of the faith that was in him. (Cheers.)

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MASSES.

He rejoiced that they had in all classes of this community the territorial aristocracy and the higher education, the wealth and the refinement, true, firm, outspoken liberals still. But one could not conceal from oneself the fact that a proportion of the liberal strength in these forces had in these later years been somewhat weakened, and that a greater responsibility, a greater power, devolved upon the masses of the country. He trusted and hoped—aye, he believed—that the democracy of Britain would be equal to this great new task which it found imposed upon itself; and he earnestly remarked that in order to have an adequate discharge of that task it was necessary that it should exhibit the virtues, not merely of political penetration and far-sightedness, but of steadfastness of discernment and of loyalty to faithful service rendered to its cause. (Cheers.) More and more it was a temptation to the politician who sought the suffrages of a large and popular constituency to be dishonest—not to be dishonest in the ordinary sense of the term, but to dishonest in the higher or moral sense—to align with his convictions; to trifle with the truths which he believed in his soul; to keep silence about things upon which he thought some portion of those whose suffrages he solicited might differ from him, and not to give an honest rendering of the faith that was in him. (Cheers.)

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE MASSES.

He rejoiced that they had in all classes of this community the territorial aristocracy and the higher education, the wealth and the refinement, true, firm, outspoken liberals still. But one could not conceal from oneself the fact that a proportion of the liberal strength in these forces had in these later years been somewhat weakened, and that a greater responsibility, a greater power, devolved upon the masses of the country. He trusted and hoped—aye, he believed—that the democracy of Britain would be equal to this great new task which it found imposed upon itself; and he earnestly remarked that in order to have an adequate discharge of that task it was necessary that it should exhibit the virtues, not merely of political penetration and far-sightedness, but of steadfastness of discernment and of loyalty to faithful service rendered to its cause. (Cheers.) More and more it was a temptation to the politician who sought the suffrages of a large and popular constituency to be dishonest—not to be dishonest in the ordinary sense of the term, but to dishonest in the higher or moral sense—to align with his convictions; to trifle with the truths which he believed in his soul; to keep silence about things upon which he thought some portion of those whose suffrages he solicited might differ from him, and not to give an honest rendering of the faith that was in him. (Cheers.)

The Canadian Post.

WILSON & WILSON, PROPRIETORS.
G. H. WILSON, F. W. WILSON.

BLAKE AT NEWCASTLE.

ANOTHER ELOQUENT SPEECH.

Canada's Statesman Speaks on behalf of John Morley—Path, by Mr. G. Adams and the British Democracy.

Hon. Edward Blake, M.P., received a great ovation on the occasion of his speech at the Newcastle town hall on behalf of the candidature of Mr. John Morley. His reception was quite as enthusiastic as that of Mr. Herbert Gladstone, the speaker who preceded him.

The Hon. Edward Blake, M.P., who was received with cheers, said he regarded it as a very great privilege to be permitted upon the first occasion upon which he had addressed a town meeting in England, to address one in the city whose progress, materially and politically, he had long watched from the other side of the Atlantic. A long time ago, before that period 25 years ago at which it was his fortune to commence in the narrower sphere across the sea the active duties of political life, he speculated advance upon what seemed to him to be the inevitable within the next quarter of a century, the democratic power in England; and he believed, that advance being inevitable, that two things were to be considered—one, whether the long neglected duty of the English rulers towards the masses of the English people would be performed in time—whether they would take care to give to the masses of the country an education; and the second—when and how, and to what extent, and in what form would take place that split or cleavage between the different classes of the community, which it seemed to him was inevitable when the time of the reign of the democracy arrived.

A BRIGHT FUTURE—AN EDUCATED DEMOCRACY.

He rejoiced as heartily as any man amongst them when he saw that they took up, earnestly dealt with, and grappled with, after the fashion of Englishmen, the great question of education some 22 years ago. And he believed that the fortunes of England were largely dependent upon their action, and that her future was brighter and more hopeful, because the decision in that matter would be given during the next ten years, which would be given by an educated instead of an ignorant democracy. (Cheers.) He looked at the question when it loomed upon the political horizon—that of Irish home rule—as the probable period for the commencement of that cleavage to which he had referred—that new adjustment of the political forces as between the classes and the masses, which, even apart from it, was inevitable. His belief was, as expressed at the time, that the old wild and territorial and aristocratic element—not entirely, thank God—would largely ally themselves with the democratic and liberal element for the purpose of opposing the new movement. (Cheers.)

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

SALEM—MARIPOSA.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

BASE BALL.—Great interest is being taken in the base ball match which will take place between the Heathers of Astoria, champions of York county, and the Salem club. Salem will place a strong team on the diamond and are determined to defeat this hitherto invincible club. The match will be on the grounds during the game and will furnish choice music.

KIRKFIELD.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP.—Mr. William Foster has built a new blacksmith shop opposite the residence of Mr. J. H. Adams, on first-class mechanics, and no doubt each will receive a fair share of patronage, as both are well equipped for the business.

GOOD OPENING.—There is a good opening here for a first-class blacksmith. If the right man opens here he will receive any amount of work.

VESTMENTS.—Mr. and Mrs. McKenzies and family of Toronto spent a few days at the time since visiting friends. Mr. H. Chisholm is in Toronto, having received a remunerative position of engineer in connection with the street railway company. Mr. Ewen McKenzies is also at present in Toronto, attending to the work now going on there in connection with the laying of the trolley system.

MARIPOSA STATION.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

TEMPERANCE BAND.—The Temperance band held their yearly business meeting on August 22nd. The following officers were elected for the coming year—Honorary president, Mr. B. Hancock; president, Mr. J. E. Ross; vice-president, Mr. G. Lang; recording secretary, Miss M. Foster; treasurer, Miss L. Prior. The program committee consists of Miss L. Prior, Mr. W. D. Prior, Miss M. Foster, Mr. H. Foster, Miss S. Parkinson, Mr. A. Rich. Committee for attending to literature table at Mariposa Station, Miss E. Parkinson, Miss M. York, Miss Maud Foster. The committee will be supplied with funds from the Temperance Band treasury. The next monthly meeting will be held on Saturday, September 4th, at 2:30 p.m. Sheet addresses are expected from the new officers and other interesting features. The band will be held on Saturday, September 4th, at 2:30 p.m. Sheet addresses are expected from the new officers and other interesting features. The band will be held on Saturday, September 4th, at 2:30 p.m. Sheet addresses are expected from the new officers and other interesting features.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GARDEN.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

TERRIBLE STORM.—A terrible storm passed over this vicinity on the 25th by which most of the farmers lost heavily, the water being risen higher than it did in the spring.

PERSONAL.—Mr. James Huff, who has been absent for two years, returned last week, looking like an elderly man, and Mrs. McFarlane and Miss McFarlane of Rochester paid Mrs. John Wittale a flying visit last week. The many friends of Mrs. D. Dugan will be pleased to hear she is recovering.

LUMBERING.—Quite a number of our young men accompanied by their fathers to the township of Longford, where they intend to remain for the winter. My success attend you, boys.

WORLD LIKE TO KNOW.—Why some of our young men missed the train last week? Why G. K. came back from the north in such a hurry the other evening? Why some of our young people were not married on the 12th, as reported?

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

NOVAR.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

ORANGE SERMON.—Rev. Mr. Richards, of Huntsville, preached a very able sermon to our Orangemen on Sunday evening last, in the Methodist church.

SCHOOL RE-OPENED.—Our school has reopened under the leadership of our worthy teacher, Mr. Dicky.

CHURCH SERVICES.—We hear that the store lately owned by Mr. McEwen has been bought by Mr. MacGregor, who intends starting a grocery.

WHAT WOULD LIKE TO KNOW.—Why some members of our choir do not get out to practice on Friday evenings? Who counts the rocks down south a mile or the other every Sunday evening? Why an attraction brings somebody to the Methodist church now? What took the "deacon" to the Northwest?

PROMISES.—Promises have been the order of the day lately. Another is expected on Friday next.

MATRIMONIAL.—Several unexpected weddings in our vicinity lately. More expected in the near future.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Pringle and daughter, of Seabrook, have been spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Oster. Mr. and Mrs. Conroy spent Sunday in town. We are sorry to hear that he intends moving away soon. Mrs. MacEwen, who has been in the Ritchie settlement. Mrs. McClelland of this place has been spending a few weeks visiting friends in Gravenhurst and Severn Bridge.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

OMENON.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

HARVEST.—The harvest is nearly all saved before the late rains. The oat harvest is an excellent crop.

POLITICS.—The members of the Curry family here, besides many other leading conservatives are disgusted at the action of the Dominion government in dispensing with the services of the Rev. Mr. Campbell, Dr. Chas. Curry, post-master of Minden.

FESTIVAL.—The Presbyterians are already on the look-out, preparing an extra bill of fare in every respect, on or about October 20th.

HIGH WATER.—The water in Pigeon river never was known to be so high as this year. The water in the Yea fishing is reported so good by campers.

CHURCH.—The Rev. Mr. McCann conducted the services in the English church on Sabbath very acceptably. He has a large field of usefulness ahead of him.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.—The memorial services in connection with the late James Magee are conducted by the Rev. Mr. Thompson in the Methodist church on last Sabbath and were very impressive; the attendance was large.

THE NEW HOTEL.—The new hotel had a union jack hoisted on last Saturday, having all the walls and roof completed. The next new building will be erected by our worthy post-master, Mr. G. Trandy, having purchased a lot from Mr. Thos. Matchett, county treasurer, Lindsay. It is one of the most desirable lots in the town.

SCHOOLS RE-OPEN.—The schools here opened Monday with a large attendance and bids fair to keep up the number as the past results appear very satisfactory.

UNION JACK.—The name and style of a certain writer in our local paper announces that he will again resume writing belittling articles against the union jack. He has given their signatures for licenses selling less harm resulted from two licensed hotels than one. It is rumored about the town that the Rev. Mr. McCann has been to our local paper will cease to exist.

HARVEST HOME.—The Salvationists held a harvest home festival in their barracks on Saturday evening. A large quantity of vegetables were sold by auction.

PERSONAL.—Miss Byers and Miss McCrea left for Toronto last Saturday, where they teach school. Miss A. Stephenson is for Bowmanville and Miss Daisy Stephenson for Lindsay. Our high school teacher, Mr. Robertson, returned from his vacation on Saturday last. Mr. McCwayne, of the public school, has also returned from his vacation. Mr. J. H. Byers, photo-

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

CENTRE MARA.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

A LONG LOST BROTHER.—Rev. Father Hogan of Upper Gore received a letter from his brother, Mr. J. Hogan, who had been missing for many years. Mr. J. Hogan has only one daughter in Ireland, and she got the letter from Father Hogan and was surprised to find that the long lost brother was still alive. Mr. J. Hogan, who went away seventeen years ago and never been heard of since, had got married a short time ago and was getting along well. He has a young son and a daughter. Mr. J. Hogan is now in Chicago and is home visiting his friends and looks well. Mrs. McGee of Lindsay, has returned home again after visiting Mrs. T. O'Brien. Miss Bridget Ann Fiddan of Chicago is home visiting her friends and looks well. Mrs. L. O'Leary is home from the States spending a few days with her friends and relatives.

RHEUMATISM.—Mr. J. O'Leary is slowly recovering from his long stage of rheumatism.

POPE ADDER.—Mr. J. Gaughan lately killed a large puff adder; they are scarce in this part.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

OAKWOOD.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

PERSONAL.—Miss Agnes Hogz has returned to Toronto after a pleasant visit here. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss H. C. Hogz, of the post-office here, who goes home for a few days well-earned rest. Mrs. Chas. Parris is home again from a three weeks' absence. Her old home and friends in Monaghan, looking as though pleased with her trip. She was warmly welcomed home.

A NEW TRADING MACHINE.—Mr. George W. Martindale has purchased an A. I. new steam thrasher, L. D. S. & Co.'s make, and is having a fine run of business and giving good satisfaction. He has secured as assistants Jos. Burgess of Darlington, an experienced diploma engineer, and George Hicks, a champion thrasher and the son of an old thrasher. They hope to secure a good share of patronage. They are good fellows, all courteous and obliging. The machine threshes anything, including peas, with the longest kind of straw and bran, wheat, etc.

A BIG TRANSACTIONS BY BARLEY.—Mr. R. Rich, Mariposa Station, turned into the Hog Bros. elevator the other day 2,000 bushels of barley, a part of this season's crop.

SICKNESS.—Mrs. Thos. Bowser, senr., was arranging for a trip west in company with Mrs. A. O. Hogz and Mrs. W. T. Bowser, but was obliged to forego the same, as she is glad to learn that she is now recovering. Mrs. Charles Thomas has also been ill, but is now somewhat better.

WOMAN SINGER.—Joyceville in the household of Mr. John P. Cunningham. A baby boy came to them. Mother and infant doing well.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

PALESTINE.

(Correspondence of The Post.)

BUILDING NOTES.—Several of our enterprising farmers have erected fine and substantial barns this past summer, namely: Mr. Neil Campbell, one of our best farmers, has erected a fine barn on the E. D. McClelland's farm one of the finest barns in the whole Palestine settlement. The barn is 72x50 feet with a stone basement underneath the whole. It has a large room for stabling. Our worthy reeve is to be commended for his fine barn, and his able tenant, Mr. Campbell, for the way he looked after the property. Mr. Campbell has all the conveniences a farmer requires except one very important one, and that is a wife. We learn that he is seriously thinking of getting married and after he gives it his due consideration we are almost sure he will act accordingly. Mr. Duncan McClelland has erected a fine barn on the site of the late Mr. McClelland's farm. He has all the modern improvements about his barn, too. Duncan is one of the many good looking bachelors in our neighborhood, and we fully believe he has an eye on a change in the near future. Mr. Neil McClelland has erected a large and commodious barn to replace the one burnt down last year. There is stone stabling underneath the whole building. Mr. Dan Brown, one of our enterprising farmers, has also erected on his farm a fine and stable. Dan also has one of many bachelors who reside in our midst. Mr. Joseph Forman, another one of our noble young men who seem to prefer singlehood to married life, has erected on his farm a large barn this summer. The time may come ere long when our many genial and good-looking bachelors will give the clergyman a call. If not, we would suggest that they start a bachelors' society to discuss the various questions of single and married life. There are many who would like to start a good society.

SCHOOL NOTES.—Our school is in a prosperous condition under the able management of Miss McLellan.

STRICTLY PRIVATE.—We are pleased to see that Allan Ferguson has passed the recent entrance examination held at Kirkfield. Well done, Allan.

STRICTLY PRIVATE.—We are pleased to see Mr. Colin McLellan around again after his mishap. Mr. George K. has a liking to learn how to play the bagpipes.

STRICTLY PRIVATE.—We learn that Harry Kearns is about engaging with a noted stock-raiser to look after his stock. Well done, Harry. Mr. A. Stephenson, of our town, has also returned from his vacation. It is a year since any of his contributions appeared in the paper.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GRAVITY TO ALL.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the popular fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and are abundantly attested by the California Fig Syrup Company.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GRAVITY TO ALL.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the popular fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and are abundantly attested by the California Fig Syrup Company.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GRAVITY TO ALL.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the popular fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and are abundantly attested by the California Fig Syrup Company.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GRAVITY TO ALL.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the popular fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and are abundantly attested by the California Fig Syrup Company.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GRAVITY TO ALL.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the popular fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and are abundantly attested by the California Fig Syrup Company.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GRAVITY TO ALL.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the popular fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and are abundantly attested by the California Fig Syrup Company.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GRAVITY TO ALL.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the popular fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and are abundantly attested by the California Fig Syrup Company.

LOCAL NEWS-LETTERS.

GRAVITY TO ALL.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the popular fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based, and are abundantly attested by the California Fig Syrup Company.