GOOD CROPS.—Harvesting is now over and farmers are well pleased with the prospects for fair prices for their produce. Apples are very plentiful in this district, and our reliable cooper, Mr. M. Wakeford, is pushing with orders for apple barrels at present. Our people patronize home industries every time.

IMPROVING.—Mr. Oliver Bowles is nearly all right again after the attack of the rheumatism. There are no more cases at present to report, and it is to be hoped that there won't be any more.
REPORTS are coming in that the potato crop is decaying in the hill or the ground. Some report half of them rotted.
A LOSS.—Mr. P. Moffat had the misfortune to lose one of his cows and Mr. Jas. Powles also lost one, the best in the yard. It is generally the best that goes.
