A WORKMAN BURIED IN KENT ST SEWER THURSDAY WEEK.

Loose Earth Caved in and Pinned Him Down, But Luckily His Head was not Entirely Covered—Great Excitement for a Short Time.

Henry Moore, bricklayer, who resides in the east ward, narrowly escaped death on August 25th while laying pipe and cementing joints in the deep sewer being put in on the south side of Kent-st. Owing to the recent heavy rains the soil has become very soft and treacherous, and a few minutes after one o'clock, while making a joint nearly opposite the Simpson house, a quantity of earth broke away and fell into the drain in front of him, causing him to step back to avoid it, and as he did so a portion of the tank behind, weighing probably several tons, fell with warning and covered him from the sight of those working farther up the drain.

Willing hands were soon at work with shovels and picks, and he was extricated in a few minutes and carried into the empty store adjoining Mr. J. H. Lennan's, where Mr. Frank Keenan turned his medical knowledge to good account in the absence of a doctor. Moore was almost unconscious for a time owing to lack of air and the effects of a severe blow on the head inflicted by one of the heavy earth tiles, which fell with the bank of earth, but he felt well enough a few hours later to walk about and receive the congratulations of his many friends on his very narrow escape.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them, and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering, and that is using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

SANITARY BARBER SHOPS.

The Necessity for Care and Cleanliness Emphasized. The importance of sanitary regulations for barber shops is urged by a German author, Herr Berger, says an exchange, who states that these places are responsible for the spread of many diseases in addition to those of skin, hair and beard. The barber himself should be free from epilepsy, spasms of any kind, drunkenness and infectious diseases. He should pay special attention to cleanliness of his own hands and person, and should be instructed in appearance of diseases of the skin, scalp and beard. Persons having contagious diseases of the skin, hair and beard, or other parts should be attended to at home with their own instruments.

A Position of Extreme Peril.

Orillia Times: A very serious accident, which nearly had a fatal termination, befell Mr. W. Reid, of Ardree, on Sunday. He left his home at seven o'clock that morning to fight fire in his fallow, opposite Mr. C. Brennan's farm. As he did not return home to dinner his wife got anxious and went to ascertain the cause of his delay. Meeting with no response to her repeated calls she grew alarmed and secured the help of the neighbors to look for Mr. Reid. It was not until four o'clock in the afternoon that he was found, pinned down by a tree that had fallen, and lying near a raging fire with the ground all round him burned several inches deep. A very little longer and the unfortunate man would have been literally roasted to death.

It Was a Whale.

The Bob. Independent tells the following fish story: Mr. C. W. Gearing and wife, of Franklin, Pa., who registered at the Rockland, spent a week fishing with Guide John McDermott. They had a splendid time and the catch was good. They took with them a large box containing ten maskinonge weighing over 12 lbs. each, two 15 lbs. and two 16 lbs., with 25 bass. Whilst out fishing one day Mr. Gearing had a most thrilling time with a maskinonge just off Sand Point, near Jackson Reid's lodge. They spent over an hour playing the fish, which persisted in leaping the bottom. Mr. Gearing, with a good line of 150 ft. and with 150 ft. of line out, could not get the fish to raise. Mr. Gearing's wrist played out with the tugging and pulling, and was told by several who were witnessing the sport that he could not land him. This proved a fact, for the fish wore off the hooks, and got away. It is reported by Geo. Fells that a serpent was seen down here, and it is believed was on Mr. Gearing's line. Mrs. Gearing was more successful; she landed a 12 lb. maskinonge with ease.

Her Treasures.

She screamed in terror when her purse Was snatched from out her jeweled hand And hurled a modest semi-curse Toward the fleeing, bold brigand; And when the copper caught the thief She seized the purse with anxious air, And breathed a sigh of sweet relief To find her treasures all were there.

A penciled note, Her watch she wore, A sugar plum, A wad of gum, A hairpin (beast), A copper cent, A comb, With broken crook, A safety pin, A curling tin, A powder bag, A sachet, and these were the treasures which she bore.

These were the treasures which she bore.
