Friday and Saturday were gala days for the people of Bobcaygeon and surrounding country, they being the days fixed for the annual fall exhibition of the Verulam agricultural society.

IN HORSES some excellent specimens were shown by M. M. Boyd, J. L. Read, Jos. Junkin, Thos. Russell, and others. Some fine carriage teams and single drivers were also exhibited.

ON ENTERING the hall Mr. A. E. Bottum's exhibit of stoves and ranges presented a fine appearance, and Mr. J. T. Robinson's display of latest styles of boots and shoes and ready-made clothing no doubt brought him his reward financially before the fair closed.

IN THE LADIES' department the exhibits were most attractive, as usual, and in drawn work, Berlin wool work, macramé work, etc., the specimens shown were excellent.

THE PARADE. The most interesting feature of the occasion was the parade of M. M. Boyd's animal curiosities, which took place on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.
