Centrifugal Cheese Rack.

Mr. John Levey, for many years employed at Makins' foundry, has entered the ranks of inventors, and with a first-class article, too. Every person intimate with the work of cheese factories knows the labor and trouble necessary in turning the cheese regularly during the process of ripening, and it is also well known that inferior cheese is often turned out because the factory man has not the time, or will parts. not take the trouble, to do this work properly. Mr. Levey's invention consists of a cheese rack, operated and worked by a timber in this vicinity for the past nine simple half-turn of a lever, 30 cheese being turned with greater ease than one can be turned by hand. Mr. J. McAdams has secured the agency for Ontario, and will visit the different factories in turn.

Canada a Winner Canada has many things that excite the curiosity and admiration of the outside world. Amongst these it is doubtful if any Canadian institution commands more general interest than the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal. You may travel anywhere throughout Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Qaebec, Manitoba. British Columbia and Newfoundland, and there you are sure to see the Family Herald and Weekly Star, a paper that is looked forward to each week with intense longing by its subscribers. Oatside of Canada, too, the Family Herald and Weekly Star has a very large circulation, one of the highest tributes that could be paid to its excellence, for it goes right in and competes with foreign papers and beats them on their own ground. A Misunderstanding Caused the Delay.

[Special despatch to THE EVENING POST.] Lindsay, 25th Sept 1896. Sir -With reference to the reply to the address a the station this morning, it is perhaps well that you should be aware -- in case of any uncertainty existing -of the fact that the reason his excellency alluded rather especially to the fact that he was af aid some of the peop'e were delayed some time at the statio was that, although it was quite understood by their and the mayor and others had arranged to attend at the station at that hour), yet by some accidental over-sight the originally intended hour of 9 30 had been placed on some cards containing a printed program. His excellency was afraid, therefore, that there might have been some disappointment on the part of those tented than the demeanor of the large gathering at the station, and throughout the day. Possibly you will be informed by others that before leaving their excellencies expressed to the mayor, Colonel Deacon and others, their hearty appreciation of all the arrangements which had been made in connection with their visit in which they were avidently mostly their visit, in which they were evidently greatly interested.—Yours faithfully,

WM. CAMPBELL, SECRETARY.

-The second trial of Michael Brennan for the murder of John S. Strathy will take place at Barrie on Oct. 5:b. -The excursion from Midland to Port Hope on Saturday was well patronized, there being over 350 on board the train when it arrived here. A number of our citizens took advantage of the cheap trip. -A substantial lock-up is being built at Kinmount. The cells below are of stone and cement, the walls being two feet thick. The upper story will be frame, and will be finished so as to serve as a hall, court room, or public library, or perhaps -One of the most pleasing features of the visit of their excellencies was the reception at Sr. Joseph's Convent. The notice given the Sisters was exceedingly short, only little more than twenty-four hours, but in that short space of time a highly creditable program was prepared. The music room of the convent was beautifully decorated with tinted autumn leaves, which, distributed tastefully over the white walls and white curtains, had charming effect. The children, about 150 in number, arranged on three tiers of rising seats, wore maple leaves on their breasts. The choruses by the children were rendered in good style, and the duett by Misses Mollie Daly (plane), and Maud O'Halloran (violit), and the song by Miss Ella Brady, were well given. Miss Edith McGee, of Schreiber, Ost, rendered with consummate skill and ease a plano solo, which met with warm applause from their excellencies. Miss Ella Gross's song, "The King is Coming," given in her yery best style, with all the full sweetness and purity of her beautiful voice, concluded what his excellency in his remarks called "a charming and unique entertainment." The nest address of welcome to Lord and Lady Aberdeen from the convent pupils was happily responded to by his excellency.
