LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCT 29, 1897 DON'T LET THE CLOCK RUN DOWN.

"The human body," says a great physiclan, "is a saventy-year clock."

Yes, and like all other clocks, the time it treated. Take the pendulum weight off | minutes. Sold by A. Higinbotham. the end of the wire and your clock will rattle away at the rate of half a dozen bours in one. Neglect It and it will run irregularly; now fast, now slow. Break the mainspring, or a wheel, and it stops instantly. Take intelligent care of it and a good clock will serve your grandchildren as faithfully as it now serves you.

feetly well, yet, speaking literally, Mr. Thankful we are, and more thankful still he is, for that. But he was frightfully near it. The pandulum beat very slowly and weakly, and the hands could scarcely be trusted to tell the true time. "About five years ago," writes Mr. Brown, "I was completely run down. I lost my appetite. I could get nothing to lie on my stomach. Sometimes I would take dizzy scells and nearly fall down, and would see black dots before my eyes. I kept getting worse all the time. "I tried different patent medicines; they gave me no relief. I kept getting worse. I tried two of the best doctors in the place; they did me no good. I was obliged to take to my bed.

"I would take faint spells and my heart would beat and flutter, and I would nearly smother for breath. I felt more like dying than living."

[These fainting or sinking spells of which Mr. Brown speaks are a peculiar feature of the disease he was suffering from. Only modern physicians, and not all of them, understand their gravity or have given them the study they call for. No sensation is more alarming, none more demoralising to the patient. While they last the angel of death seems to have folded his wings over the sufferer's pale and anxious face. The cause is a poison in the blood arising from continued fermentation of food in the stomach. It acts upon the nerves of the train, lungs, and heart, as a hand might impede the pendu

Henry George for Mayor. It is a great fight that is being waged for the mayoralty of greater New Yorkthat four-cornered fight in which the contestants are General Tracy, republican, Seth Low, independent republican, Judge Van Wyck, tammany, and Henry George, democrat. The Cleveland Recorder, a well-informed journal, has this to say about it: "The demoralization of the spoilsmen in New York politics, the spoils men of both parties, is evident from the bitter cry which has gone up from their HONES headquarters because George Henry has effected a combination which adds to his own strength the strength of party reg-

"This combination is a good thing. It is a union of the democratic forces of Greater New York. To understand It we must remember that Greater New York is made up of boroughs consisting of the old political divisions. There is, for instance, the borough of Manhattan, consisting of old New York, the borough of Kings, including the old city of Brooklyn, and so In each of these boroughs borough officers are to be elected, and for the whole of Greater New York, a mayor and other city officials. The candidate for mayor is Henry George, and upon the ticket with him are other candidates similarly nominated. But in each borough the supporters of George have indorsed a borough ticket already nominated. In all the boroughs except Manhattan they have indorsed the regular democratic ticket. In Machattan the only reason they have not done the there is their own, Tammany hall having one 25c. bottle I have been completely one 25c. bottle I Low ticket. These endorsements are not simply wonderful." merely declarations of approval, they are the result of arrangements with the originators of the tickets endorsed, and that is why the poils hunters have called

Much has been made by the plutocratic press of the whinings of some of the men who were at first among George's supporters. A census of these men shows, however, that George will lose nothing by their defection. In numbers they are few, and in character they are of a class whose support of George, while it continued, was Direct importer and dealer in FOREIGN and DOMESTIC GRANITES, MARBLE, Etc. George because he is a Jeffersonian demotion is the stamp of regularity which the criticized arrangements put upon the George movement. Fot only does that add to its strength, but it places him in a position to oust Tammany hall from the next democratic national convention. With Henry George, as leading candidates in this campaign, are Charles W. D,yton, the candidate for comptroller, whose executive ability made him one of the most efficient as he was the most popular of the postmasters of New York; Jerome O'Neill, the candidate for president of the council, whose long experience as a Central Labor union delegate has not only given him the highest standing in organized labor circles, but made him an expert parliamentarian. One peculiarity about this fight which George leads is that it will be watched with deep interest by the civilized world, by which alone George's fame is limited; - watched in fear by plutocrats, and with hope and enthusiasm by the democrats of all parties.
