At the last general conference of the Methodist Church of Canada it these in the building line, and I owe thanks was decided that a million dollars to many patrons for esteemed orders. The best material and best work has been my motto. schemes of the church. This fund was called the "The Twentieth Century The season for Storm Sash is approaching. Don't wait for the first cold snap-Thanksgiving Fund." The amounts subscribed could be used as the submeasure your windows now, and get the work done at once—a little forethought may scriber designated, five options being specified viz .: For educational work, superannuation, superaumerary, missionary work, or local church debt. The offering of Cambridge-st. Methodist church toward the fund was es-timated at $3,000, and on Sunday, at ington-st. Bridge Victoria Planing Mill both services the special contributions were given. The total amount received was over $2,400, of which sum $880 was subscribed by the officers, teachers and scholars of the school.

The superintendent, Mr. Boxall, ex-Office immediately opposite the Daly House, Kent-st., Lindsay. pects the total offering of the school to reach $1,000, leaving a small balance to be given by the membership of the church. Indications are that the estimated amount will be easily realized in the allotted time for receiving by the instalment plan. In the afternoon Mr. Ambrose Kent, superintendent of Trinity Methodist Sunday school, Toronto, gave an in-spiring address to the children, which was listened to with marked attention. The scholars formed in line, and marching down the aisles deposited their offerings in the plates set in the front of the church. The result of the offering is indeed gratifying to pastor and people alike. In the after-noon Miss Winters and Mr. H. Brimmell favored the school with two solos, given in good form.

JOLLY TIME AT RAISING. Another Fine Barn Bears Witness to the Growing Time in Ops Township. It would be interesting to know the amount of money put into new farm buildings in the township surrounding Lindsay during the past twelve months, but there is no accurate means of ascertaining the information. Certain it is the figures would prepresent a very large sum, as every lumber dealer in town reports that the local sales have been the largest in their experience-and some of them have been here for many years.

On Thursday of last week, Mr. James Teevins, an enterprising young far-mer of North Ops, added to the long list of fine barns in the vicinity of Lindsay. Nearly one hund-red of his friends attended the raising, including many from town, and the attendant festivities were of a particularly enjoyable character. The crowd began to gather soon after one o'clock, and at 3.30 the opposing sides started work under Capt. Thomas Flynn, of Fenelon, and Capt. David
Burley, of Verulam—both experts and as smart as they are made. The way the timbers went into position excited the admiration of old farmers who had been heard of at barn raisings in their day; the candidly admitted that the work was being done in right "nifty" fashion, and one and all united in praising the skill of Carpenter Wm. Miller, of Lindsay, who had framed the timbers and whose exact calculations had made it possible for the men to display their cleverness. The contest was won by Capt. Flynn, and

A Sountiful repast was served about men, with but a few minutes to spare. 5 o'clock and a glance at the abundance of good things provided by the ladies whetted the appetites already sharpened by hard work. After supper Mr. Chas. Podger entertained the gathering with Gramaphone and banjo selections and comic songs. Later on the lads and lassies gathered and danced till near daybreak, carrying away pleasant memories of one of the most enjoyable barn raisings held in Ops for many a day.

Lieut Dan Godfrey's Band. visit of the famous British Guards Band to Lindsay on Saturday next promises to be a notable event, Independently of a commanding position as a musician, every bandsman is or has been a member of the British army, and some have seen active service in many parts of the world. It is expected that many will come from outside points by train to attend the afternoon concert in the Academy, and the Esturion and Alice-Ethel will convey excursion parties from Bobcaygeon and Fenelon Falls respectively, remaining till about five o'clock. The evening concert will be delayed for half-an-hour to give merchants and members of their staffs a chance to attend after the rush of business is over. The bandsmen will remain in last year. town over Sunday at the Benson and Simpson houses.

On Monday morning, at 2.30 o'clock, our old friend, Mr. John Kennedy, familiarly known as Captain, breathed his last and said farewell to the cares of earth, and we trust his spirit was wafted with angelic songs to realms of glory. Mr. Kennedy was born sixty-two years ago on the farm now owned by his brother James, on the 14th con. of Emily. He leaves a widow, (daughter of Mr. Alex. Bell) four sons and three daughters, all of whom are in good circumstances. Mr. Kennedy was widely known and universally respected. always upright and honest in his dealings, a kind and beloved parent and husband, a true friend and an obliging neighbor even to his own inconvenience. In religion he was a steadfast, consistent member of the Church of England, and for many years was warden of St. John's church, Dunsford, and no man in the congregation will be as much missed as Mr. Kennedy; he was always in his seat at the church services and ready to lend a helping hand in any scheme that tended to enable the advancement of his church. He is gone but not forgotten, for he has left the footprints of a useful life and an example of zeal in helping the establishment of his Master's kingdom on earth that we hope will stir those he has left beind to greater exertions. Mrs. Kennedy and family have the sympathy of the whole neighborhood in this, their great bereavement.
