SUPPLY AND DEMAND

We wish to impress upon you the fact that prices must be higher. The situation is unprecedented in the history of the trade. Instances are reported where buyers have offered an advance to secure goods, and the offers have been declined because of the products of the mill being sold ahead from four to eight months. The idea of mills being compelled to refuse orders is something entirely new. This is where Supply and Demand get in their work and we must bow to their authority. We wish to impress upon

OBITUARY.

Petersoro Review, Monday: A long, honorable and useful life went quietly out this morning, when Rev. Vincent Clementi, B.A., passed away at the advanced age of eighty-seven years. The deceased gentleman had been in rather failing health during the last few months. "On Saturday he was taken ill with an attack of pneumonia, and his advanced years left him, unable to withstand the disease. By his death Peterboro loses one of its oldest residents, one who was respected and honored, not only because he was a clergyman, but because he was a citizen taking an intelligent and sympathetic interest in the welfare of the community and its organizations. The world was better because he lived in it, and his memory will be cherished as that of a revered clergyman, a good ctiizen, genrous in all things, and an upright man of true charity. Rev. Vincent Clementi, B.A., was an Englishman by birth, being the son of the celebrated composer, Muzio Clementi, who was buried in the South cloister of Westminster Abbey in a on a large scale, and will require a tomb adjoining that of a composer, Shield. His mother was a Giscorne. He was born on June 22nd, 1812, and was therefore eighty-seven years of age educated for the Church, and was a graduate of Trinity College, Cambridge. He was ordained deacon of the Church of England on December 17th, 1837, by the Bishop of London, Eng., and priest on February 24th, 1839, by the Archbishop of Canterbury. In England he was married to Miss Banks, and to this union two sons were born, the late Mutius and Theodore screw factory, which will be estab- Clementi, His wife died during his lished by a well-known citizen, and residence in England, and with his one thoroughly qualified to make a two sons he came to Canada in 1855, success of the enterprise.
