LINDSAY, FRIDAY, NOV. 2, 1894.

Canadian

BREXAM.

"Why not? I looked after papa's looks for years and he said I was per- loan on it. fectly competent. We have only forty hands employed, and the book-keeping enable me to look after and give them small for its gladness crept out into the of the difficulty. The hand railing again, and the able to look after and give them small for its gladness crept out into the of the difficulty. out as they are needed. And, truly, Ross, I just long to have something to do with the business."

She looked at him with a half- playful, half-pleading expression that was wholly irresistible.

"I don't quite like the plan," he began, doubtfully.

ing for me to do here, and I must have a partly drawn curtain he would have something to keep me out of mischief, you know. Besides, if I take charge of place they heard teveral voices in noisy the office you will be able to give all your altercation, but as they drew nearer, all nation and pity. time to the factory. You said this morn- suddenly became silent. After several ing that every hand counted."

"Yes," he admitted, reluctantly, Edith, we have a hard struggle before us. force ought to be quadruped to run the mill properly, and yet we dare not inabout used up our little capital. The place makes me feel uncanny." will take all the money we have left."

"I know," said Edith, softly, "but friends. And my piane would bring enough to pay gradually improved and the help settled one month's wages, I think. We must down to a steady, easy-going routine. keep the mill running as long as we have The machinery, with the rust of long anything to convert into money,"

We would lose all we have put in and smoothly. another start. But I think we shall pull there was no money to meet it. No rethrough. I will send the horses and car- turns had been made for the goods sent riages away to-morrow, and the proceeds away, and when Ross went to the city to will carry us over a few more pay-days. investigate the matter he found the house I do not think the piano will have to be had failed and was in the hands of an

the arms of his chair, and running her turned with it to the city. A few days had better run home now, child, and tell fingers through his dark brown curls. She later Edith noticed that his costly gold your folks to exercise a little more care in pretented to be very envious of the curls, chronometer had been replaced by a which clung close to his head in a confu- silver watch. But the help were paid of months to convert the cotton into cloth simultaneous journey to the city. It was and then a market will have to be found. certainly odd, and when pay-day came Father has had consignments remain for they were very slow in starting up their nearly a year with commission houses be- machines and stood about in expectant fore returns were made. Of course such groups until Ross passed around the encases are exceptions, but we must be pre- velopes containing their wages. pared for anything.

as superintendent, spare hand, and gen- There was shade of difference in their rest seemed to have developed a chronic a prompt closing of the factory.

the gearing would be taken off and refitted, nursery days was coming terrible near lunch in the summer house and make calls and xamined. Then the frame would A week was spent in the city vorking have a famous picnic," her spirits rising b) st rted up and the spare hands called off the goods to the best advantage—but as she noted the eager eyes and flushed that they frequently worked far into the helped to restore some old-time confinight, Ross and the overseers and spare- dence to the help. hands soon found it impossible to keep the morrow. There was little time to be spent in the was short and followed by a hurried kiss. gugling from the pine woods, its waters hopeful look on his face. Lake Archer hopeful look on his face. Lake Archer hopeful look on his face. Was short and followed by a nurried Riss. guging from the pine woods, the hopeful look on his face. Lake Archer had been making giant strides during the had been making giant strides during the had been making giant strides during the They must be content to wait for these yet cool from the shows which like been making giant strides during the past few years and now a railroad was to things. Their whole future might depend by disappeared from the mountain sides, past few years and now a railroad was to be deterthings. Their whole future might depend by disappeared from the use made of the busy, brief in and out among the roots and boulders, be built. Only a route was to be determined the busy, brief in and out among the roots and boulders, be built. Only a route was to be determined the busy, brief in and out among the roots and boulders, be built.

Then, there had always been a morrow to in the mill, and Ross felt that for the the frames with hammer and screw-driver; commence after the second year.

so much on this summer; on the walks and drives they would have in this beautiful m untain-country—they two by themselves. And was it to end in this? Work, work—and all the time arries. Work, work—and all the time anxiety. village. Even the neip did not have to work as hard as Ross. He made longer hours and course, and on one of these a little girl railroad means properity and a release bility and give out only when there was and sweet violets filled the air, and from days, and rents, and necessary purchases cause. Ross now found opportunity for a distance came the throb, throb, of the with apprehension. spending an occasional hour in the office. great factory. It was still early in the But one day Ross received a letter He and Edith looked over the books, day and few pedestrians were abroad. which he read and passed quietly over to counted the money left from the sale of Saving the little girl on the foot-bridge his wife. There was no more singing that the horses and carriages, and one day, and a pair of anxious, expostulating day, nor the next, nor the next. And when they marked and sent away a nam- orioles hovering about, no signs of life yet the letter was only an invitation to a It—is—impossible. Think of the work, ber of large cases of goods, felt almost learned and from large cases of goods, felt almost learned from large cases of goods, fe and—and—really, Edith, you couldn't jubilant. They could tide over another leaned far out over the stream and from leaned far out over the leaned far pay-day, and before a second came round one of the lower branches, just over the single line at the bottom added that Colwould probably hear from their consign- child's head, hung the swaying caure of wood was ready to take twenty shares of ment, or at least, he able to negotiate a the orioles solicitude.

street and drew a small crowd of millhands about the gate. Seing them there Edith sent Ross out to bring them in.

village, and was looked after by two villages, and was looked after by two villages. servants as old and queer as herself. Ross the village, but found the place apparently toward her. The orioles redoubled their "Well, suppose you try me a week on deserted. All his knockings failed to probation. The housekeeper leaves noth- elicit a response, and had it not been for "It seems to be a repetition of my slight smile. "every hand counts, and I am afraid, former visit." he said. "Perhaps this is

"Let us go away, Ross," she returned and they and the necessary purchases with a slight shiver, "this gloomy old and calling on several of their new attention fixed. Now there was nothing crease it. kven as it is, two months' pay the afternoon in walking about the village As the months went by the mill work anything to convert into money,"

Yes it would be ruin to have it stop. | years of idleness wearing away by constant friction, began to run easily and | with a queer old woman grasping one | in his arms. "One of the brokers took |

But at last a pay-day approached when assignee. Only after the business had Dithy jump.

"How long do you think it will be been settled could anything be expected. There was but one course left, and he lips.

"What!" I said in explanation, "Bessy she des yead, "our Edith?" upon. It struck them as curious. Then said in explanation, "Bessy she des yead, "our Edith?" returns," he said, slowly. "It will take the sending away of the piano, and Ross's yead, 'n'Dithy yunned off."

This brightened them up somewhat, The next day Edith took her place in but still Ross and Edith felt they were not the office, and Ross went into the factory their employees of the first few weeks.

and starts. The spinning-frames especial- felt they must be turned into prompt there. Only an old castle in which dwell ly appeared to be afflicted with twinges of cash He had been waiting to hear from r. eumatism. They would run quietly for the first lot before sending more. Now little, but its harshness was broken by the hours, and the spinners would walk up other arrangements must be made. Times once a sharp click, and a whole side of even a perfectly responsible house. It name is," she resumed after a little pause, Then Ross and the overseer had an were made—and he could not wait that violets, and azaleas; the river winds

And for days, perhaps, the frame would return a check was received from the Two hours later, when a servant brought rum le quietly on, the threads flash and assignee representing his share of the her home, Bessy, the new girl, was found whirl down towards the bobbins, with proceeds of the bankrupt sale. It was to be still absorbed in her novel and only an occasional break, then another much less than the value of the goods, learning to be still absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the whereabouts of the value of the goods, benefit absorbed in her hover and proceeds of the whereabouts of the way and the proceeds of the goods. shirp click and it would all have to be but, nevertheless, a magnificent sum in her charge. It was not until Ross and In the other rooms it was just as bad. he had brought with him from the city, the child's graphic account of her after-Stattles were flying about the weave-shop, would carry them over several months. noon's adventures disclosed the danger

ing everywhere, and in spite of the fact with a relieved, buoyant expression that they frequently marked for into the thoroughly tired before. He had many by slow degrees, the village began to Little Edith declared they had "Dorn off, times been wearied while on his hunting assume a recemblance of its old pros- tos," she said, "if the nice oman was in and fishing excursions, but not like this. perity. Each month saw improvement the housey she'd tumed yight out."

fractory pulleys; to sewing belts, changing gears, and looking after the thousand for the use of the additional help. He scattered about were mementos of more

A small stream came bounding and winding and twisting and making impe-winding and twisting and making impe-mined—whether through Brexam or by tuous little dashes between the elbowing As the weeks went by Edith began to rocks, and at last pausing irresolutely on ridge. The former was the larger town, rebel secretly against the necessity for all of this work. She rather liked her duties, but it was hard to see Ross come slowly from the factory at night and drop to from the factory at night and drop to from the factory at night and drop to harried recklessly between the confining harried recklessly between the confining harried recklessly between the confining from the factory at night and drop to sleep in his chair almost before he had banks that were to spide its course was the shorter route, however, and Ross finished eating supper. She had counted banks that were to guide its course through the town. But an after-thought through the town. But an after-thought the survey.

did not favor himself as they did. And stood, gazing down at the water. Her from our embarrassments. work was new to him. Surely it would round bady eyes were filled with a wonhave been better to have invested in some- dering delight and every now and then The sudden hope was like a tonic, and thing less pretentious—to have been con- she stopped down to gather stones to cast Edith went about her work with little But after the first few months the work the two or three houses near were so hidgrew a little easier. The machinery den by trees as to almost conceal them stimulus of his heavy bass. It was so grew a little easier. The machinery tuen by trees as to almost contest that stimulus of his heavy base pleasant to be able to look forward to pay-other amusement. The curious pensile -even buy a single share—he might have went for a long walk up the mountain-side. In the evening the piano, which her time florer in a rain effort to green it had been silent all these months, filled her tiny finger in a vain effort to grasp it. wood. And twenty thousand! He the house with melody, and finding it too keep in a talk thouse with melody, and finding it too keep the laughed at the absurdity. He could not reach the limb, then drew the nest slowly with a grieved flash in her eyes, "yous no friends and very few acquaintances. oughter be s'amed." Then, the sunshine Ross had never seen her and felt the coming back to her face with a quick re- change, whatever it might be, could affect vulsion of feeling, she added, softly, him very little, The rent would go to a "P'aps yous 'ittle birdies 'fraid. Dithyn't different person that was all. hurt 'em," and she let the nest swing gently back to its place.

When he and Edith approached the peep." Then, as they failed to be appeas could be but a downward struggle.

With a frightened cry of "Mamma!

For a moment the child returned her gaze, then let her glance wander from the brige to the top of the railing. "Awfu' jump-awfu' jump," she said, half to herself. "Ish Papa Yoss tud seen

"It would have been an awful jump I had gone by the road as I intended, said the old woman, dryly.

promptly. A feeling of uneasiness, how- As the old woman moved away she grasped Before answering he drew her head ever, was becoming manifest among them. one of her fingers tightly and swung herdown and imprinted a kiss upon the sweet The disappearance of the horses and car- self gayly along by her side. "Mamma

> "Your mother will be frightened," she "Mamma dorn wisitin'," repeated the child. "I doa home by 'n' by. Doin' wisitin' now to yous house. You dot any bered a letter the postman had left during

"No." Then a grim little smile touched the corners of her drooping mouth. "Ross and Family: "Very well," she said, slowly, "you shall be my guest to day. It will be holidays with us. We have kept a close strange if I have forgotten how to enter- espionage over you, and think you have Inside of a week the spinning-frames, one thing was certain. It would not spoolers, and looms were in motion and do to postpone the payment of their tude. That is my house," nodding tospeciers, and looms were in motion and requiring constant attention. Their long wages for a single hour. It would mean ward a large mansion faintly visible tain one even after inteen years of soils tain one even after inteen years of soils tain one even after inteen years of soils tain one even after inteen years of the L. A. & B. R. R. has been secured and will be follow the disorders of the womanly wages for a single hour. It would mean ward a large mansion faintly visible transferred to you name and pulleys, and belts were given to fits during the past few weeks, and Ross now girls, no boys, no pleasures, no hopes opportunity of seeking for a cause that long. Better the auction room, and small through the grounds and its banks are could not be found. In sheer desperation figures. The nimble sixpence of his without apparent cause, belts were break- And he returned to his work in the factory | she had been in. The girl's earnest aspromt payments and occasional additions more called on Miss Brezam. Little Edith But it would not do to give up. Idle to the working force, the help regained was guide, and led them straight to the machines meant so many operatives waiting with pay going on, so Ross hired two business. One by one the small tradesmen returned and took down the shutters failed to arouse the inmates, and after a He had never known what it was to be from the small shops on Main-st., and fruitless waiting returned to the street.

rest on. Now it seemed that every morpresent the business was safe. The future the Barrons. Close economy and a slowly rest on. Now it seemed that every mor-row ought to be given a larger amount of would depend on a good market and rigid improving business had removed the One day's labor might be the economy. Every dollar that could be terrors of pay-day and accumulated bridge that would save him from ruin. saved from absolutely necessary expenses enough during the long twelve months to So the days were given to crawling under was put aside for the rent that would meet the annual rent. But little was left As the business increased Ross began sitting-room were the piano had stood was and one odds and ends; and the nights had more time now to look after outto dreaming of what should be done on side affairs. The factory could be left to felt a serious tax. And, worst of all, there

But one day Ross came home with a the future. way of Colwood, on the other side of the think you will have your piano back again Several small foot-bridges spanned its for," he added, with a laugh. "This

They were very happy these few weeks.

At last she appeared to grow weary of So short and yet it meant so much. throwing stones and looked around for Simply that if he could raise the twenty of the difficulty. The hand-railing seem- It was a bitter disappointment—so soon ed to offer it, and with an in munity after their new-born hopes—and Edith from accident that seemed to belong felt it fully as keenly as her husband. One day R. ss proposed that they should to childhood, she clambered up and rose With the railroad at Colwood, Brexam position would have been almost certain new town would draw the tradesmen and than no chance at all, and Ross determined to attend the meeting. Some straw "Top !" she commanded, ap pearing to might present itself to his grasp. If this notice them for the first time. "I w'n't road should pass him by he might as well hurt oo housey. I 'es' yant one teeny shut up the factory. At best the future

A few days before the meeting the village was startled-not shocked-by the "I dess you sink I fibble," she said, sudden death of Miss Brexam. She had immediately after the service he hurried wheels. But now a new difficulty presented it- to the livery stable for a horse to take self. How was she to get down? In to Lake Archer. There was barely time for her hands to grasp. The black water ed. Edith was waiting for him with a below seemed an awful way off. Her curious light in her eyes and her lips head began to feel dizzy and the trees and trembling with eagerness. But something bridge began to turn and twist about. in his face checked the words on her lips and she waited breathlessly. "It is all right," he said, catching her are to have the road." "Good !" she cried, her eyes sparkling at the news. "But now let me tell you about our new landlord. The will was read after you left and you are appointed administrator of the estate and guardian of the young heiress during her minority," and Edith laughed merrily.

Koss looked at her in bewilderment. "But I never saw Miss Brexam," he said, wonderingly. "I do not know the heiress-never even heard the old lady had a relative."

"But you do know the heiress," said Edith, still laughing. Then she whispered something in his ear. "What !" he exclaimed, incredulously,

"Yes, our Edith, and after this our Then she told him that the lawyer would call on the morrow to render a detailed account of the property. It was not until next morning that she remem-

"We shall expect you to spend the Paris Criminals.

Of all cities of the world Paris presents mixed in its elements of disorder. The criminal brought up from childhood in the of living there. Accordingly many criminals who have been forbidden residences in It's a medicine prescribed by an emi-Paris in spite of the strictest surveillance nent physician for those nervous of the barriers will work their way in | conditions brought on by functional again and take up their career of crime disorders—such as Nervous Prostraunder other names.-Paris Letter.

A Bad Case. Steward (cheerfully)-Hevery think, for have your money back. the present, sir, but your happetite will be a-comin by an by .- New York Herald.

Galveston handles every year 700,000

THE WINTER

Many people from the more distant parts of the county, and from the north, make it a point to purchase their principal Grocery supplies for the winter during this season.

We are ready and anxious for an opportunity to quote prices and show samples. Every department of our store invites comparison, but in the lines of TEAS and SUGARS, as usual, we offer values that cannot be touched elsewhere. We had intended mentioning all our lines but have been too busy. The people know our motto, "Small returns and a quick turn-over of goods."

ARCH. CAMPBELL

FAMILY GROCER NEWS OF THE WEEK

SAVED A LITTLE GIRL'S LIFE.

Harvard Student Rescues a Child From Death by an Electric Car In Cambridge. A signal instance of courage and quickness of thought, which undoubtedly saved the life of a little chlid, occurred in Cambridge on Friday evening. Shortly before 7 p. m. a Tremont House electric car was passing along Main street at a very rapid rate. Near Windsor street a little girl, apparently about 8 years of age, ran from the sidewalk toward the track. The motorman quickly shut off the current and put on the brake. Then the child paused, and the motorman released the car.

Just as the car had regained its momentum the child, through some strange, impulse, darted forward to cross the track. The motorman was almost breathless with horror. There was no time to stop the car, and the toddling infant seemed doomed.

Suddenly a tall, athletic young man sprang from his seat at the end of the front row, and grasping the curved handle on the dasher of the car with his right hand swung himself out on the fender. Just as the car was about to crush the little girl under its wheels he seized her firmly by the waist.

It was a trying moment to the nerves of the passengers and motorman. It seemed for an instant as if both man and child would fall in front of the fender. But by an almost convulsive effort the rescuer lifted the little girl from the track and laid her on her back He and Edith attended the funeral and at one side out of the reach of the

So great was the strain upon him that as soon as the child was released he himself fell forward on the fender, and only an unusual degree of agility enabled him to scramble up on his knees and back to his seat in the car.

The whole thing was done in an instant. The motorman, pale with fright, was only able to look his thanks. The hero of the affair was the most composed person on the car. He at once sought a rear seat to avoid attention, merely remarking to the motorman as he passed: "Gad! Why don't you get out of this?"

A passenger said that the young man was a Harvard student who resides on Sacramento street, Cambridge.-Boston diseases, and weaknesses peculiar to women - by the prompt action of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. A woman's beauty depends on her health beauty in this case can be purchased. A bad complexion, a muddy skin, a wrink

> World's Dispensary. CAST OUT

The "Favorite Prescription" is a powerful, invigorating tonic, and a strengthening nervine to be used in all those distressing troubles which make woman's life miserable. You'll find relief from sleeplessness, backache and bearing-down sensations. tion, Excitability, Fainting Spells, Dizziness, and St. Vitus's Dance. Banks (from his berth feebly)-I say, In every case of "female complaint"

> Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh in the Head.

The Gurney Co.

The 1894 FAVORIT

BASE BURNERS. A Large Number in use in LINDSA

Hughan & Co.

Have you got eve in School Supplies!

get the Best Values.

James Reith.

CLOVER SEE

Clover Seed wanted, for which the Thoroughbred and Farm Stock Insured at very steward, do you think it's all up with me? if it doesn't benefit or cure, you Fetch on your Seeds and get your Farm Stock Insured at

JAS. KEITH'S, WILLIAM ST

in fact, for all conditions call ing for a quick and effective nourishment. Send for Pamphlet. FREL entt & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & St Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's

Emulsion

the cream of Cod-liver Oil, wi

Hypophosphites, is for Coughs,

Colds,

Sore Throat,

Bronchitis,

Weak Lungs,

Consumption,

Loss of Flesh,

Emaciation,

Weak Babies.

Crowing Children,

Poor Mothers' Milk.

Scrofula.

Anæmia:

Publishers' Notice. THE CANADIAN POST

ADVERTISING RATES

WILSON & WILSON, Proprietors.

Canadian Bost

TOME AND FOREIGN ITEMS OF INTEREST. ered from the Telegraph and g so the gan discharged, the night have been a fatal shooting red at Cedar Dale on Sunda Jos. Greenway and Wesley Howard's paint sho revolver, when Greenop the hammer, which failed to hen he took his finger off the dispherged. Howard was ew feet away with his right across his body, and the red his arm about the middle ge entering his body. Green know it was loaded." The inged to Howard and was a Soon after the accident Grasu-