A FRIENDLY WORD TO MOTHERS

Lots of people write to tell us that the best reading in the newspapers is (and has long been) the series of articles of which' this is one. We appreciate the compli meut, and try to deserve it. It is not that we are wise above all the rest of mankind, but because we say our say in plain Esglish andina friendly, helpful spirit towards everybody. And it is in this spirit that we now say to all the women in England who are mothers of growing children, that | as the wheels were about to pass over shey ought to be more watchful of those children, especially in all matters that concern their health. Too many of the young people of this country are ill-quite too many. And death is too busy among them. There are too many short graves in the churchyards. Come, come now, let's have | to her back. The police ambulance rea bit of a talk about it. And let one good mother speak first,

"In November, 1893," she writes, "one of my daughters took cold, which thraw her into a low, weak state of health. She grew to be very despondent, listless, and altogether out of sorts. She refused her food, saying she didn't want it, that she had no appetite. Still she ate something, as of necessity, but did not relish it, and it gave her no strength. Then she would be troubled with giddiness and a rush of blood to the head. At times her head was so bad she was not able to move about, and took no interest in anything. We were in hopes that the ailment would wear off, seeing that she was young, and that she would soon be herself again. "Instead of that, she seemed to get worse and complained of great weakness. In this strait we consulted a doctor, who treated her for a time, yet none of his medicines appeared to reach the source of her disease. For six months she remained in this condition. We knew not what further to do, and waited with a natural anxiety for any tura for the better or "Is was in May, 1894, that I read a little book or pamphiet that had been left at our house about Mather Salger's Curative Syrup, and how many cases with the same symptoms as my daughter's had been oured by it. What impressed me was the plain, straightforward speech of the letters of people printed in the book. They sounded honest and true, and I made up my mind that the medicine that had been a blessing to other families migut prove so to mine. . "Well, I got a supply of the Syrup from Mr. J. V. Lawis's Stores, Blackwood, and after having taken it for only a faw days, my daughter experienced great relief; and, by the continued use of it for a few weeks she fully regained her health. Since then she has been as strong and well as before the illness came upon her. See ing what Mother Saigel's Syrup had done in this case, I used it for another daughter who suffered from indigestion and rheumatism-with the best results. "Out of my knowledge of the merits of this remedy I would strongly recommend it to all women, especially to those who are at a critical age, and liable to illness which may easily prove more serious than at first feared. In hope my words may reach and be of use to others, you have my consent to the publication of this hasty letter. (Signed) M. E. Davies, Blackwood, Newport, Monmouthshire, November 28th,

It is not really needful to add anything to what Mrs. Davies has said. We may, perhaps, venture to say that, in all probability, her daughter's complaint-indigestion and dyspepsia, with resulting nervous prostration-actually set in before she took the cold to which Mrs. Davies attributes the attack. At least in the great majority of such cases that is the order of event. Les mothers look more closely into the subject and then say what they thick. One thing nevertheless is clear, and can be acted upon now. Parents can place a bottle of Mother Seigel's Sgrap in the house, whether they need it to-day or not. Then give the young people a dose on the first signs of any wrong. Simple careless. ness and slack attention. Pear Mercy, how many vacant places they make in our

Toronto, Nov. 16. A fatal accident occurred on Queenstreet east, near Morse-street, at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the victim was little seven-year-old Jimmy Gorman, whose home was with his parents at the corner of Duchess and Parliament-streets.

The boy had been down in the East End and was returning home, and as boys often do, tried to climb on to the back of a wagon to get a ride. He was unsuccessful in his effort to board the rig, and when running clear of it bicyclists who were riding along the dev.l strip. In his efforts to steer clear of the bicycles the unfortunate boy did not notice the wagon of Richardson, Queen-street east grocer, and ran right into the horse. He fell, and the animal's hoofs struck him hard on the back of the neck. Willie Graham, a 15-year-old lad, who was driving the wagon, did his utmost to pull up the horse, but the child had come upon the scene so quickly that his efforts were fruitless.

Dr. Rowan was passing at the time, and after the youngster had been ex-tricated from beneath the horse's hoofs, pronounced life extinct. The doctor saw the occurrence and says that no blame can be attached to the prevent the accident. Mr. W. J. Chick statement as to the efforts of Graham. Coroner Aikins viewed the remains and issued a warrant for an inquest at the Poplar House on Monday afternoon, but after investigating the circumstances he hardly thinks any inquiry will be necessary, and that the lad's death was purely accidental. STEAM CANAL BOATS.

Arthur Sewall, Ex-Vice Presidential Candidate, and Others Have a Big Project on Hand.

Buffalo, Nov. 15 .- Articles of incorporation, which will be filed with Secretary of State Palmer within a few days, will launch a big company, which proposes to restore to the canals of the state the wheat and provision transportation of the West, which has been almost monopolized by rallroads within recent years. The scheme is to construct a fleet of steam canal boats convenient points between New York and Buffalo. Electricity, it is said, will be largely employed as the motive power. Negotiations with the Cataract General Electric Company are now pending, and, owing to the fact thta some of the men interested in the latter company figure as incorporators of the former, it is thought that the power generated by Niagara Falls will be The promoters of the company are : Arthur Sewall of Bath, Me., the candidate on the Democratic ticket for Vice-President at the last election; Alexander R. TO FORTIFY ESQUIMALT.

Despatch as to Britain's Intention to Make the Fortress Impregnable.

Chicago, Nov. 16 .- A special from Victoria, B.C., says: Having made Esquimalt and Victoria, B.C., impregnable by land defences, the British War Office is now moving to make the former one of the strongest strategic points in the Empire. Private advices from Admiral Stephenson say the North Atlantic and North Pacific squadrons are to be rehabilitated at once. At Esquimalt the flagship Imperieuse, an armored twin screw cruiser of 8400 tons, is the only modern vessel, the five others being two third-class cruisers, two screw sloops and one gunboat. It is the intention replace Satellite, one of the third-class cruisers, at once by Phaeton, a second-class cruiser of 4500 tons, and at intervals of a few months each of the others will be replaced by a modern steel armored cruiser, heavily armed and speedier than the present vessels. Three torpedo boat destroyers will be attached to the flagsh'p. At Halifax the present fleet will be reinforced by the Terrible, one of the firstclass cruisers, of 14,000 tons, and a similar vessel will come to Esquimalt with three attendant torpedo boat destroyers. This will make a force of 5000 men at the station there under charge of the Admiral. As to the Atlantic there will be two feets, one at Halifax, and one at the West Indies, instead of one fleet summering north and wintering south. These wil comprise the heaviest naval force maintained by Great Britain away from home waters, and the South African fleet may act with these in either ocean to protect : reliable route should any European power close the Suez Canal.

Plans are now being made, it is said, rovide protection along the line of the lanadian Pacific Railway, whenever great damage or delay might be caused by action of a hostile power.

LUMBERING ON THE OTTAWA A LIFE OF GREAT HARDSHIP AND

Waters-Pain Racked Bodies the Fre Robust Can Stand This Weary Round of Toil From the Ottawa Free Press.

Only those who have engaged in the arduous occupation of lumbering know how dearly earned is their livelihood, for among the many vocations of men that of lumberman ranks among the most dangerous and difficult. There is the heavy shanty labor from earliest dawn to evening star, when the toiler for half the year is remote from home and friends, and whose daily round is to eat, work and proud satisfaction of having been of service | sleep, only getting an occasional glimpse of the outside world through a long looked for letter from some loved one far

Then the days lengthen, the frozen lake breaks up, and comes the driving of logs and hewn timber down the tortuous swift running stream, when necessity often calls the driver to wade body deep in the swift flowing, loy waters. None but the strong can engage in such heavy labor, only the most robust are able to stand the ten hours of daily toil, with but a midday hour's respite. Such, in brief, is the life of many thousands of laborers in the Ottawa valley, and among the many is Thos. Dobie, of 130 Head-st., Chaudiere, who for twelve long years has wrought for the great lumber king, J. R. Booth, shantying in the snowy northern forests, and lifting three inch deal during the summer heats. It is not to be wondered at that in his long experience and great exposure he should contract a severe cold that in time took permanent lodging in the region of his loins and kidneys. Like many others, he thought to work it off, but in vain. Soon the pains in the region of his kidneys became so intense that labor was a torture to him, and it was only the indomitable courage, born of a knowledge that others were dependent upon him, that urged him to pursue his weary round of daily toil. Every sudden movement of the body was a thorny goad that made him wince beneath its sting. Added to this was an unusual and excessive sweating which necessitated frequent changes of clothing, and which weakened him to such an extent that his appetite was almost entirely gone, and eventually but little and much water was his daily fare. Many vain efforts were made by Mr. Dobie to free himself from the pains which had fastened themselves upon him, and one medicine after another was used, but without effect. Life became a burden and existence a thing almost undesirable. After many fauitless efforts, he was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When three boxes were taken the change in his condition was marvellous, and his own words are "when I had taken six boxes I was a new man and consider the cure worth hundreds of dollars." Mr. Dobie, although completely cured, takes Pink Pills occasionally, and is very enthusiastic in his praise of what the pills have done for him. Many of his fellow workman seeing the great change wrought in him by these famous pills, have been led to give them a trial for other ailments and are unanimous in pronouncing them superior to all other medicines. the blood and nerves, building them anew and thus driving disease from the system. There is no trouble due to either of these
