A New York judge has committed to jail for five days for contempt of court a respectable business man, who as a witness in a case, was baited and badgered and abused by a lawyer till patience ceased to be a virtue, and he slapped his tormentor on the face. A good many who are familiar with the methods of some lawyers will be ready to say that the punishment is excessive, and that a judge who permits the brutalities practised by legal blackguards and bullies merits all the contempt such a slap might be construed to indicate.
