LINDSAY, FRIDAY, NOV. 17, 1899.

Thursday Night's Charming Entertainment

SWELLED THE COFFERS OF THE HOME FOR THE AGED SOCIETY.

Messrs Britton and Begbie's Entrancing First Part Could Not be Excelled in a City Theatre.

"Red Letter Days and Glimpses into Fairyland." a unique entertainment, produced for the first time in Lindsay, brilliant in originality, fuli of startling effects, complete in gorgeousness of costume, and the who's combined and replete with most enchanting mugic, vocal and instrumental." Such was the announcement made by the committee who were appointed to frame the program for the annual entertainment given on Thursday evening in the Academy, in aid of the funds of the Home for the Aged, and the curiosity created thereby, combined with a desire on the part of our good people to support a deserving institution, led to the pretty theatre being packed to the very doors by our best citizens and families, and their unstinted applause justified the sanguine forecast printed above.

LEVER DU RIDEAU.

When the curtain raised and disclosed "A Giimpse into Fairyland," the picture presented was indeed a charming one, and rivetted all eyes. The theatre lights were turned off, and the stage was bathed in a soft glow which revealed Miss Kate Milne, Queen of the Fairies, and her lovely attendants, fast asleep under a spell cast upon them by some harrid magic-Then entered tricksome Cupid flittle Ruth McNauity), equipped with bow and quiver, who whispered into each fairy's ear some sweet message, which had the effect of rousing all from their slumbers. Then the revels began, and fantastically attired gnomes, led by Master Harry McConnell, made their appearance and joined in the gay sports, consisting of an blectrical Maypole dance fancy marching, drill movements, etc, with Cupid leading and appropriating not a little of the applause owing to her self-possessed yet essentially childish demeanor. Each fairy carried minute electric lights on her shoes, in her bair, at her waist, and on the hem of her dress, and the paling and flashing of these at the will of the hidden electricians, (aided by a search-light placed in the gailery), with the pretty costumes, unique stage setting, and the spirited and rhythm cal movements of the youthful performers, all contribnted to produce an effect that was indescribably beautiful.

The Maypole dance was alone worth the price of admiss on, and Messrs. Britton and Begbie deserve all the handsome things that are being said relative to their electrical triumph, as very few can form any conception of the difficulties they had to meet and The fairies carried no fewer than 116 small incandescent lights. and the placing and wiring of these was a tremendous task. Mrs. Begbie gave invaluable aid in training the children and preparing the costumes, which occupied several weeks.

Miss K. Milne, the Fairy Queen, deserves a word or two of especial praise. What she had to do was done gracefully, and she looked very winsome and sweet.

child is a born actress,' might be heard whispered about when little Laura McConnell was displaying her skill as a hypnotist. Her brother Harry is also a clever lad.

"RED LETTER DAYS."

The second portion of the entertainment was also very pleasing. The Queens of the Seasons, handronely and suitably attired, entered and took positions on the thrones prepared for Later, after which Old Father Timearmed with a brand-new scythe for two die year-made his appearance in garb, and after introducing himself in properly hollow accents, by his seat on a convenient stump. i to the story of the Red Lef-

, told in song and recitation. The costumes were in keeping with the characters, and the whole affair real eleverly conceived and executed, 1 have not space at: our disposal to mention all deserving of notice, and must confine ourselves to those especially applauded by the audience. Mr. Chas. Podgar made a typical Irishman, and his song, "Poggy O'-

Moore," added to the warmth of his reception. Cora Wallace's rendition of "The Holy City," (Adams) was listened to with keen enjoyment, as she is maintained the dignity of the character to the very end. Miss Duck made a graceful and pleasing representative of Her Most Gracious Majesty, and very prettily voiced her regret at being unable to visit her beloved Canadian people. Mrs. Fred Walters' song, "Happy Days," (Strehezki), with violin obligato by Mr. Peace, was a charming number, and our music lovers will look forward to its repetition. Owing to the illness of Miss B. Bowes, Miss Jennie Gross kindly consented to fill her place as representative of Domin.on day. Despite the very brief notice she received the part was admirably taken.

Mr. W. E. Smith, by his clever interpretation of Uncle Sam. proved that he has it in him to become an "etarnal" good acto: in private theatricals.

The Baircuth Festival duett, (on violin and piano), by the Misses Cairns, gave great pleasure to the audience. Very soon no concert program will be complete without the names of these young ladies.

Mr. Fullerton's interpretation of the Civio Holiday dude, and the accompanying address, were exceedingly clever and amusing and were loudly applauded.

Miss Cora Walters sang very sweetly, "In Sweet September," (Hope Temple). Miss Walters is always heard with pleasure, and many think she never appeared to better advantage than on Thursday evening. Miss E. McLean, a little maid.

The Witches' Dance, in commemoration of Hallowe'en, was a weird yet delightful performance, the effect being heightened by a seeth ng caularon suspended from a tripod, into which the youthful witches cast mysterious drugs and charms while reciting incantations of dreadful import.

Mrs. P. G. Pilkie, Lindsay's popular vocalist, achieved the success of the evening in her song, "Soldiers of the Queen." Her smart semi-military costume, with haversack, coupled with her expression and animation, lent a touch of realism that proved irresistible, and called to mind our boys now on their way to the Transvaal Masters Orvin and Alvin Pepper represented St. Andrew's day, in fitting fashion by appearing in full Highland garb and dancing a reel in graceful style. They were recalled as a deserved mark of appreciation. Miss Silver, who is no stranger to Lindsay audiences, sang "For All Eternity," (Macaroni). She was in splendid voice, and was heard with evident

Miss E. Dunoon's New Year's Day resolutions, and Mrs. E. A. Edwards' election day address on behalf of the New Woman, were both well given, and excited much laughter. The address had a local flavor and administered some friendly raps to our city

Pride in nationality and military sentiment were both aroused by Mr. J. Parpell Morris' admirably rendered song, "What are Englishmen Made Of," Mr. Morris has seldom been heard to better advantage, and the audience applauded heartily. Miss E. Neelands gave a pleasing recitation in connection with St. Val entine's day, and her attire was pretty and in keeping with her part. Miss Stephenson caused many laugh. She represented Tabitha's Birthday, and was attired in one of the quaint old-fashioned gowns worn by our grandmo hers. Her recitation, descriptive of a spinster mourning lost chances and still keen in quest of a husband, was exceedingly amusing, and her advances to Ol Father Time, and his preparations for flight, "brought down the house," so to speak.

The story of love is as old as the world, and as all embracing as the universe. It furnishes the sentiment for all romances-all novels-all plays. The novelist considers it wholly from the sentimental, intellectual side, but there is another aspect even more important-the physical side. Sentimental love between men and women leads to close physical association-to marriage-to the rearing of children. And so health must be considered. A weak, sickly, head-achey, back-achey woman cannot be a good, helpful wife. She cannot bear healthy, happy children. She cannot give her children the proper care and training. A sick woman has no right to marry. A sick woman has no right to attempt moth-But no woman need be sick unless afflicted with cancer. There is a sure way for her to regain her health. She need not go to a local doctor and submit to the disagreeable questionings, "examinations" and "local treatments" so invariably insisted upon, and so justly abhorrent to every modest woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has cured more cases of female weakness than any hundred local practitioners. He has proved that diseases distinctly feminine can be cured right in the privacy of home. Write to him stating your symptoms and an account of your trouble and he will give your case careful, confidential consideration and prescribe for you free of charge. Mrs. O. N. Fisher, of 1861 Lexington Avenue, New York City, writes: "I had been a sufferer from nervousness with all its symptoms and cations. In the spring of 1897 I began to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Now I am not cross and irritable. I have a good color in my face and have gained ten pounds.'

A LESSON IN SKIN GRAFTING

Interesting Operation on an Omem Boy in Toronto.

Toronto News, Wednesday: A most interesting surgical operation was performed at the Hospital for Sick Children this morning at nine o'clock. short time ago, Charlie Cochrane, little 12-year-old boy from Omemee, was brought to the hospital to receive treatment for a bad burn on his back The doctor in charge decided it would be necessary to graft healthy skin over the burned flesh before the sufferer could recover. This morning in the operating room at the hospital the grafting operation was successfully performed. Over a dozen people volunteered to give strips of their skin to be grafted on the little lad's back, but only some half-dozen offers were accepted. These were from medical students, and from their arms this morning small strips of skin were gentlly peeled off, and bound to the burned surface. The operation, which lasted about half an hour, was a most interesting one, and was witnessed by a large number of medical students Young Cochrane came through the ordeal in good style, and in a few weeks, after the grafted strips of skin have firmly grown together, he will be as well as ever.

He Mistakes the Effect for the Cause That is what the person does who tries to cure rheumatism or any other disease by relieving the symptoms. Hood's Sarsaparilla attacks the cause of these diseases. It neutralizes the acid in the blood and thus perminently cures rheumatism. It tones and strengthens the stomach, restores its natural discesting fluids and permanently cures dyspepsia.

A Serious Charge.

A young man named Albert Walker, of the east ward, appeared before County Magistrate Deacon to answer to a charge of indecent assault sworn to by Ada Billings, a domestic servant in a town family. The offence was said to have been committed while the plaintiff was driving with the defendant on the evening of Oct. 22nd, on the Oakwood road. No direct evidence being offered by the plaintiff in support of the charge, Magistrate Deacon dismissed the case.

No Limit to Happiness.

There is no limit to earthly happiness after a rheumatic sufferer has once used Dr Hall's Rheumatic Cure. Mr. John Clarke, Pittsburgh, Ont., suffered with Muscular Rheumatism in his legs for ten months. He tried doctors and numerous patent medicines without relief. One bottle of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure cured him completely. He has not suffered with the disease since. This preparation is used internally. One bottle contains ten days' treatment, price 50 cents. They were agreeably surprised at the fine power available and the facilities for cheap development. Under the charter the company will be styeld "The Central Ontario Power Development Company." Coste and Mr. Culverwell will return to Lindsay, this week in the interest of the enterprise.

CHIEF OF THE FIRE BRIGADE.

The Position Filled Temporarily. In our report of last Monday night's council proceedings we noted that Mr. Dougald Sinclair, who is away hunting, had been deposed from the position of chief of the fire brigade, in accordance with a motion passed by the town property committee, who have | in Mariposa township, and having reljurisdiction over such matters. We learn that next day Mr. F. K, Begbie was solicited to accept the position, coe, a prominent farmer of Cresswell and consented to assume the duties temporarily-that is until the committee can advertise and secure a suitable person.

While The Post has had occasion to find fault with ex-Capt. Sinclair's neglect of the brigade, owing to his time and attention being fully taxed in the direction and supervision of his own business, we would be sorry to learn that, after having wasted all summer in inaction, the council had taken advantage of Mr. Sinclair's absence to take the first step in the reorganization of the brigade. As Mr. Begbie has accepted the position reluctantly, we believe and with the strict understanding that he shall not be expected to institute regular prac-tice, Mr. Sinclair might fairly have been allowed to remain in office until a permanent chief had been secured and fully perfected.

SEASONABLE HINTS.

Guard Your Realth in the Fall and Barly Winter

A change from warm to cold is always attended with more danger than from a cold to a warm temperature, hence the greater mortality from lung and throat diseases at this season of the year as compared with spring. The best protection against colds is not so much in extra clothing as in good digestion. If the digestion and circulation are good, calds will be unknown. Poor digestion causes poor circulation of the blood and when in this condition severe colds are contracted on the slightest provocation.

If mixed up in a law suit you would serve your best interests by engaging the best lawyer in Lindsay. If going into business, the advice of the best business friend you know is worth consulting.

It is but a short time since Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets first came to Lindsay.

It was said they would cure Backache and all Kidney complaints, and now you can consult scores of Lindsay people to verify the statement. Long distance reports are not given you to depend upon, but convincing statements like that of J. J. Butler, porter Daly House, Lindsay: "Exposure to rain and cold on the bus gave me a kidney trouble and backache from which I got no relief until I got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, from A. Higinbotham's drug store. They soon stopped all the backache, and relieved the kidneys of all trouble. I have great faith in them, and recommend them heartily. The pain used to bother me night and day, sitting, walking, lying down, or in fact in any position; but as I say, now all pain and soreness is gone. Rapid acting and easy acting, Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are surprising the people here. A few doses accomplish more than boxes and bottles of slow acting kidney medicines. They are put up in wooden bottles with green wrapper bearing the portrait and signature of Z. Pit. cher, M.D. Each bottle contains 50 tablets; price 50 cents per bottle. Man-
