At the last meeting of the W.C.T.U., Lindsay, it was decided that the union should make an effort to lessen if possible the great amount of labor performed by clerks and those who deliver parcels on Saturday nights, therefore, we respectfully ask each and every person in this town to refrain from purchasing groceries or goods of any kind after six o'clock on Saturday evenings, or if they do to carry home the parcels themselves.—Signed on behalf of the union,

Mr. Cluthe's reputation as a mechanical genius for overcoming all cases of deformities, such as club feet, spinal curvature, paralysis, bow legs, etc., is well known throughout the Dominion of Canada. Anybody ruptured will hear and see something which they never dreamt could be done. A revolution in trusses is impending, come and see. -Jerome I. Case, the well-known manufac-turer and breeder of trotting horses, died at his home at Racine. Wis., Tuesday morning. In his stables were such noted performers as Jay-Eye-See, 2.10, and Phallas, 2.13. The Christmas number of the Chicago Horseman is to hand, and as a work of art surpasses all preceding efforts. A handsome colored plate of the great stallion Allerton is the feature of the number, while small but neatly equine news, goes far to make up an interesting and attractive number. Every lover of the harness horse can secure this beautiful number by sending 25c to the office of publication, 323 Dearborn-st., Chicago. Lindsay Town Council.

A regular meeting of the town fathers was held Monday evening in the council chamber. Reeve Fisher, in the absence of Mayor Walters. occupied the chair, the other members present being Dep.-reeves Bryans and Kylie, and Couns, Kenny, Cahill, Bryans, O'Holloran, Connolly, Touchburn, Winters, Crandell and Armstrong. After the confirming of the minutes the report of the finance committee was read by the chairman, Coun. Winters, and on motion it was adopted. Reeve Fisher presented a brief report from the street and bridge committee, which was likewise adopted. Coun. Connolly, chairman, presented the police commissioners report, certifying to the correctness of Chief Bell's report for November. Its brevity proved too much for Capt. Crandell, and he once more stood to his guns and turned them upon the members of the committee, charging them with cowardice and claring them upon the members of the committee, charging them with cowardice and glaring neglect of duty because of their failure to deal with the charge he had laid against Chief Bell, and which he was prepared to prove. In the course of his address, which was studded with touching appeals to the judgment of the electors present, he said the fire and water committee had thrown away over $2.000 in employing a caretaker of the pump house (the late P. Fobert) when there was no need of his services.....Coun. Touchburn said he could not understand why Coun. Crandell should blame Chief Bell because the amount received from fines was not larger—perhaps the police blame Chief Bell because the amount received from fines was not larger—perhaps the police magistrate did not "whack it to the offenders" enough...... After Coun. Crandell had taken his seat Coun. Connolly rose and read report on Chief Bell's case, the supposed suppression of which had aroused the captain's ire. The document set forth that Chief Bell's absence from duty on the days complained of had been explained by a certificate from Dr. Kempt, stating that he had attended the chief, who was suffering from a severe bilious attack, on the dates mentioned. As for Capt. Crandell's charges, he had failed to put them in writing over his own signature, consequently the committee did not standing in their respective forms on the work of the term. —Sunday evening last about 7.30 the fire alarm sounded, and the ominous warning caused many citizens attending service in the different churches to leave, each fearing for the safety of his own household goods. The burning building proved to be a barn on the farm of Mr. John McEvoy, near the north east boundary of the town. A steam thresher belonging to Mr. Wm. Magahey was consumed along with a quantity of straw and farming implements. -Merchants generally express satisfaction at the volume of holiday trade done so far, and all unite in saying that their business for the past three weeks has been far in excess of the same period last year. Of course the lion's share of the trade fell to those merchants—wise in their generation—who made liberal use of The Post's advertising columns. COMMERCIAL NEWS.

OFFICE OF THE CANADIAN POST, LINDSAY, Dec. 24, 1891. Toronto Live Stock Market.

Business was dull at the western cattle market Tuesday, some of the principal dealers staying in the yard only 10 or 15 minutes. Butchers are fairly well stocked up now and the unseasonable weather maker them more careful about buying, even when offers are away down. The offerings Tuesday were 15 loads, consisting of 475 sheep and lambs, 235 hogs and the reminder 475 sheep and lambs, 235 hogs and the reminder cattle. Last week the receipts were 974 cattle, 655 sheep and lambs and 735 hogs.

Cattle—A better class of cattle offered Tuesday would have found a readier sale. Butchers brought from $3 25 to $3.75 per cwt, $4 being given only for one or two choice heifers. Inferior and rough cows brought from 2½ to 2½c.

Among the transactions were:—4 heifers, averaging 900 lbs, at $30 per head; 2 cows, averaging 1,000 lbs, at $26 per head.

Milch cows—A few inferior were offered for sale, but the demand was light for this class; better are wanted. Stockers were dull, the price ranging from $30 to $35 per head, and $3 to $3 25 per cwt.

There were four or five bulls on the market, but few buyers for them. Prices are from 2½ to Sheep and lambs—Trade was quiet, sheep selling at from $3.75 to $5 per head, and lambs from $3.25 to $4.25, the outside price being for Hogs—Little doing in hogs, the demand being almost entirely local. One lot sold at $4.10 per cwt, and this was the top price.—[Empire.

Variety is said to be charming, and in addition to the many other charms of our Large Christmas stock, it has the commendable charm of variety. In the selection of this stock all tastes have been consulted, and all needs remembered; so that it seems impossible that anyone seeking a suitable gift could fail of finding just the thing most desirable after an examination of our display of Furs in Grey Lamb Caps, Ladies' and Men's Fur Coats, Muffs, Capes and Collars. We are inclined to say the best word for our stock, but we are sure that those who come to us and see for themselves will agree that there is nothing absurd either in our praise of our stock or the prices we ask for our really either in our praise of our stock or the prices we ask for our really
