Mr. STEWART called attention to the lighting of the Collegiate Institute, It they put in the elec ric light they would still require some kind of heating apparatus in the science department, or continue to use the spirit lamps as at present. He had incidentally mentioned the matter to Mr. J Britton, who told him that when in Chicago last summer he had visited Elgin, Ill, in company with Mr. Duncan, a former Lindsay boy, but now manager of the Elgin Watch Co The company manufactured all the gas required in their extensive premises from gasoline, and the process was described as cheap and satisfactory in every way. I lus rated catalogues and price lists had been forwarded by the comp .ny at Mr. D mean's request, and the managing or some other committee should now take the matter up and investigate it thoroughly. The price of a 75 light machine was not excessive, and it required no attendance beyond winding up a crank once a week or so when placing a fresh supply of gasolene in the tank. The Elgin Co. made gas at 50; per 1,000 feet. The managing committee were instruct ed to procure all the information possible as to the system, and its possible effect upon the instrance, after which the board

Why He Remembers Lindsay. Last week we received the following note from Mr. John McHagh, of the Cresco, Is., Union Savings' Bank, formerly G.T R. freight agent here, and known to many of our readers: "i enclose draf for subscription. THE P.ST has come regularly to my Iowa address for about four years-prior thereto I received it in Lindsay, so that I may be classed with its old friends, Though the friends of my boyhood are growing rapidly less, and my recollections as to place more ladistiact, yet the weekly arrival of your paper brings to mind the Soughg, with its populiar aroma, which I will always remember."

The Haluy R vor Dist 1ct. We had a pleasant call last Saturday from A. Niven, esq. P. L S., of Haliburton, who has recently returned from the Raicy river district, where he has been employed more or less for the last four years doing government surveying. Mr. Niven speaks highly of that country for much about the results of the examina- watch to be kept over them by the forestry tions.
