N. K. Fairbank Co. isn't in it.

It is just be cause there is no lard in it, that COTTOLENE the new shortening is so wonderfully popular with housekeepers. OTTOLENE is PURE, DELICATE, HEALTH-FUL, SATISFYING-none of the unpleasant odor necessarily connected with lard Sold in 3 and 5 pound pails by all grocers.

MONTREAL The Canadian Lost.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, DEC. 7, 1894.

THANKSGIVING. Thanksgiving day draws near. Each maiden not a prude Will see that her young man Is in a thankful mood. -Kansas City Journal.

Thanking day will soon be here, And all the comic sheets Will have the same old pictures of The dreams of him who eats. -Detroit Tribun.

No wonder that Thanksgiving day By many is so prized, For after it the wildest dreams Are always realized. -Chicago Inter Ocean.

He sang of "melancholy days," And yet—dissembling sinner— His soul was full of joyous thoughts Of that Thanksgiving dinner.

AUNT JANE'S BUREAU

Jack Thornton believed he had the best little wife in the world. He had | child. been married about six months, and, as dow." Well, this was one of the true than she had ever expected to be. sad libel on the fair sex.

Alice took the lid off the jar, and folk.

with her own fingers filled up the meerintended for a small person indeed. As life. settling around the ceiling:

thing in taking you away from a com- | bore the inscription in Uncle William's fortable home to share the bad luck of a handwriting: second rate fiddler in a third rate thea-

"Jack Thernton, I'm ashamed of you," replied Alice, with energy. "What was it the parson made me say after him-'for richer, for poorer'-"Yes, dear," said Jack, "but you have got all 'the poorer' and so far none answered cheefily, and as a seal of the asgury she rose from her chain threw one arm around his neck and kissed latest misfortune. The prevalent hard times had struck the Odeon, and the three or four members of the orchestra of that "third rate theater, " as Jack had termed it. Of course the first to be released was the latest addition, and that was the hero of the story. was true that Mr. Mabley had promised to give Thornton a call as soon as times grew better; but, said Jack:

"With the winter coming right fast and coal not in yet, the prospect, you must admit, little wife, is blue." Alice, stubborn creature that she was, would not admit that there was anything unusual about this condition of things and declared that it might have "And I've been thinking, dear, that there are one or two things we might ding gift for less than $50." call so on to buy seed enough to last up only present he ever gave you?" ried," replied Alice, "as never to have What looked suspiciously like tears nigh invulnerable he always made a add fat, but not wholesome flesh or called to ask how we were getting on. twinkled in his eyes as he clasped "the secret of his many dangers. He there-But," after a pause, "suppose we sell | best wife in the world" in a loving am | fore enjoined once for all unon the nart present my other rich relative gave me prodigious cloud before he replied. "If we have to part with anything," he out that lumbering article of furniture" the young couple decided to do, and as the old bureau the very next day.

Thereupon Jack laid down Brown I Bess and brought the old violin, his next best friend, to provide, as it had often done, consolation in their trouble: He sways them with harmony merry and loud. He fills with his power their hearts to the

Was aught ever heard like his fiddle and him? Next morning bright and early Jack fell to polishing Aunt Jane's bureau. With a soft rag, a little oil and a fair share of "elbow grease" the old walnut sides of the relic fairly shone. Over the breakfast table Jack began speculating how much they were likely to get for the bureau.

"Not less than $12," was hopeful Alice's opinion, "and while you are gone after old Mr. Myers, who is the most honest of the scondhand furniture dealers, Jack, I will take out and dust the drawers so that whoever buys my aunt's present will and it clean inside as well as out."

"I was thinking, my dear," said Jack as he put on his well worn overcoat, "that perhaps poor Werner, the trombone player, will have no place to go to for his Thanksgiving, and it would be nice if we could manage to entertain him tomorrow." "Just like you, you old darling!" was the little woman's comment, and she added: "Why, of course, we can have poor Werner and will enjoy his company. You might drop round and see him after you have called on Mr.

With a goodby kiss Jack Thornton went on his way, his errands of business and sociability being important enough to occupy his mind and to cause him to forget the gloom of the immediate future. Alice was not given to repining, and yet as she began to take out the drawers of the old bureau she could not refrain from a few tears, not, you must understand, at parting with that piece of furniture, but at the dire necessity which prompted the act.

As she removed the first drawer her thoughts went back to the old farmhouse not many miles north of Cincinnati, where she had passed her childhood and received what share of Aunt Jane's love was not given to her chicken farm, which occupied the first place in her affections. As the second drawer was taken out and carefully dusted the little woman thought of the first meeting with Jack. He had come from the city in answer to Uncle William's advertisement for boarders for the summer. It was a case of love at first sight. Her guardians had offered no objection to the match. Indeed Aunt Jane had seemed glad to be relieved of the charge of the orphan

Then, as she pulled out the third he told his "old bach" friends, the drawer, Alice recalled the memorable honeymoon had never ceased. And this event of the wedding, when Jack's was the more remarkable because soon | Odeon friends had come out to Elmville after they were married Jack struck a and the orchestra had given a concert streak of bad luck which culminated in the farmyard, to the delight of the about a week before the Thanksgiving | entire neighborhood and the consternafestival of the year 1889. You remember | tion of Aunt Jane's feathered commuthe old proverb, "When poverty comes | nity. The Odeon people all brought in at the door, love flies out at the win- | presents, and Alice was richer that day

love matches which proved that this, The fourth drawer stuck, and after a like many of those old chestnuts, is a few hard pulls at the brass knobs the busy housewife was about to give it up "I have bad news for my little wom- | until Jack returned when she suddenan tonight," said Jack as Alice was ly remembered that on that wedding clearing away the supper things and day she had been so vividly recalling tidying up the little sitting room, while her aunt had at the dinner which was Jack got out his pipe and she produced given in the barn made the one speech the tobacco jar preparatory to the post of her life, an effort which, by the way, had much amused and edified the Odeon

"You have received so many fine schaum bowl, for Jack, the sybarite, presents from your husband's friends always declared that made his pipe and a gold watch and chain from your attributes, then give up the reasting idea, small doses. uncle that my gift must be something | unless you crave a "turkey lost," and treat "Light up, dear Jack," she remarked, of use in housekeeping. The walnut buas if in somber mood, "and when Brown | reau that stands in the parlor shall be Bess is going full speed you can tell me | my gift, and here is the key which opens all the drawers." So saying, she Thereupon Mrs. Thornton brought | handed the bride a small brass key and a neat workbasket filled to the brim | resumed her seat, not a little flustered with all sorts of things in white muslin | with having made what she afterward and flannel, the beginnings of garments | declared was the greatest speech of her she sat under the lamplight busily plying | Where was this key? Surely in the her needle, the brown curls falling over | lower part of the eight day clock. In a her brow, she made a very charming | minute Alice had recovered the brass picture. At any rate, Jack Thornton | key and had unlocked the last drawer, must have thought so, for he said, when | which she pulled out with no little ef-Brown Bess had got under such good | fort, for it was heavy, while the other headway that a thick, blue cloud was three had been light. Ancher curious thing was that it was covered with a "I feel as if I had done a very cruel | thin panel of polished walnut, which

> AUNT JANE'S WEDDING GIFT TO HER NIECE ALICE.

This panel was divided in the center and secured by a sliding bolt. As she Alice's gaze. The entire drawer was divided into sections like a cashier's "That will come in good time," she drawer, and each compartment was chicken farm for the last five rears. As care of the chickens during the years since you left school, you may feel that this is justly yours. Take good care of it and of your Aunt Jane's old bureau. 11 "There's the bureau, Mr. Myers,"

Jack said as he entered the room on Elm street, which the young folks had made their home for several months. "What is the best you can do for it?" The furniture dealer looked the relic canvas bag and counted out $6. "Six dollars is the best I can do for that old article, Mr. Thornton, and it is a good price too." "It isn't enough, Mr. Myers," Alice said. "I will not sell my aunt's wed-"Good morning, ma'am," the dealer sale, with a smile. "I see you don't that old bureau, which was the only brace, and then as a relief to his overcharged feelings he filled Brown Bess to the brim and smoked placidly for an Jack Thornton pondered and blew a hour, thinking much, but saying little.

What a Thanksgiving that was! Werner came and was astonished at the said, "I suppose we can better do with- bountiful spread. Jack's violin never discoursed sweeter music, and as he This, after some further deliberation, | played he drew glad smiles and tears from his little wife as she thought of Thursday was Thanksgiving they fur- the happiness that had come to them ther decided to consummate the sale of | with Aunt Jane's old bureau. - Chicago Tribune.

TURKEYS SENT FROM HEAVEN.

Hon. Benton McMillin Relates a Remarkable Thanksgiving Incident. It may be interesting to know how members of congress from various sections of the country enjoy their Thanksgiving. In conversation with some of the genial members of the house in the cloakroom some valuable information was obtained. The Hon. Benton McMillin was peculiarly glowing in describing Thanksgiving day

He said that it is the most delightful of all days except Christmas. All business is suspended. In the mountains and in the valleys there are family reunions. Frequently friends are invited to the feast, and there are happy and joyous times. The Tennesseeans mostly spend the day quietly and pleasantly at home, ending it with a feast, based upon the biggest, fattest and finest turkey the barnyard, the forest or the most convenient market can afford. The greatest dinner that McMillin had ever enjoyed was at a log house when he | ideas of the night out of his head and was a callow youth just returned from a Kentucky university. A large turkey had been secured. On the day before Thanksgiving it had been carefully picked and drawn. That night, however, some appreciative darky had thrown the family Meantime a terrific gale arose. It almost insulting women you can picture him house stood the blast. The wooden shut- | set of whiskers."-New York Sun. ters were closed, and the howling wind outside made the log wood fire dance as if in glee, sending a shower of sparks up the against the wooden shutter outside. A at Washington received through the blood curdling sound was heard. Secur- minister of Ecuador to the United ing a lantern, the head of the household States specimens of a plant known as went out and quickly returned. He had cundurango, found in the province of in his hand two huge turkeys, with bronzed Loya, in Ecuador, to which marvelous legs and ruffled feathers. One was a gobbler; the other a hen. They had been torn from their roosts in the mountains, borne rude cabin by the hand of Providence to most wonderful cures. Its virtues are take the place of the turkey that the negro said to have been discovered by accident. had abstracted. They returned thanks on An Indian had been suffering fearfully the spot and on the following day enjoyed | for a long time from internal cancer, as fine a Thanksgiving dinner as was ever given in Tennessee.—Amos Cummings in New York Sun.

THE PRIDE OF THE FEAST.

Points on Cooking the Turkey-How He Is Considered Abroad. At a public banquet given in London within a few years one of the postprandial speakers remarked affably that the great wrong America did to England by not allowing herself to be conquered was atoned for by the noble gift of the turkey. By that it would seem that the delicious edible bird was unknown till our colonies had the honor of introducing it to the old emblem when they had supplied them with such a noble bird as the turkey, which was good hot or cold and most excellent

Recipe books are generally and very appropriately written by women, but men of all English speaking countries have written upon the proper methods of cooking a turkey. One English philosopher of peculiar views on the subject says:

A turkey roast Is a turkey lost. A turkey boiled Is a turkey spoiled. For a turkey braised The Lord be praised.

A devout American will not admit that any method of preparing the turkey equals roasting, but braising, if well done, is

The fault of every nation but our own in roasting a turkey is the habit of giving scribes. In other words, make a hunter's roast of it. That ameliorating process, with plenty of time to consummate it, would bring the tender grace of youth to Job's turkey.-Washington Post.

True Meaning of Thanksgiving.

One of the obvious but too often forgotten demands of the Thanksgiving day is Zealand young men of every condition and active charity. It should be welcomed by everybody as an occasion to help some one not so well conditioned as oneself. This is Christianity in action. Its field may be the next house, the next street, wherever men and women suffer. There is at this time in this city an unusual call for the offices of sweet charity. The close of the proportions wet with water will make an day should find the resources of our organ- everlasting and fireproof mending for the ized benevolent associations very materi- lining of stoves. It is much less expensive ally increased. The act of worship will be and troublesome to procure and put in incomplete unless one's loaf is shared and place than new firebricks. Don't let fire another's burden lightened. These are spoil the stove because the brick needs the plain and simple maxims, the religion | mending. of the Thanksgiving season. They who do not keep them will miss the true meaning of the day.-Philadelphia Public

NAPOLEON'S MIRACULOUS ESCAPES.

He Seemed to Live In a Charmed Circle and "Dear Alies," it ran, "in this drawer | the commencement of my campaigns. Acre during the expedition to Egypt he lost no fewer than four in the same

During the last days of his life, when liver. How explained? The circucaptivity, disappointment and sickness had well nigh completed their work, it | way over which the germs of disease is said that the agony of his fatal discarefully over and slowly drew out a gase drew from him on many occasions through whose gate any dread disthe pitiful cry of, "Why did the cannon, of his immediate staff the most absolute silence regarding all circumstances of this nature, for it is almost impossible to calculate the confusion and disorder which would have resulted from the slightest report or the smallest doubt relative to his existence. Upon the single thread of this man's life depended not only the fate and government of a great empire, but the whole policy and destiny of Europe as well.

During his long military career Napoleon fought 60 battles, while Cæsar

Beards and Morals. A policeman on duty in the Jefferson Market police court remarked that in the course of 18 years' service he had seen a great many men brought up on the charge of insulting women in the street or elsewhere. "They do not resemble one another much," he said, "except that in every instance they wear full beards. I don't remember of ever seeing a clean shaven, thoroughly smart looking man at the bar on that charge. Their whiskers are never trimmed to a point either, but always grow in a straggling or careless way. I have never noted any exception to this, and, so far as my opinion goes, I think that any man who gets up in the morning, takes a bath and shaves himself with a bit of cold steel is apt to start out and be decent, whereas the whiskered man is not. I read an article by Chauncey Depew once, in which he said that the passing of the cold steel over his face in the morning always drove the fanciful straightened him out for a hard and sensible day's work. I guess there is a good deal in it, though I am not able to reason these things out as Mr. Depew does. But you can go bail for one thing, and that is, whenever you read in the The theft was discovered about 10 p. m. papers that a man has been arrested for reached the fury of a tornado. The log | in your mind's eye as having a shabby

It Cures Cancer. Some years ago the state department qualities in curing cancer were ascribed. The physicians in South America experimented on this substance and reported and his wife undertook to relieve him by shortening his life by poison. For this purpose she selected the cundurango, making a decoction of the bark. To her astonishment the first dose appeared to benefit the patient, and by the continuance of this remedy he was completely cured in a short time.-New York Advertiser.

Cost of Electric Cooking.

It has been shown by recent experiments that there is practically no difference in cost between cooking by electricity and by coal, while the advantages of the former method in point of An Englishman in Paris asked our own comfort, cleanliness and safety are con-Franklin why the devil his countrymen siderable. Of every 100 tons of coal selected a stupid, uneatable eagle as their burned in an ordinary cooking stove 96 tons are, it is said, practically wasted, whereas with electricity the expense is not so much on the fuel as on labor and interest on machinery.-Invention.

A Bottle Stopper.

If you want a stopper for a bottle of acid or any substance that would naturally call for a glass stopper because of. the danger that the cork would be eaten up by the contents of the bottle, take the cork and steep it in vaseline. It will then be impervious to acids of any kind, and no action of chemicals will decay it. It will, in fact, be as good for all purposes as a glass stopper. - New York Dispatch.

Soap tablets are the latest form of compressed merchandise. They come quent basting, with a few moments at the packed in pretty boxes, each tablet last of strong heat, to insure a brown, crisp about the size of a lozenge. Naturally skin, are its needs. It goes without say- they are chiefly valuable in traveling, ing that the bird must be fat, young and but the slippery cake of the home dish tender. If it lacks these three graceful may conveniently give way to these

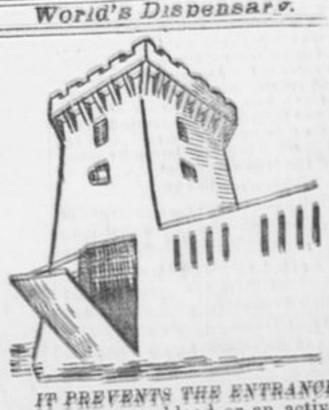

fessor Matthew Williams pre-French possessions in India are five Knives, Forks and Locking Glasses | Knives, Forks and Locking Gla

Women In New Zealand.

I have traveled in many countries, but in no other land have I seen the courtesy and unobtrusive chivalry habitually exhibited to women, whether young or old, by New rank. The status of a New Zealand woman is considerably higher than that of her sister in Australia or England.-Letter From New Zealand.

Powdered soapstone and salt in equal

World's Dispensaro.

IT PREVENTS THE ENTRANCE of disease-pure blood or an active lation of the blood is the great hightravel, the liver is the quarantine ease may or may not pass, as the liver chooses. Are you watchful? Is your blood in order and your liver active, so as career he was utterly reckless of danger while on the battlefield, and this spirit find in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical of fearlessness contributed largely to the love and exteem in which he was to your as a tance when held by his armies. There was a curious | you have such warnings of impure when he had gone, Jack turned with belief among the English in Napoleon's blood and inactive liver, as pimples, time that he had never been wounded, boils or carbuncles; or a feeling of I never even wind it up, and I'm sure "You funny little woman, what is and indeed the report was current that lassitude, weakness and lespondency. should never miss it.

"No," Jack said decidedly.

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself.

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself.

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself.

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself.

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself.

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself.

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself.

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself."

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself."

"The For an answer she gave him a volley ner, refrained from exposing himself."

"The For an answer she gave fired off with the latest the the lates should find out that you had sold the tric attachment. Then, first carefully times severely wounded, but as he wishlocking the door, she unlocked the ed to impress upon his troops the belief vigorous action and builds up both "It will serve him right for being so drawer and showed Jack her treasure that good fortune never deserted him, flesh and strength. Avoid nauseous that good fortune never deserted him, flesh and strength.

Spratt & Killen.

in the employ of large American and Canadian tea-import. ing firms draw immense salaries—several have been known to make as high as $30,000in one season. For months before beginning work they deny themselves everything likely to lead their testing powers astray, and two weeks' work thoroughly exhausts them and compels a rest. We've paid out many's the dollar to these gentlemen in our time.

in this town and county unite in saying that our different Brands of Teas are unexcelled for Boquet and Flavor. That's what we aim at constantly. Thanks to C. P. R. connection we are now enabled to import direct from China and Japan. and a trial of our goods will convince anyone that the tea. taster employed by us in the Flowery Kingdom knows his business. Fifteen years' experience in the Tea line has taught us how to avoid all the tricks of the "Heathen Chinee." and enables us to offer a superior article at the price charged elsewhere for poorer lines.

KILLEN

A. Moore.

Your Painting Paperhanging Etc.

A. MOORE, Churches School Houses, and all kinds of Public and Private Buildings. I am also prepared to do High Buildings having of late secured what is known as a Swinging Scaffold, Buildings from 25 feet to 150 feet with case, Residence, 35 William-st, A. MOORE, Painter, Lindsay, Oct. 3rd, 1894 -30-13 wants, good dry material and first class work. Having over 20 years' experience in the factory line, and employing only first class workmen and the only proper mode for drying lumber. I am able to give my custo-mers the best of everything in the shape of Sash, Doors, Blinds, Mouldings, Newells, Balasters.

George Ingle.

and everything in the building line. Give me a call and mapeet our work. GEO. INGLE.

Jas. H. Lennor.

Staring them in the Face.

The cheapest place in the County to buy Bedsteads, Mattrasses, Springs, Tables, Chairs, Sideboards, Lounges and Cook Stoves, Tinware, Crockery, Glassware,

2 Brooms for 25c. 10 Bars Electric Soap. 25c. 6 Dozen Clothes Pins, 10c. Second-hand Coal and Box Stoves and Stove Pipes,

The above are facts which it will be to your interest to investigate.

The Auction Mart. opp Benson House JAS. H. LENNON.

Adams' Tutti Frutti.

The Vellow Mask. Wilkie Collins. The Octoroon. Miss M. E. Braddon. The Bag of Diamonds. Geo. M. Fenn. Lady Grace. Mrs. Henry Wood. The Squire's Darling. Author Dora Thorne e Duchess. "The Duchess." 2. Single Heart & Double Face, Ch. Reade.

send six cents in postage stamps to pay postage, and one wrapper of (AIDS DIGESTION.)

Address Adams & Sons Co., 11 & 13 Jarvis

St., Toronto, Out.

A. Higinbotham,

The finest Preparation in the World for Children or Women with Delicate Stomache. Large Bottle. Pleasant to take, and only 25 cents at how many hundred Wedding and Engagement Rings we have sold during the past year. It would be interesting to know some of the things we know, but "mum's the word." We never tell. Another lot of Beauties just in, ranging in price from $2 to $20. If you want the best see them. HUGHAN &

A. HIGINBOTHAM'S Drug Store.

Hughan & Co.

Jewelers and Fancy Goods, 52 Kent-st., Lindsay.

Horn Bros.

Like an Advertisement, is brief but telling. A Telegram states facts, many advertisements are a combination of false-

OUR ADVERTISEMENT THOUGH NOT

Is true. Owing to depression in trade, the pulbic require Goods at a low price. We meet this demanu, lot by reducing the quality of our Goods, but, by selling at 3st of manufacturing. Consequently we cannot be undersold.

A very Large Stock of BLANKETS, SHEETINGS, JARN, FULL CLOTH, SHIRTINGS, KNITTED GOODS, HOSIERY, F. WE MAKE THE BEST AND SELL THE CHEA EST.

IF HELL BEEN A LEGADING OUT

WHEN YOU WANT TO BUY A STOVE

[any room, and the prices will be found very reasonable.

CALL AT WOOD'S STOVE DEPOT TO and inspect his complete assortment of all the leading makes of Stoyes, in Coal and Wood Burners. It will as prise all who have not given tention to the subject to sents incorporated in the atest designo. research has accomplished much in providing means beeping homes warm with the minimum of fuel. N ckel-plated and brightly furnis d, these stoves ornament

UP STOVES.

あららららららららららららら It's surprising what a fuss the ordinary man falls into when asked to haul out the stove from its summer lair. He hasn' the "knack" needed and of course gets pervous and profane We have the "knack," and we charge but little. All orde promptly attended to.

OF OF THE BLUE PRO

Scott's Emu

Anæmic W

with pale or sallow o or suffering from ski or scrofulous blood, wi relief in Scott's Em of the stages of Emaci general decline of speedily cured.

takes away the pale, that comes with Gene It enriches the bloothe appetite, creates and brings back st vitality. For Coughs, Col. Bronchitis, Weak Lungs and Wasting Diseases of Send for our pamphist, Scott & Bowne, Believille. All Dru

Publishers' THECANADI

WILSON & WILSON,

G. H. WILSON,

NEWS OF THE HOME AND FOREIG

INTERES!

Gathered from the Tel Exchanges -The Grand Duke Pau one of the few living roys 7 feet 9 inches in height. -Victoria, Australia, ow roads in the colony, two hundred and forty-one mile -Japanese workmen ba body once a day, and some Pablic baths are provided or -A Chinese paper says Santa Ana, a native of All years of age, has just con term of fifty-three years' -Despatches from Tegi killed recently by the burst properly-loaded cannon. -At Singapore the post of just been given to M. renchman, with a record -A New York dostor a amined the men who wi brewery, and found that It of those who have free acduras, state that 22 officers to drink a keg a day. -Mr. David Miller, a prowho lived a short distant Corners, near Hamilton. a well in his barnyard on 3.

Jersey Lily, at pre a

-The coroner sjury ass guilty of mans fully killing John L Saturday in a hos proprietor of the took place was strong treatment of the and New England football team-A at Center-st. Sou day last, to play proceedings.

nique Institute ery the young men die, and nine real -Mrs. Paran New York societ in the Yorkville rought by Mary the Stevens weather Cape Traverse lang aund that one of the